Johnson To Confer With Pontiff After Praising Of Troops

Will Explain U.S. Policy During Visit

President Assures Forces Sacrifices Aren't 'In Vain'

ROME (AP) — President Johnson flew on from Pakistan today for Rome and an audience with Pope Paul VI, informed sources said, after telling U.S. fighting men in Vietnam: "What you have done will not have been in vain."

Johnson flew to Karachi, Pakistan, from the big Cam Ranh Bay base where he told U.S. troops: "The enemy cannot win, now in Vietnam, you have seen to that."

Johnson paused in Karachi for a two-hour talk with President Mohammed Ayub Khan. The subject of their secret talks was not disclosed. An ally of the United States, Pakistan has been moving closer to Red China.

Johnson's plane later flew over Tehran, the capital of Iran, without stopping.

Reports in Rome and Washington said Johnson wants to explain personally to the Pope why the United States is pursuing its policy in Vietnam. The pontiff issued a new call Friday for the United States to suspend the bombing of North Vietnam and for the Communists "to give a sign of serious will to peace."

Italian Communists prepared to stage anti-American demonstrations in Rome and police braced for possible widescale violence. Anti-Johnson banners were already up in the streets.

'White Yule' Dreams May Be Realized

Those who have been dreaming may have their white Christmas after all.

The official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's outlook leads to the possibility, with snow flurries occurring over most of the state early this morning and another snow - producing weather system due Sunday night and Monday.

Similar forecasts have been made for the Northern Panhandle section of West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania.

It was cold and winter like over Ohio this morning, with temperatures ranging from the teens to low 20's. Light snow was falling at most locations, but Summit County reported moderate to heavy snow.

Snow flurries were expected to continue over most of the state today, with the heaviest due in the extreme northeast.

Locally heavy amounts of snow were forecast for counties east of Cleveland to Medina and the Pennsylvania border. Skies were expected to clear tonight in southwest Ohio and partial clearing will take place over the remainder of the state as snow flurries diminished. Lows tonight will range from about 8 to 18 above. Cloudiness will increase again Sunday as temperatures slowly rise.

The Christmas day outlook: Cloudy skies and continued cold, with snow or snow flurries likely

And not to be forgotten is the Buffalo (N.Y.) woman, reputed to have the ability to look into the future, who earlier had these words: "Dec. 23 will bring the heaviest snowfall in history for parts of the Ohio Valley."

The Ohio Highway Department in its morning weather bulletin said primary and secondary highways are snow-covered, slippery and icy in the northeast, east central and northwest portions of the state, with the balance of roads dry.

Council President Breaks Tie

Gas Rate Boost Advanced In Second Reading Okay

An embattled gas rate ordinance moved through the second of three required readings at a special Council meeting early today after a tie - breaking vote by President Ernest Lowe and another special meeting was scheduled Tuesday night at 7 to give it final passage.

Council split, 3-3, in the vote on a motion to give second reading to the measure, which would establish a new four - year agreement with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and grant the utility a rate boost averaging out to 12.3 per cent over the life of the contract. Lowe, who has a voice only in case of a tie, then voted in favor of second reading.

THE SPLIT vote was along party lines. Councilmen James Lowe, Harold Maylone and Robert W. Sample, all Republicans, voted in favor of second reading. Councilmen Norman Bucher, Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, Democrats, voted "no."

The seventh member, Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson, a Republican, was absent.

The ordinance was given first reading with a split vote at the meeting Dec. 11. Presented for second reading last Monday night, it was turned down, 3-2. But Solicitor J. Michael Kapp ruled it was still in an active status. He declared that the first reading it was given Dec. 11 still was valid, despite the turn-down last Monday, and that the ordinance merely required two additional readings for enactment.

But the legislation will die if it is not voted into law before Dec. 31, the end of the current Council biennium. If presented to the 1968-69 Council that will take office Jan. 1, it would be required to be introduced as a brand new piece of legislation.

THE GAS RATE legislation was the first ordinance presented as the special session convened at 12:15 a. m. The unusual midnight session was arranged to mesh with the working schedules of the members, as several were on late afternoon shifts at Midland mills.

Maylone moved for second reading, seconded by Sample. Then came the 3-3 vote and the tie - breaking ballot by the president.

Sample was the first to speak. "I want it understood that this Council has no way of stopping any utility from getting a rate increase," he said. "I will go along with this because it fixes the rates for four years and I understand that it is lower than what we would get if it is allowed to go to the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus."

"You said that same thing here before and a lot of people have called me up or stopped me on the street and said: 'Sample doesn't know what he is

Child Hospitalized In Route 66 Mishap

A 9-year-old Chester youth was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with a fractured leg received when hit by a car Friday at 6:15 p.m. on Route 66 near the IGA Store near the west Chester city limits.

Timothy Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of 399 Fairview Rd., apparently ran into the side of a car driven by Whitney G. Mosser of Jefferson St., Newell, according to Chester police.

Mosser said he was heading south on Route 66 when he heard a thud and stopped the car immediately. Leaving the car, Mosser told police he saw the boy's mother holding the child in her arms. He was then rushed to City Hospital.

Patrolman Rex Cowey investigated the accident.

One Big Jam Starts During Holiday Rush

By The Associated Press

Holiday travelers were on the move again today crowding the nation's highways and jamming into bus, train and airline terminals to get transportation home for Christmas.

The first peak push came Friday afternoon when millions of Americans got off work, gathered their families and headed "back home for Christmas with grandma," in the words of one airline agent.

While cold, clear weather covered most of the country today providing dry roads for motorists, the National Safety Council estimated 625 to 725 persons would die in traffic accidents before midnight Monday.

The toll since the count began at 6 p.m. local time Friday stood at 63 early today.

Safety council statisticians estimated motorists will drive a total of 7.9 billion miles during the three-day weekend—300 million more than during a nonholiday period of equal length.

As a basis for comparison The Associated Press made a survey of motor vehicle fatalities during the three-day nonholiday weekend from 6 p.m. Friday, Dec. 15, to midnight Monday, Dec. 18. The total was 484.

The crush of cars starting out Friday created many a late afternoon traffic jam. Philadelphia police reported the midtown traffic was the worst in five years and expected a bigger jam today.

At the height of the crush two young girls and a man in a white sports car drove up Broad Street, a main artery, stopping to give every traffic patrolman a cup of coffee and a doughnut.

Motorist Misses 3 Kinds Of Death

A 35-year-old Calcutta area man could count himself fortunate to be alive today, following a spectacular mishap on Route 68 between Midland and East Liverpool early this morning.

Daniel R. Gourley of RD 3 was able to climb out of his wrecked station wagon which:

Went out of control 300 feet west of the Beaver Creek Bridge and downed a utility pole and six steel guardrails.

Snapped a second utility pole, breaking 32 sets of telephone wires.

Came to rest against the stub of the second pole and the concrete bridge base, missing a plunge into icy Beaver Creek by inches.

Caught fire.

Ohioville Patrolmen Leo LeFebvre and James Dunalp said Gourley was headed west when the vehicle left the road about 2:25 a. m. The pole and concrete

When he woke up he had 11—and he didn't know his wife was pregnant.

Neither, she said, did Mrs. Dunderdale.

The eventful night in the life of the Dunderdales started when Gordon, 38, settled down in his favorite chair to watch television. Brenda, 34, went to the kitchen to make coffee.

Gordon fell asleep. Brenda felt unwell and wondered why. She decided to slip out of the house and call at the local hospital.

She didn't wake Gordon because I didn't want to worry him."

Gordon, meanwhile, woke up wondering where his coffee was. It wasn't in the kitchen — neither was his wife. He called police, who traced Brenda to Glenford Hospital half a mile away, where nurses were delivering a 6-pound baby boy.

'His Time Is My Time,' McCarthy Warns FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rebuffed by the major networks, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy is asking the government to insure he gets radio and television time to answer statements by President Johnson.

The Minnesota Democrat, who says he'll challenge Johnson in several Democratic presidential primaries next year, asked Friday that the Federal Communications Commission order NBC, CBS and ABC to provide him air time.

His FCC appeal came shortly after ABC and NBC, following an earlier stand by CBS, rejected McCarthy's request for equal time to answer President Johnson's televised assertion Tuesday that the Minnesotan was working with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in a quest for the nomination.

Both McCarthy and Kennedy have repeatedly denied they're allied in an effort to oust Johnson.

The networks said McCarthy isn't entitled to equal time under laws governing broadcasting because Johnson is not a declared candidate for re-election.

Saying Johnson won't run next year denies "a fact which every American child knows," said Blair Clark, McCarthy's campaign manager, in the appeal to the FCC.

"The people of the country have the right to know," Clark continued, "whether the FCC is going to permit a President who is obviously a candidate for re-election to use the powerful network TV and radio facilities without a right of response by other announced candidates."

Clark said the FCC should either order the networks to give McCarthy equal time or hold a hearing on the issue.

Johnson was interviewed by correspondents from all three networks, and all three carried the pre-taped, hour-long show in prime night time.

In other political developments Friday:

—Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia told newsmen he doesn't plan to bolt the Democratic party next year but may support the views of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the presidential campaign. Maddox said it "would take a miracle" for him to actively back the national Democratic ticket.

—Wallace, seeking to mount a third-party campaign, said in Pomona, Calif., that he had more than the 66,059 registrations needed to qualify his American Independent Party on the 1968 presidential ballot in the nation's largest state.

H. P. Sullivan, assistant secretary of state, said later 41,878 Californians have officially registered under the American Independent party banner. But Sullivan said these registration figures came only from major counties and conceded Wallace's totals could be correct.

—Rep. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said he's considering—but hasn't definitely decided on—a 1968 race for Texas governor. "I haven't crossed that bridge yet," the senator told an Austin, Tex., news conference.

Sand May Be Answer To Oil Reservoir Fire

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — The burning question is: Will sand smother a seven-acre oil reservoir fire and end the pall of black smoke that hangs thousands of feet high over the Los Angeles area?

After lightning started the fire at the Standard Oil Co. refinery Tuesday, firemen have failed to snuff it out with 300,000 cubic feet of chemical foam.

Workers spread a few hundred pounds of sand over a small patch of the burning fuel oil Friday.

"It appeared to work," said a company spokesman, but firefighters making tests won't decide until at least Sunday whether it is feasible to cover the entire reservoir.

3 Lose Their Lives When 4 Cars Pile Up

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Three persons have been killed in a collision involving four cars on Pennsylvania 981 just north of here.

Killed Friday were Roy Loring, 64, his wife, Helen, 54, and Etta Moore, 53, all of Derry and in the same car.

Police said a car operated by Michael Zappone, 28, of Latrobe crossed the center line and collided with the car operated by Loring. Two other cars crashed into the pileup.

The tavern is licensed to sell 3.2 beer and high - powered beer and wine both for on-premises consumption and carry-out.

U.N. Extends Peace Force In Cyprus Rift

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — After two weeks of haggling, the U.N. Security Council has agreed on a resolution aimed at keeping peace on Cyprus by extending the life of the U.N. peace force there for three more months.

But members warned that long-range problems plaguing the troubled Mediterranean island still must be settled.

The resolution, adopted unanimously Friday by the 15-nation council, called on Greece, Turkey and Cyprus to show the "utmost moderation and restraint and to refrain from any act that might aggravate the situation."

It called on the three disputants to avail themselves promptly of the "good offices" offered by Secretary-General U Thant.

Thant told the council he would act at once to make arrangements with the countries, contributing troops to permit the force to remain on Cyprus. Its mandate, in effect since March 1964, would have expired next Tuesday.

Sharply divergent resolutions had been offered by Turkey and the Greek Cypriot government of Archbishop Makarios.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou of Cyprus demanded complete withdrawal of all non-Cypriot troops from the island and an international guarantee against external attack.

Ambassador Orban Eralp of Turkey called for increased authority for the U.N. peacekeeping force on the island to prevent attacks on Turkish Cypriot villages.

Eralp recalled the attacks last month which he said killed 29 Turkish Cypriots. After the fighting, Turkey threatened to invade the island, but Greece later gave in to Turkish demands, including withdrawal of 12,000 Greek troops illegally on Cyprus.

The two sides have been deadlocked over what troops should remain on Cyprus in addition to the U.N. force.

'His Time Is My Time,' McCarthy Warns FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rebuffed by the major networks, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy is asking the government to insure he gets radio and television time to answer statements by President Johnson.

The Minnesota Democrat, who says he'll challenge Johnson in several Democratic presidential primaries next year, asked Friday that the Federal Communications Commission order NBC, CBS and ABC to provide him air time.

His FCC appeal came shortly after ABC and NBC, following an earlier stand by CBS, rejected McCarthy's request for equal time to answer President Johnson's televised assertion Tuesday that the Minnesotan was working with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in a quest for the nomination.

Both McCarthy and Kennedy have repeatedly denied they're allied in an effort to oust Johnson.

The networks said McCarthy isn't entitled to equal time under laws governing broadcasting because Johnson is not a declared candidate for re-election.

Saying Johnson won't run next year denies "a fact which every American child knows," said Blair Clark, McCarthy's campaign manager, in the appeal to the FCC.

"The people of the country have the right to know," Clark continued, "whether the FCC is going to permit a President who is obviously a candidate for re-election to use the powerful network TV and radio facilities without a right of response by other announced candidates."

Clark said the FCC should either order the networks to give McCarthy equal time or hold a hearing on the issue.

Johnson was interviewed by correspondents from all three networks, and all three carried the pre-taped, hour-long show in prime night time.

In other political developments Friday:

—Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia told newsmen he doesn't plan to bolt the Democratic party next year but may support the views of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace in the presidential campaign. Maddox said it "would take a miracle" for him to actively back the national Democratic ticket.

—Wallace, seeking to mount a third-party campaign, said in Pomona, Calif., that he had more than the 66,059 registrations needed to qualify his American Independent Party on the 1968 presidential ballot in the nation's largest state.

H. P. Sullivan, assistant secretary of state, said later 41,878 Californians have officially registered under the American Independent party banner. But Sullivan said these registration figures came only from major counties and conceded Wallace's totals could be correct.

—Rep. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said he's considering—but hasn't definitely decided on—a 1968 race for Texas governor. "I haven't crossed that bridge yet," the senator told an Austin, Tex., news conference.

Sand May Be Answer To Oil Reservoir Fire

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — The burning question is: Will sand smother a seven-acre oil reservoir fire and end the pall of black smoke that hangs thousands of feet high over the Los Angeles area?

After lightning started the fire at the Standard Oil Co. refinery Tuesday, firemen have failed to snuff it out with 300,000 cubic feet of chemical foam.

Workers spread a few hundred pounds of sand over a small patch of the burning fuel oil Friday.

"It appeared to work," said a company spokesman, but firefighters making tests won't decide until at least Sunday whether it is feasible to cover the entire reservoir.

3 Lose Their Lives When 4 Cars Pile Up

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Three persons have been killed in a collision involving four cars on Pennsylvania 981 just north of here.

Killed Friday were Roy Loring, 64, his wife, Helen, 54, and Etta Moore, 53, all of Derry and in the same car.

Police said a car operated by Michael Zappone, 28, of Latrobe crossed the center line and collided with the car operated by Loring. Two other cars crashed into the pileup.

Permit Shift Studied

LISBON — The State Liquor Control Board said today at Columbus it is processing an application to transfer permits held by Daniel Guappone for Dan's Tavern at 113 N. Market St. to Gerald Guappone for operation under the same business name at the same address. The tavern is licensed to sell 3.2 beer and high - powered beer and wine both for on-premises consumption and carry-out.

U.N. Extends Peace Force In Cyprus Rift

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — After two weeks of haggling, the U.N. Security Council has agreed on a resolution aimed at keeping peace on Cyprus by extending the life of the U.N. peace force there for three more months.

But members warned that long-range problems plaguing the troubled Mediterranean island still must be settled.

The resolution, adopted unanimously Friday by the 15-nation council, called on Greece, Turkey and Cyprus to show the "utmost moderation and restraint and to refrain from any act that might aggravate the situation."

It called on the three disputants to avail themselves promptly of the "good offices" offered by Secretary-General U Thant.

Thant told the council he would act at once to make arrangements with the countries, contributing troops to permit the force to remain on Cyprus. Its mandate, in effect since March 1964, would have expired next Tuesday.

Sharply divergent resolutions had been offered by Turkey and the Greek Cypriot government of Archbishop Makarios.

Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou of Cyprus demanded complete withdrawal of all non-Cypriot troops from the island and an international guarantee against external attack.

Ambassador Orban Eralp of Turkey called for increased authority for the U.N. peacekeeping force on the island to prevent attacks on Turkish Cypriot villages.

Eralp recalled the attacks last month which he said killed 29 Turkish Cypriots. After the fighting, Turkey threatened to invade the island, but Greece later gave in to Turkish demands, including withdrawal of 12,000 Greek troops illegally on Cyprus.

The two sides have been deadlocked over what troops should remain on Cyprus in addition to the U.N. force.

Deaths and Funerals

Frederick Maley

Frederick C. Maley, 73, of 1816 Clark Ave., Wellsville, formerly employed at the Pennsylvania Railroad office in Wellsville, died Friday at 10:15 p.m. at City Hospital after an illness of 2½ years.

He was born in Wellsville June 19, 1894, a son of the late Charles Maley and Mary Satow Maley. He was graduated from Duquesne University in 1917 and then worked at the railroad office in Wellsville for sometime before being transferred to Cleveland. He later attended St. Mary's Seminary in Cincinnati, leaving there in 1930 because of a health situation.

He later worked in the invoice department at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co., retiring in June 1961. He was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Wellsville and was a third degree member of Wellsville Council 507, Knights of Columbus, of which he was a past chancellor, an office he held for 30 years.

He is survived by a niece, Miss Mary Clara McNicol, at home, and a nephew, Thomas McNicol of Wellsville. He was preceded in death by two sisters, Mrs. Kathryn Maley McNicol and Miss Eva Maley.

Services will be held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the church by Fr. James K. Cavanaugh. Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery, Wellsville.

Prayer service will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the MacLean Funeral Home, Wellsville, where friends may call Monday after 7 p.m.

The family requests that material tributes take the form of donations to the Immaculate Conception Church building fund.

Miss Pearie Sapp

Miss Pearie L. Sapp, 71, of 3 Riverside Park, a former potter, died suddenly of natural causes Friday at 8:20 p. m. at her home.

She was born in Grafton, W. Va., Oct. 11, 1896, a daughter of Estella McDaniel Sapp of Salem, W. Va., and the late Eldora Sapp. She had resided over 40 years. She retired in 1959 from the Homer Laughlin China Co. and was a member of the IBOP.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Madeline Stanley of Warwood, W. Va., and Mrs. Katherine Nutter of Salem, W. Va.; a brother, Claude W. Sapp of Salem, W. Va., and several nephews and nieces.

Services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Hanford Bell

Services for Hanford P. Bell of Middle Run Rd., Chester, will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel, with Tom Clark officiating. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Bell died Friday at City Hospital following a lingering illness.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Angus Bell. Survivors include 16 grandchildren and 23 great - grandchildren.

Friends may call at the chapel this afternoon and evening.

Mishaps Injure Woman, Child In Beaver Area

An Aliquippa area woman and an Ohio infant were injured in one of two Beaver County accidents investigated Friday afternoon by the Pennsylvania State Police at Chippewa.

Cars operated by Dorothy Fisher, 41, of Aliquippa RD and John P. Grunden, 23, of Wickersville, Ohio, collided on Route 18 in Raccoon Township at 3:25 p.m.

The woman was headed south when her 1965 sedan veered into the north lane at a curve and collided with Grunden's 1965 coupe. She was treated at Aliquippa Hospital for a bruised leg, and Tyler Grunden, 11 months, passenger in the other car, was treated for a bruised forehead.

Michael Baker, 17, of Burgettstown RD and Wilma Minich, 31, of Clinton RD, escaped injury in a collision on Township Rd. 466 in Hanover Township.

Baker was headed north and the woman south when they collided at 2:20 p. m.

4 Autos Damaged In City Mishaps

Parked autos were damaged in two separate accidents in the city Friday night.

About 9 p.m. in the Horn Switch area, a parked car owned by Harry Earl of 49 E. Main St., Salineville, was struck by an auto driven by Lawrence E. Bender of 910 Lisbon St.

Earl said he parked his auto on private property and Bender pulled his vehicle onto the lot from Dresden Ave. and, in backing, hit Earl's auto. There was moderate damage to the right front fender of the Earl vehicle. No damage was listed for the Bender car.

The other accident, in the parking lot of an E. 3rd St. drive-in, involved an unidentified auto which left the scene and a parked car owned by James L. Green of East Liverpool RD 3.

Green said his car was struck by an auto bearing an Ohio registration, which he listed with the police department.

The mishap occurred about 10:10 p.m.

Entry At Negley Nets 7 Radios, Cigarettes

LISBON — Thieves stole an unknown quantity of cigarettes in cartons and seven transistor radios Friday night at George Bohlman's Humble Service Station at Negley.

Mrs. Bohlman, reporting the theft to the Sheriff's office this morning, said it occurred after 8:30 p. m. Friday.

Sheriff's Deputy Howard Gray said the intruder broke a window on the south side of the building and reached in to unlock the door.

2,600 Given Amnesty By Greek Regime

ATHENS (AP) — Moving to silence its critics, the Greek military dictatorship granted amnesty today to 2,600 political opponents it jailed since seizing power in a coup last April 21 and announced a referendum next April 21 on a proposed new constitution.

There was no indication, however, when the regime would authorize elections, a possible sticking point in its negotiations to bring exiled King Constantine back to his throne after his attempted countercoup Dec. 13 ended in fiasco. In granting the amnesty, the regime went beyond other conditions set by the king.

Driver Injured When Brakes Fail

A city man escaped serious injury Friday about midnight when the brakes on his auto failed on Shadyside Ave. and the auto rammed into the roadside embankment several times in his efforts to stop.

Jack Myler, 19, of the YMCA was returning from Lake Marwin where he is employed as a disc jockey, when the brakes failed on his 1961 convertible. Myler said he directed the auto toward the right bank, which it struck an estimated three times, and when the neutral gear and emergency brake failed to slow the auto, he let it hit a cement culvert on the right side of the road.

Myler, who was treated at City Hospital for a right knee injury, reported on the incident to the city police. He said the auto was probably a total loss.

Drivers Given 'Gifts' By Wellsville Mayor

Two Wellsville motorists received Christmas gifts in the form of suspended fines this morning in Mayor William Daugherty's court.

Wayne L. Russell of 1129 Center St. was fined $25 and costs with the fine suspended — after he made restitution for damages caused when his car ran into the porch of a Wellsville home last Sunday morning.

Eunice Parker of Pleasant Valley Rd. near Wellsville, charged with driving left of center, also received a suspended $25 fine. Her vehicle struck another car early Wednesday morning on Main St.

Mother And Girl Hurt In Mishap At Midland

A Smiths Ferry mother and her daughter, 4, were injured Friday afternoon in a two - car mishap on Route 168 north of Midland.

Mrs. Michalene Speerhas, 24, of Smiths Ferry RD 1 was headed east when a truck stopped in front of her car to make a left turn, and her sports car hit the rear of the truck driven by Carolyn Javens, 18, of Smiths Ferry.

The truck was owned by Richard Young of 5 Midcrest Homes, Midland.

Thieves Get TV Set, Phonograph At Chester Store

Thieves netted a colored television set and record player after breaking into the Ross TV store on Route 66 sometime between midnight and 8 a. m. today.

Patrolman Robert Wilson, who investigated the burglary, said a glass cutter was used on a window at the side of the building, allowing the thieves to gain entrance.

Wilson theororized that at least two burglars entered the store, explaining the television set could not be carried by one person. Robert Smoot, proprietor, discovered the theft this morning.

Four-Way Crash Leaves 3 Dead

BREEZEWOOD, Pa. (AP) — A young man recently married and his two sisters-in-laws were killed Friday night in a crash involving four vehicles, including a Greyhound bus.

Killed were Ronald W. Roggers, 25, of Johnstown; Linda M. Domico, 22, of College Park, Md., and Bernadette Domico of Alexandria, Va.

State police said a tractor-trailer truck rammed the rear of Rodgers' car, then the car and truck hurtled forward and smacked into the bus and another car. No one aboard the bus and the second car were hurt.

The truck landed virtually on top of Rodgers' car in the crash on Interstate 70 just west of here.

Merry Christmas To All

On this day of all days, good will should be universal.

Universal good will takes a stretch of the imagination, though. Like altruism, it is nice to think about but hard to find.

We have rearranged the idea of "good will toward men" to read "good will toward men of good will."

Even that modification of universal good will does not do the job for us, because we have good reason to believe universal good will is more of a rule than an exception.

That after years of systematic hate propaganda against Americans, we are not hated by the mass of Russians. They like us.

Our own hate campaigns have been futile. We do not hate Russians, the mainland Chinese, North Vietnamese, or even Asian guerrillas called the Viet Cong, though we have been told to think of them as "enemies."

This is one of the monstrous oddities of an addled era — that governments and their spokesmen still act as if universal travel and widening tolerance had not obliterated mass bad will.

No place on earth has escaped the benign touch of people-to-people understanding. There is more genuine good will among mankind today than there ever has been before.

Yet, governments work relentlessly to make it appear that bad will is in the ascendancy. A De Gaulle in France, a fledgling dictator in a tottering "republic," a strutting despot in a bankrupt kingdom, a wool-hat politician in our own South can make a career out of hatred.

They can do this only because the bulk of the people misrepresented by their preachments and slanders do not know how to be represented properly.

The people of this good earth have learned to love and respect one another, despite leaders who thrive on hatred, malice and misrepresentation.

Twenty centuries of Christian love have not been futile.

One day there could be peace on earth.

There could be universal good will.

It could happen if governments truly represented people, instead of leaders playing their endlessly dangerous games of power politics.

The Holiday Belief

Christmas is a holiday for the home and family, and one which is especially trying in times of war when sons and fathers are far away, their lives in danger.

Over a century ago, men of the Tri-State Area were fighting against their own countrymen in the South, a half century ago they were battling the troops of the Kaiser, then it was the Nazis and Japanese, just 17 years ago the North Koreans and Chinese and Reds, and today the enemy is the Viet Cong and North Viet forces.

It is difficult at times to accept the promise of peace on earth and good will toward men signified in the birth of Christ in the tiny town of Bethlehem.

However, the prayers which rise up from district churches tomorrow will have the conviction of such peace, such good will, for it lies in the nature of all men — Christian or not — to believe in the ultimate purpose of God to bring salvation to this earth. This is the belief which sustains those at home, waiting for their men in uniform; this is the belief which makes war bearable to those in the hills and swamps of Vietnam.

DeGaulle Strikes Again

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville has said the only reason his country vetoed Britain's entry into the Common Market is the weakened condition of the British economy.

We must take that explanation with a grain of salt.

Britain has admitted its economic shortcomings and feels one of the avenues to production and prosperity is through the Common Market.

It looks as if President Charles de Gaulle's dislike for Britain must be more of a factor in the veto than economic considerations.

The other five members of the trade group, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands, are receptive to British membership. They recognize the importance of Britain in the European movement to counter the influence of the United States and the Soviet Union.

There is not much more Britain can do at this time to prove its sincerity or enhance its chances for membership.

There is something the five other member nations can do, however. What's more, they already have started to do it.

The Dutch have refused to participate in a meeting of the ministers of labor from the six countries in the market group to iron out differences not related to the British question.

The Netherlands broke up a meeting of agricultural ministers in retaliation for adamant French position.

The Executive Commission of the Common Market is bucking for a hearing so Britain and other countries applying for admission, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Ireland, can make a formal presentation.

Other market members are working out details for starting their own talks with Britain.

It is not known how extensive the damage will be to the trade organization because of the rift. At the very least, it will bring about a period of lethargy and little accomplishment. It may well bring much worse before it is closed.

Merry Christmas From Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Your aunt and I are enjoying a cherry-wood fire, and if your printer makes that "cheery" instead of "cherry," he wouldn't be wrong.

We are thinking about other years when we were waiting for Christmas to come and go — years when you were growing up.

We are thinking of the high points of distant days and brooding about the changes time has wrought in what once was not the great occasion it is now.

We have thought often of the fact many of our relatives when we were young paid no attention whatever to Christmas, though all were God-fearing, religious people.

Not only did they disregard the Christian observance of Christmas. They paid no attention, either, to pagan observances — the worship of the tree and emphasis on materialism. It is hard for people to believe this, but as children we didn't even have a day off from school Dec. 25.

Then we think of the Christmases when you were home the year 'round, the later ones when you came home from school — and now in recent years the Christmases that we have had the privilege of coming to your house to spend Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

We are looking forward to it this year as always. We are grateful that we are still around; doubly grateful that you and your family are willing to share your family holiday with us.

We are impatient with people who find fault with the way Christmas is celebrated in our era. We wonder how they could expect to improve on the one occasion in the year when even Scrooge has kindly thoughts about the Bob Cratchits of this world.

What more could anyone ask of Christmas than the impulse to do something decent? No one should knock it.

We are glad to be on deck and ready. As Ed Wynn said in his final appearance on the Hollywood Palace show, he was glad to be anywhere at his age — which was then less than ours.

Looking back over the years, we cannot remember anything remotely suggestive of a bad Christmas, though we can remember Christmases that occurred in bad years, like the ghastly year when this country was being laid low and wiped out by the flu epidemic in 1917.

We can remember 1932 when all of us were wondering what was going to happen in 1933, and it's a good thing we didn't know.

We can remember the Battle of the Bulge, when our military geniuses were throwing boys with no combat training into the Hun meatgrinder.

We can remember all kinds of bad things that happened in December, but we cannot remember a Christmas that was not a triumph of good will. Remarkable, isn't it?

COTTON CORNERS — UNCLE GEORGE

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The question was asked, "Is Christmas unconstitutional?"

Only to those with a sick and impressionable mind, which can easily be influenced by someone or a group of pseudo-liberals. In the dark world of Communism there is no room for decency and God just as there is no room for truth and freedom.

Is America as a nation being swept by an epidemic of spiritual malnutrition? I fervently hope not. But the danger signs are all too clear. What has happened to our civic pride and righteous indignation? What kind of people are those who claim to be citizens of our Christian nation? Who can be so glib-tongued and take refuge behind the First Amendment?

Their morals would be far better if they knew as much about the Ten Commandments as they do about the First Amendment. Place such people in court of law and they take refuge behind the Fifth Amendment.

The two Lawyers at Overland, Mo., who demanded of Mayor Norman Myers that he remove the Nativity scene from the lawn of the City Hall, must have attended school at the University of Moscow. I take my hat off to Mayor Myres for ignoring this demand. The father of a little girl in Duluth, Minn., did not want the traditional carols used in the school's Christmas program, and the principal of the school removed the carols from the program. I would have told Mr. DeYoung to take a fast ship to China.

Mrs. Friedman of Patterson, N. J., who objected to the paintings of Christ in the schools, showed her ignorance in real fashion. When she and the rest of her cohorts stand before the judgement bar of God there will be no amendments, no bargaining, no refuge.

I don't claim to be the Holiest of Holies, but I do believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and was born of the Virgin Mary. I am proud of the fact that I am of the Christian Faith, an Elder in the First Christian Church of Chester and the Mayor of Our Community. And let no man try to deny me the right to decorate my home or my offices in the City Hall in the manner which I see fit. Or to celebrate the birth of our Lord in the manner in which it should be celebrated.

Mafia Tackles Air Freight

NEW YORK — Now there is great beating of breasts and pounding of tables because it has been "discovered" that friends, allies, associates and bodyguards of extortionist Johnny Dio, scion of the Luchese Cosa Nostra combine, are so powerful they can cripple the skyrocketing multibillion dollar air freight industry.

Victor Riesel

Why all this latter-day furor? This has been developing for more than a decade. The syndicates always do what comes naturally. There are now 171 all-cargo aerial jet freighters carrying 9 billion ton miles of cargo a year. And by 1971 another 186 such air freighters capable of carrying another 9.1 billion ton miles will be afloat.

This cuts down on old-fashioned water front freighters, into the holds of which are going more and more steel containers. This makes it difficult to pilfer. So the modern muscle magnate began looking to the airport freight haulage business.

As always, Johnny Dio, perpetual ex-convict, friend of the inner Luschese men, was told to move swiftly.

Dio long ago learned it is always a comfort to control the unions in the field of new enterprises. So big Johnny McNamara, friend of Johnny and Tommy Dio who long ago were placed in the Cosa Nostra by Joe Valachi's Senate testimony, became head of the key Teamsters Local 295 at New York's Kennedy Airport in 1955.

The Federal Aviation Administration knew this. So did the Civil Aeronautics Board. So did the Justice Dept. So did the compliance section of the Disclosure Division of the U.S. Dept. of Labor.

THEY KNEW MORE. They knew that deep in this were such muscle men as Harry Davidoff and Joseph Curcio who have always worked with Dio. They were with Dio when he was president of something called Local 649 of the U.A.W. (not to be confused with the United Auto Workers of Detroit). Davidoff was secretary-treasurer of this thing. Then he sent his members a letter saying that effective July 1, 1956, Local 649 would be changed to the Warehouse and Processing Employes Union, Local 258, International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"Such change, in name only does not involve any change in its officers or membership," he wrote.

Then came other switches in locals investigations. Dio went to prison, and returned to lush suburban living. Soon his friend McNamara was president of Teamsters airport trucking Local 295. He resigned and secretary - treasurer Davidoff took over the local.

Ex-convict Curcio went on the payroll of an air freight haulage company. All ends were being worked. The airlines, National, American and Northwest, have been pressured. There was the usual run of muscle applied to haulage companies delivering freight to the airports.

Slowly Local 295 grew powerful. It took members from other teamsters outfits and no outcry was made either at the New York Joint Council or at the national headquarters level. It went on silently. Airport freight delivery firms which dealt with other teamsters locals found themselves harassed.

Thus, the friends of Dio, who listens hard when the Luchese syndicate chiefs talk, soon were in a position to cripple deliveries of freight, fuel or anything destined to fly out of Kennedy, the world's biggest air freight depot. The operation was ambitious. Today Kennedy Airport; tomorrow, Newark, Miami, Chicago, San Francisco — any place into which the local's friends could barge.

If Local 295 could take the jurisdiction from other teamsters locals on Long Island, why not in Florida or on the Great Lakes or in Chicago.

ONE OF THE WITNESSES told an investigator for the New York State Committee on Investigation that "within a year or two, they would have had all this tied up and nobody could come in here (Kennedy) without their okay."

If the mob could get its troops into the local, they could develop an intelligence service so vast it could spot shipments coming in from anywhere across the U.S. — or the world.

"The local is of importance not only for pressure in the labor relations area," one investigator said, "but also for use as a method for infiltration. It would take only a handful of members to spot the key security sections, the warehouses, or scan the bills of lading on incoming shipments of gold, diamonds, and other valuable cargo. Then they could tell airport employes to go take a walk at a certain moment and who would not go for such a stroll after such a suggestion?"

All this was known to many law enforcement agencies. But only the New York State Investigation Commission headed by Myles Lane did move.

Why? Because there just is not enough manpower elsewhere. The Labor Dept.'s compliance division has 19 men for its entire New York section reaching upstate and out to Long Island. For the 13 state-Washington D.C. region headquartered in New York there are only 70 professionals.

For the entire nation, the Labor Dept. has but 200 men. As for the Justice Dept. Criminal Division "labor desk" of the Organized Crime section, it has six, possibly eight, lawyers now to cover the entire country.

The muscle men outnumber the law enforcement men in the labor racketeering arenas by hundreds to one.

So no wonder the more things change, the more they are the same for the Johnny Dios.

DAVID LAWRENCE

A Prime Ally

President Johnson's 10,000-mile journey to Australia to attend memorial services for the late Prime Minister Harold Holt is a sad errand, but incidentally meaningful to the peace of the world.

The United States is in Vietnam because the United Nations has fallen down on its job. In the absence of action by this international organization to maintain peace, America undertook the task.

One of our principal allies is Australia. Prime Minister Holt has been outspoken in support of the objectives of the war.

Too many Americans brush aside the Vietnam conflict in a superficial way, little realizing that a great principle is at stake. No better exposition of the issues involved has been given than in a document just issued by the Conference of Asian Affairs conducted by the Public Affairs Institute of Freedom House in New York City.

Some of the most knowledgeable Americans on the subject of international relations — 14 leading Asian scholars and historians — have commended the invaluable contribution made by the United States in Southeast Asia.

These scholars see danger to world peace in either a Communist victory in Vietnam or in an American policy of "win and get out."

THEIR STATEMENT sets forth clearly that, while for decades the United States has concentrated attention on Europe, not until recently was it perceived that the peace of the world is closely interrelated to what happens in Asia.

After stressing that Southeast Asia comprises 10 separate states and nearly 250 million people, the report says:

"This region may well hold the key to whether a political equilibrium for Asia as a whole can be achieved, a question which in turn affects the future of the entire world. . . .

"Conditions in Southeast Asia today, however, are not solely the product of internal developments. The decision of the United States to maintain a presence in this region has been of crucial importance. Every political leader within the area now recognizes that without that presence — economic, political, military — the political fate of the region as a whole would have been drastically different.

"To put the matter succinctly, the United States has bought time for some 200 million people to develop, without their being ceaselessly confronted with combined external-internal Communist threats of growing proportions. . . .

"The time has come when we should encourage and expect Asian initiatives and leadership in all matters centrally involving the peoples of this area. To share, and sometimes to yield responsibility is a necessary means to the encouragement of Asian self-reliance, rationality and independence. Such policies do not in any sense constitute withdrawal. In some instances, indeed, they may bring more substantial commitments. Increasingly, however, a mutual responsibility must be sought in an atmosphere of multilateral partnership.

"Our basic problem in foreign policy has not been an arrogance of power. Rather, it has been a continuing uncertainty as to how best to use the massive power at our disposal."

Under such circumstances, President Johnson's trip to Australia tells the world that, while the United States has lost a personal friend in the government at Canberra, the people of Australia continue to be very much within the orbit of America's interest in Asia.

DURING WORLD War II, Australians showed a warm hospitality to American servicemen and fought alongside them in that war. They were again staunch allies in the Korean War, as they are now in Vietnam.

Distances today do not prevent close relationships between the American people and the peoples of other continents.

The President's decision to go to Australia, where he will have an opportunity to meet with Harold Wilson, prime minister of Great Britain, as well as the heads of the six governments allied with the United States in Vietnam, is a significant event in the evolution of our Asian policy.

It serves warning on the Communist world, too, that, despite the demonstrations here and the spirit of defeatism which prompts some critics, the United States intends to continue its presence in Asia as a friend and benefactor of the hundreds of millions of people on the Asian continent and its neighboring lands.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — John Fickes, Clarence Vogel and John Haugh comprised the committee in charge of the Christmas party for needy children at the Wellsville Elks Club.

Hugh Laughlin of East Liverpool made the honor list at Ohio State University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — John Webber Jr was chairman for the annual family Christmas party of Odd Fellows Lodge 379.

Helen Wright, Margaret Gill, Vivian Costello and Shirley Ann Baxter were enrolled as new members of Girl Scout Troop 2 at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Miss Joan Stoddard, a student at Thiel College, Greenville, Pa., arrived to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Stoddard of Park Way.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Rhoda Jamison was retained as president of the Bethany Class of the First Church of Christ.

Boxes of food and gifts were presented four needy families in East End by representatives of pupils of East Junior High School.

Merry Christmas To All

On this day of all days, good will should be universal.

Universal good will takes a stretch of the imagination, though. Like altruism, it is nice to think about but hard to find.

We have rearranged the idea of "good will toward men" to read "good will toward men of good will."

Even that modification of universal good will does not do the job for us, because we have good reason to believe universal good will is more of a rule than an exception.

That after years of systematic hate propaganda against Americans, we are not hated by the mass of Russians. They like us.

Our own hate campaigns have been futile. We do not hate Russians, the mainland Chinese, North Vietnamese, or even Asian guerrillas called the Viet Cong, though we have been told to think of them as "enemies."

This is one of the monstrous oddities of an addled era — that governments and their spokesmen still act as if universal travel and widening tolerance had not obliterated mass bad will.

No place on earth has escaped the benign touch of people-to-people understanding. There is more genuine good will among mankind today than there ever has been before.

Yet, governments work relentlessly to make it appear that bad will is in the ascendancy. A De Gaulle in France, a fledgling dictator in a tottering "republic," a strutting despot in a bankrupt kingdom, a wool-hat politician in our own South can make a career out of hatred.

They can do this only because the bulk of the people misrepresented by their preachments and slanders do not know how to be represented properly.

The people of this good earth have learned to love and respect one another, despite leaders who thrive on hatred, malice and misrepresentation.

Twenty centuries of Christian love have not been futile.

One day there could be peace on earth.

There could be universal good will.

It could happen if governments truly represented people, instead of leaders playing their endlessly dangerous games of power politics.

The Holiday Belief

Christmas is a holiday for the home and family, and one which is especially trying in times of war when sons and fathers are far away, their lives in danger.

Over a century ago, men of the Tri-State Area were fighting against their own countrymen in the South, a half century ago they were battling the troops of the Kaiser, then it was the Nazis and Japanese, just 17 years ago the North Koreans and Chinese and Reds, and today the enemy is the Viet Cong and North Viet forces.

It is difficult at times to accept the promise of peace on earth and good will toward men signified in the birth of Christ in the tiny town of Bethlehem.

However, the prayers which rise up from district churches tomorrow will have the conviction of such peace, such good will, for it lies in the nature of all men — Christian or not — to believe in the ultimate purpose of God to bring salvation to this earth. This is the belief which sustains those at home, waiting for their men in uniform; this is the belief which makes war bearable to those in the hills and swamps of Vietnam.

Every political leader within the area now recognizes that without that presence — economic, political, military — the political fate of the region as a whole would have been drastically different.

"To put the matter succinctly, the United States has bought time for some 200 million people to develop, without their being ceaselessly confronted with combined external-internal Communist threats of growing proportions. . . .

"The time has come when we should encourage and expect Asian initiatives and leadership in all matters centrally involving the peoples of this area. To share, and sometimes to yield responsibility is a necessary means to the encouragement of Asian self-reliance, rationality and independence. Such policies do not in any sense constitute withdrawal. In some instances, indeed, they may bring more substantial commitments. Increasingly, however, a mutual responsibility must be sought in an atmosphere of multilateral partnership.

"Our basic problem in foreign policy has not been an arrogance of power. Rather, it has been a continuing uncertainty as to how best to use the massive power at our disposal."

Under such circumstances, President Johnson's trip to Australia tells the world that, while the United States has lost a personal friend in the government at Canberra, the people of Australia continue to be very much within the orbit of America's interest in Asia.

DURING WORLD War II, Australians showed a warm hospitality to American servicemen and fought alongside them in that war. They were again staunch allies in the Korean War, as they are now in Vietnam.

Distances today do not prevent close relationships between the American people and the peoples of other continents.

The President's decision to go to Australia, where he will have an opportunity to meet with Harold Wilson, prime minister of Great Britain, as well as the heads of the six governments allied with the United States in Vietnam, is a significant event in the evolution of our Asian policy.

It serves warning on the Communist world, too, that, despite the demonstrations here and the spirit of defeatism which prompts some critics, the United States intends to continue its presence in Asia as a friend and benefactor of the hundreds of millions of people on the Asian continent and its neighboring lands.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — John Fickes, Clarence Vogel and John Haugh comprised the committee in charge of the Christmas party for needy children at the Wellsville Elks Club.

Hugh Laughlin of East Liverpool made the honor list at Ohio State University.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — John Webber Jr. was chairman for the annual family Christmas party of Odd Fellows Lodge 379.

Helen Wright, Margaret Gill, Vivian Costello and Shirley Ann Baxter were enrolled as new members of Girl Scout Troop 2 at the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church.

Miss Joan Stoddard, a student at Thiel College, Greenville, Pa., arrived to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Stoddard of Park Way.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Rhoda Jamison was retained as president of the Bethany Class of the First Church of Christ.

Boxes of food and gifts were presented four needy families in East End by representatives of pupils of East Junior High School.

On Chicago's West Side

'Black Santas' Brighten Season

CHICAGO (AP) — A year ago they were enemies, but they joined forces for a common goal — to bring Christmas and Santa Claus to deprived children on Chicago's West Side.

Fourteen members of three once-violent West Side gangs donned white beards, red and white suits and caps and delivered 6,000 donated toys Friday to youngsters in 35 settlement homes and youth centers in the Lawndale section.

Garland Hunter, 18, one of the Santas for a day, said when asked if the youngsters were surprised to see a Negro Santa:

"If there can be a red-nosed reindeer, there can be a black Santa."

Hunter was solemn for a moment, and then burst forth with another jolly ho-ho-ho.

"The toys we give will be Christmas for most of the kids," said another Santa, husky Edward Nash, 23.

"A lot of the parents here have a hard time finding a dollar for a present," he said.

Nash's younger brother, Martin, 20, recalled: "When I was a kid, I celebrated the best way I could—out on the streets—it didn't seem like anyone cared."

Cmdr. George Sims of the North Lawndale police district said the three gangs—the Roman Saints, Conservative Vice Lords and Egyptian Cobras—"were the most active and violent gangs on the West Side."

"We're not gangs anymore," Edward Nash said. "We call ourselves groups. Some of the members needed talking to, but the majority rules."

The change from gangs to groups began about a year ago, explained Charles Curry, area director of Youth Action, a cooperative effort of West Side Boys' Clubs. The youths now have channeled their energies from violence to community service, Curry said.

Martin Nash said: "Things were rugged out here in 1966 (the year of the West Side riots). We didn't want to see that happen again. Things just couldn't be done that way."

Gang leaders, representing 2,000 members, told police last July they were being urged by militants to form a "black youth alliance" and take up arms.

In August, the gang leaders, police, city officials, youth center leaders and representatives of industry formed operation Bootstrap. Its aim is to provide better housing, education, jobs, recreation and better relations with police in Lawndale.

Dramatic Effort Fails In Bid To Save Car Victim

BREEZEWOOD, Pa. (AP) — A young Marine and another man were killed Friday in a two-car crash despite a dramatic attempt to save the life of the Marine pinned in the wreckage. A teen-age girl was hurt.

Killed were Marine John Foster, 22, of Richmond, Calif., who was stationed at Quantico, Va., and John R. Miller, 29, of Brownsville.

State police said doctors and two Navy hospital corpsmen pumped a blood - thickening agent into Foster as he lay pinned in the front seat of his wrecked station wagon.

Bleeding profusely, Foster was pulled from the wreckage alive, but was dead on arrival at Berkley Springs Hospital at Berkley Springs, W. Va.

The emergency highway operation lasted about 1½ hours, police said, backing traffic on heavily travelled Interstate 70 for about three miles.

State police said Miller got on the wrong lane on the divided highway, driving south on the north-bound lane.

They said he forced one car off the road, sending it into an embankment. Two occupants in the car were not hurt. Then, police said, Miller went on and collided with Foster's station wagon about 15 miles south of here.

Chris Konosk, 17, of Jeannette, who was riding with Foster, was taken to the Berkley Spring hospital in satisfactory condition, and later was transferred to the Washington County Hospital at Hagerstown, Md.

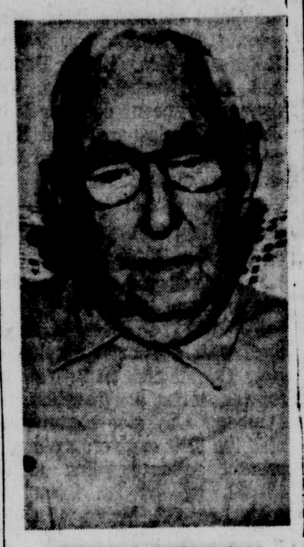
101st Birthday Observed With Quiet Get-Together

Thomas J. Peterson, a patient at the Geraldine Nursing Home the last five years, is observing his 101st birthday today. The nurses and staff members held a quiet get-together in observance of the occasion.

His grandson, Glenn Tice of 816 St. George St., and Mrs. Tice presented him with a cake and ice cream.

Mr. Peterson was born in Gallia County, Dec. 23, 1866, a son of James Peterson and Eliza Peterson. The family moved to Jefferson County in 1870 and Mr. Peterson spent the greater part of his life in the Irondale area, with the exception of about 10 years when he worked on a cattle ranch in Colorado. At Irondale, he was employed in the tin mill and helped make the first tinplate produced in the United States. He later became interested in mining, a career he pursued until 1935. He was elected constable of Saline Township in 1938 and served until 1948.



THOMAS PETERSON
Has Cake, Ice Cream.

He married Minnie B. Starkey in 1891. She died in 1949. He has a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Stitt of Miami, Fla. There are three other grandsons, 18 great-grandchildren and five great - great-grandchildren.

According to the family, he is a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball fan and listens to five radio church sermons every Sunday.

He reads The Review daily, possesses a sound heart and has an alert mind.

'Vision' Warns Of Holocaust By Midnight Sunday

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Hundreds of Danes who are members of a cult led by a 46-year-old cab driver believe that an atomic war will kill two-thirds of the earth's population by midnight Sunday.

Earth won't be destroyed but millions of flying saucers will land and transport the earthlings who are left to outer space where their spiritual level will be raised, they believe.

The cab driver predicting all this is Knud Weiking, pronounced Viking. He says his information comes from Orthon, who he describes as leader of the galaxy that contains earth.

Weiking tells this story of his "vision": Orthon came to him last March. At first the cab driver only heard his voice but later he showed up in person. He has long hair and dreamy eyes. When he talks through Weiking, he uses phrases from the Bible and lectures on cosmic laws.

"Many people think this message is fatal, but it is really a message of joy. One third of the population on Earth will be rescued from the atomic war", says Weiking.

Weiking says, he is not the first to see and talk to Orthon. A British real estate agent from Blackpool saw him for the first time in 1961 and was told the same things, he says.

Pennsylvanian Killed As Two Cars Collide

MARKLEYSBURG, Pa. (AP) —Two cars collided at an intersection Friday, killing a man.

Killed was Floyd J. Rugg, 31, of Confluence, a passenger in a car operated by Roy G. Barkley, 23, of Chalk Hill.

Police said Barkley's car and an auto operated by Emmons E. Handwerk, 37, of Grantsville, Md., collided at the intersection of U.S. 40 and Pennsylvania 281.

Barkley was treated at a hospital and released. Handwerk and two passengers in his car suffered minor injuries.

Dramatic Effort Fails In Bid To Save Car Victim

BREEZEWOOD, Pa. (AP) — A young Marine and another man were killed Friday in a two-car crash despite a dramatic attempt to save the life of the Marine pinned in the wreckage. A teen-age girl was hurt.

Killed were Marine John Foster, 22, of Richmond, Calif., who was stationed at Quantico, Va., and John R. Miller, 29, of Brownsville.

State police said doctors and two Navy hospital corpsmen pumped a blood - thickening agent into Foster as he lay pinned in the front seat of his wrecked station wagon.

Bleeding profusely, Foster was pulled from the wreckage alive, but was dead on arrival at Berkley Springs Hospital at Berkley Springs, W. Va.

The emergency highway operation lasted about 1½ hours, police said, backing traffic on heavily travelled Interstate 70 for about three miles.

State police said Miller got on the wrong lane on the divided highway, driving south on the north-bound lane.

They said he forced one car off the road, sending it into an embankment. Two occupants in the car were not hurt. Then, police said, Miller went on and collided with Foster's station wagon about 15 miles south of here.

Chris Konosk, 17, of Jeannette, who was riding with Foster, was taken to the Berkley Spring hospital in satisfactory condition, and later was transferred to the Washington County Hospital at Hagerstown, Md.

Lisbon Ball Awaited

LISBON—The Yuletide Charity Ball—this community's largest social event — will be held from 10 to 1 tonight at Lincoln School. Tickets will be available at the door. The Mellotones Orchestra will play.

Discovered by Emil von Behring, diphtheria antitoxin was first used for patients in 1894.

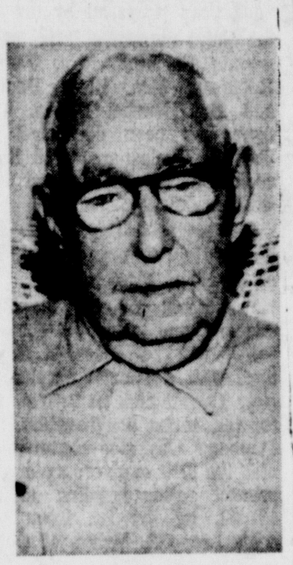
At Nursing Home

101st Birthday Observed With Quiet Get-Together

Thomas J. Peterson, a patient at the Geraldine Nursing Home the last five years, is observing his 101st birthday today. The nurses and staff members held a quiet get-together in observance of the occasion.

His grandson, Glenn Tice of 816 St. George St., and Mrs. Tice presented him with a cake and ice cream.

Mr. Peterson was born in Gallia County, Dec. 23, 1866, a son of James Peterson and Eliza Peterson. The family moved to Jefferson County in 1870 and Mr. Peterson spent the greater part of his life in the Irondale area, with the exception of about 10 years when he worked on a cattle ranch in Colorado. At Irondale, he was employed in the tin mill and helped make the first tinplate produced in the United States. He later became interested in mining, a career he pursued until 1935. He was elected constable of Saline Township in 1938 and served until 1948.



THOMAS PETERSON
Has Cake, Ice Cream.

He married Minnie B. Starkey in 1891. She died in 1949. He has a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Stitt of Miami, Fla. There are three other grandsons, 18 great-grandchildren and five great - great-grandchildren.

According to the family, he is a Pittsburgh Pirate baseball fan and listens to five radio church sermons every Sunday.

He reads The Review daily, possesses a sound heart and has an alert mind.

'Vision' Warns Of Holocaust By Midnight Sunday

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Hundreds of Danes who are members of a cult led by a 46-year-old cab driver believe that an atomic war will kill two-thirds of the earth's population by midnight Sunday.

Earth won't be destroyed but millions of flying saucers will land and transport the earthlings who are left to outer space where their spiritual level will be raised, they believe.

The cab driver predicting all this is Knud Weiking, pronounced Viking. He says his information comes from Orthon, who he describes as leader of the galaxy that contains earth.

Weiking tells this story of his "vision": Orthon came to him last March. At first the cab driver only heard his voice but later he showed up in person. He has long hair and dreamy eyes. When he talks through Weiking, he uses phrases from the Bible and lectures on cosmic laws.

"Many people think this message is fatal, but it is really a message of joy. One third of the population on Earth will be rescued from the atomic war", says Weiking.

Weiking says, he is not the first to see and talk to Orthon. A British real estate agent from Blackpool saw him for the first time in 1961 and was told the same things, he says.

Pennsylvanian Killed As Two Cars Collide

MARKLEYSBURG, Pa. (AP) —Two cars collided at an intersection Friday, killing a man.

Killed was Floyd J. Rugg, 31, of Confluence, a passenger in a car operated by Roy G. Barkley, 23, of Chalk Hill.

Police said Barkley's car and an auto operated by Emmons E. Handwerk, 37, of Grantsville, Md., collided at the intersection of U.S. 40 and Pennsylvania 281.

Barkley was treated at a hospital and released. Handwerk and two passengers in his car suffered minor injuries.

Salineville Area News

SALINEVILLE — Joe Knight was elected president of the Salineville Fire Department this week.

Others named are Albert Brammer, vice president; James Needham, secretary; James Loch, treasurer, Lloyd Meister, James Needham and Pete Sambroak Jr., trustees.

Christmas treats for the community's children were distributed this afternoon at the fire station.

Fourteen attended the Ladies Civic Club meeting Tuesday night at the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Bea Hazlett, president, in charge.

Joyce Leek conducted the program, which featured a Christmas gift exchange. The officers served lunch.

The next meeting will be Jan. 16.

Plane Carrying Two Hunted In Mountains

ANDREWS, N.C. (AP) — A small plane with two persons aboard, en route from Columbus, Ohio, to Columbia, Ga., was reported missing and a search was ordered today.

Civil Air Patrol officials at Asheville said the plane was last heard from when it radioed the Knoxville, Tenn., airport requesting Atlanta, Ga., weather information.

Students Sing At Meeting Of Local Lions

Sophomore girls from the East Liverpool High School choirs presented a program of Christmas music when the Lions Club met Friday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Robert Harris, vocal music director at the high school and director of the Boyce Methodist Church choir, led the group of six and club members who participated in portions of the program.

The girls are: Theresa Maley, Barbara Abbott, Alma Johnson, Debbie Dawson, Andrea Aikins and Starr Flesch. Lee Ann Bernstorf was pianist.

President Charles Haugh announced a board meeting will be held Jan. 8 at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. branch office in St. Clair Plaza.

Members of the group manned the Salvation Army Christmas kettles Friday night between 6 and 9.

Richard Walker will be program chairman next Friday, with wives of club members invited to attend. The speaker will be Roy Lewis, past district governor, who will screen slides of Hawaii.

Hammondsville Church To Have Cantata Sunday

The Christmas program at the Hammondsville Methodist Church Sunday at 10:15 a. m. will feature a cantata, "The Heavens Declare."

Members of the cast include Mr. and Mrs. Errett Allison and daughters Diane, Renee and Paula of Newell, assisted by Mrs. Rena Ketchum, Mrs. Ruth Hooper, Mrs. Pat Ketchum, Mrs. Joan Crowe, Mrs. Eva Parsons, Mrs. Marie Myers and the choir members.

The program also will consist of songs and recitations by the Sunday School classes under the direction of the teachers.

The cantata will be directed by Clyde Crook, with Alex Kouvola as narrator. Tim Crook will be organist. The Rev. Carl Stockdale is pastor.

Church Society Holds Program

HIGHLANDTOWN — "For This Little Time" was the topic of the three-part program presented under the direction of Mrs. Verla Culp when the WSCS of the Methodist Church met Tuesday night. Mrs. Geraldine Kessel was hostess.

Mrs. Evelyn Seigler was Sara; Mrs. Nadine Leatherberry, Mary, Jesus' mother, and Mrs. Janet Taggart, Mary Magdalene.

The program preceded the business session. The group will visit the Town and Country nursing home in Salineville Jan. 8, leaving the church at 6:30 o'clock.

"Secret sisters" were revealed and new names chosen. It was reported that 61 sick calls had been made during the past month. Mrs. Blanche Black was a guest.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch to 16 by Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Mrs. Verna Merriman. The Jan. 16 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry on Route 39, with Mrs. Seigler program leader.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Have you any suggestions on the successful washing of permanetly pleated skirts?

A. — When washing them, gather the pleats together carefully and slip a clean, old nylon stocking down over the skirt before hanging it up to dry. In this way, the pleats will dry close together and will be firm and neat - looking.

Q. — How can I remedy sugar that has become hard and lumpy?

A. — By putting it into a covered container and placing in the refrigerator for a few days. This will usually soften it. My new household - hints book contains many other such tips for making life easier in and around the kitchen.

Q. — I miss that fresh, clean, outdoor aroma in the laundry I have dried in my clothes dryer. Is there anything I can do about this?

A. — If you'll put your basketful of wash outdoors for an hour or so before ironing — summer and winter — you'll achieve that familiar smell of yesteryear.

The first important patent on rubber was granted to Charles Goodyear in 1837.

Happy Birthday, JESUS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	2	1-9
Monday	Isaiah	7	10-17
Tuesday	Isaiah	9	1-7
Wednesday	Zechariah	8	1-8
Thursday	Matthew	2	1-12
Friday	Luke	2	1-7
Saturday	Luke	2	8-21

The lights of Christmas shine in children's eyes
As they uncover each well-kept surprise,
And we remember, as we share their joy,
That Jesus too was once a little boy.

He must have laughed and shouted at His play
Just as the youngest ones will do today.
And surely Mary watched with pride and love . . .
Thinking of shepherds, and a star above.

This day is blessed by children's happy voices.
The bells ring out; the Christian world rejoices.
With all the gladness grateful hearts can bring,
We celebrate the birthday of a King.

Students Sing At Meeting Of Local Lions

Sophomore girls from the East Liverpool High School choirs presented a program of Christmas music when the Lions Club met Friday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Mrs. Robert Harris, vocal music director at the high school and director of the Boyce Methodist Church choir, led the group of six and club members who participated in portions of the program.

The girls are: Theresa Maley, Barbara Abbott, Alma Johnson, Debbie Dawson, Andrea Aikins and Starr Flesch. Lee Ann Bernstorf was pianist.

President Charles Haugh announced a board meeting will be held Jan. 8 at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. branch office in St. Clair Plaza.

Members of the group manned the Salvation Army Christmas kettles Friday night between 6 and 9.

Richard Walker will be program chairman next Friday, with wives of club members invited to attend. The speaker will be Roy Lewis, past district governor, who will screen slides of Hawaii.

Hammondsville Church To Have Cantata Sunday

The Christmas program at the Hammondsville Methodist Church Sunday at 10:15 a. m. will feature a cantata, "The Heavens Declare."

Members of the cast include Mr. and Mrs. Errett Allison and daughters Diane, Renee and Paula of Newell, assisted by Mrs. Rena Ketchum, Mrs. Ruth Hooper, Mrs. Pat Ketchum, Mrs. Joan Crowe, Mrs. Eva Parsons, Mrs. Marie Myers and the choir members.

The program also will consist of songs and recitations by the Sunday School classes under the direction of the teachers.

The cantata will be directed by Clyde Crook, with Alex Kouvola as narrator. Tim Crook will be organist. The Rev. Carl Stockdale is pastor.

Church Society Holds Program

HIGHLANDTOWN — "For This Little Time" was the topic of the three-part program presented under the direction of Mrs. Verla Culp when the WSCS of the Methodist Church met Tuesday night. Mrs. Geraldine Kessel was hostess.

Mrs. Evelyn Seigler was Sara; Mrs. Nadine Leatherberry, Mary, Jesus' mother, and Mrs. Janet Taggart, Mary Magdalene.

The program preceded the business session. The group will visit the Town and Country nursing home in Salineville Jan. 8, leaving the church at 6:30 o'clock.

"Secret sisters" were revealed and new names chosen. It was reported that 61 sick calls had been made during the past month. Mrs. Blanche Black was a guest.

The hostess was assisted in serving lunch to 16 by Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry and Mrs. Verna Merriman. The Jan. 16 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry on Route 39, with Mrs. Seigler program leader.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — Have you any suggestions on the successful washing of permanetly pleated skirts?

A. — When washing them, gather the pleats together carefully and slip a clean, old nylon stocking down over the skirt before hanging it up to dry. In this way, the pleats will dry close together and will be firm and neat - looking.

Q. — How can I remedy sugar that has become hard and lumpy?

A. — By putting it into a covered container and placing in the refrigerator for a few days. This will usually soften it. My new household - hints book contains many other such tips for making life easier in and around the kitchen.

Q. — I miss that fresh, clean, outdoor aroma in the laundry I have dried in my clothes dryer. Is there anything I can do about this?

A. — If you'll put your basketful of wash outdoors for an hour or so before ironing — summer and winter — you'll achieve that familiar smell of yesteryear.

The first important patent on rubber was granted to Charles Goodyear in 1837.

Happy Birthday, JESUS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	2	1-9
Monday	Isaiah	7	10-17
Tuesday	Isaiah	9	1-7
Wednesday	Zechariah	8	1-8
Thursday	Matthew	2	1-12
Friday	Luke	2	1-7
Saturday	Luke	2	8-21

The lights of Christmas shine in children's eyes
As they uncover each well-kept surprise,
And we remember, as we share their joy,
That Jesus too was once a little boy.

He must have laughed and shouted at His play
Just as the youngest ones will do today.
And surely Mary watched with pride and love . . .
Thinking of shepherds, and a star above.

This day is blessed by children's happy voices.
The bells ring out; the Christian world rejoices.
With all the gladness grateful hearts can bring,
We celebrate the birthday of a King.

ANITA PETENZI
Summer Wedding Due.

Anita Petenzi, Pete Commarato Plan To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Pentenzi of Malvern announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anita D. Petenzi, to Pete Commarato, son of Mrs. Ann Commarato of 1223 Commerce St., Wellsville, and the late Tony Commarato.

The wedding will be an event of early summer.

The bride - elect, a graduate of St. Edward Central Catholic High School in Carrollton, is employed as a private secretary for the Nationwide Insurance Co. of Canton.

Her fiance was graduated from Wellsville High School and is a self - employed barber.

Barbara Jean Campbell, Clinton McClun Are Wed

Venice lace was used in the styling of the gown of Miss Barbara Jane Campbell when she became the bride of Clinton McClun Dec. 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Campbell of East Fairfield. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve McClun of Washingtonville.

The Rev. Paul E. Sells officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with white poinsettia and seven-branch candelabra. Roses accented the satin bows which marked the family pews.

Miss Ruth Hawkins of New Waterford played a half hour recital of organ music.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her satin, floor-length gown was fashioned along sheath lines and featured a yoke and long sleeves in Venice lace. The Watteau train also was edged in the lace.

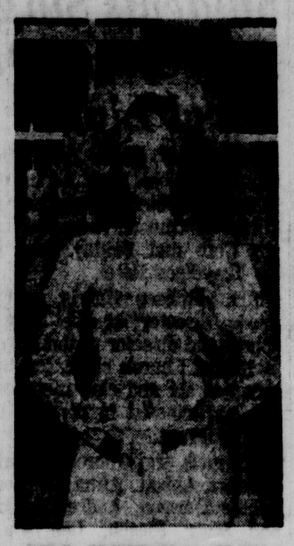
Her elbow - length veil of silk illusion was attached to a satin Dior bow. She carried an arrangement of white roses and carnations tied with long streamers. The familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Darla Hoon was maid of honor and Miss Judy Campbell, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Ann Vocature were bridesmaids.

They appeared in burgundy color, A-line style, velvet gowns designed with Empire bodices and lace trim. Headpieces were pink satin cabbage roses holding matching illusion veils. They carried cascade arrangements of burgundy and pink carnations.

James West of Washingtonville, served as best man. Ushers were John Cook and Richard Oxley of Leetonia.

The mother of the bride chose a pink crepe dress and lace coat ensemble with black accessories and pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a winter white wool suit with gold color accessories and corsage of red carnations.



MRS. CLINTON McCLUN
Residing In Leetonia.

A RECEPTION for 80 followed in the social rooms, where the buffet table was covered with a white satin cloth overlaid with pink maline. The centerpiece was a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Aides were Miss Marlene Huff of Negley, Mrs. Florence Campbell of New Waterford and Mrs. Raymond Ward of Leetonia. Miss Patricia Noel of Middleton registered the guests.

For her honeymoon trip through the Eastern States and Canada, the bride wore a brown and tan dress with matching accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bride was graduated from Crestview High School and is employed at Twentieth Century Chemists of Paint Products in New Waterford. The bridegroom, a graduate of Leetonia High School, is an employe of the Buick and Oldsmobile Co. of Columbiana.

The newlyweds will reside at 341 Columbia St., Leetonia.

ANITA PETENZI
Summer Wedding Due.

Anita Petenzi, Pete Commarato Plan To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Pentenzi of Malvern announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anita D. Petenzi, to Pete Commarato, son of Mrs. Ann Commarato of 1223 Commerce St., Wellsville, and the late Tony Commarato.

The wedding will be an event of early summer.

The bride - elect, a graduate of St. Edward Central Catholic High School in Carrollton, is employed as a private secretary for the Nationwide Insurance Co. of Canton.

Her fiance was graduated from Wellsville High School and is a self - employed barber.

Barbara Jean Campbell, Clinton McClun Are Wed

Venice lace was used in the styling of the gown of Miss Barbara Jane Campbell when she became the bride of Clinton McClun Dec. 16 at 6:30 p.m. in the East Fairfield Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Campbell of East Fairfield. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve McClun of Washingtonville.

The Rev. Paul E. Sells officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar banked with white poinsettia and seven-branch candelabra. Roses accented the satin bows which marked the family pews.

Miss Ruth Hawkins of New Waterford played a half hour recital of organ music.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Her satin, floor-length gown was fashioned along sheath lines and featured a yoke and long sleeves in Venice lace. The Watteau train also was edged in the lace.

Her elbow - length veil of silk illusion was attached to a satin Dior bow. She carried an arrangement of white roses and carnations tied with long streamers. The familiar traditions were observed.

Miss Darla Hoon was maid of honor and Miss Judy Campbell, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Ann Vocature were bridesmaids.

They appeared in burgundy color, A-line style, velvet gowns designed with Empire bodices and lace trim. Headpieces were pink satin cabbage roses holding matching illusion veils. They carried cascade arrangements of burgundy and pink carnations.

James West of Washingtonville, served as best man. Ushers were John Cook and Richard Oxley of Leetonia.

The mother of the bride chose a pink crepe dress and lace coat ensemble with black accessories and pink carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a winter white wool suit with gold color accessories and corsage of red carnations.

MRS. CLINTON McCLUN
Residing In Leetonia.

Aides were Miss Marlene Huff of Negley, Mrs. Florence Campbell of New Waterford and Mrs. Raymond Ward of Leetonia. Miss Patricia Noel of Middleton registered the guests.

For her honeymoon trip through the Eastern States and Canada, the bride wore a brown and tan dress with matching accessories and her bridal corsage.

The bride was graduated from Crestview High School and is employed at Twentieth Century Chemists of Paint Products in New Waterford. The bridegroom, a graduate of Leetonia High School, is an employe of the Buick and Oldsmobile Co. of Columbiana.

The newlyweds will reside at 341 Columbia St., Leetonia.

Car Hits Pole, Lights Go Out

LISBON — Residents along the north side of Guilford Lake were without electricity for nearly 40 minutes Friday evening after a traffic accident.

A car driven by Ila Mable Hull, 38, of Lisbon RD 4, sheared an Ohio Edison pole and a General Telephone Co. pole on County Rd. 411 at the Floyd Stillson residence, where fire destroyed a three - car, two-story garage Thursday afternoon.

Constable Arnold Bruckner and Assistant James Allmon of Hanover Township said the driver escaped injury and drove the 1960 sedan home, although they considered it a total loss. She reported the accident about 6 p.m. from her home near the state park picnic pavilion.

The constable said she told him she was driving east about 40 miles an hour and glanced at the fire on her right. The Stinsons' winter coal pile was still burning from the fire the day before. The driver was cited to Columbiana County Southwest Court on a charge of reckless operation.

Electrical service was restored shortly after 6:30.

Navy fighter-bombers were shot down by ground fire Friday while flying missions over North Vietnam and both pilots are missing.

The locations were not revealed but among Navy pilot's targets Friday were the northern area of the demilitarized zone and a cargo transfer point near Thanh Hoa, about 80 miles south of Hanoi.

One of the planes was an A7 Corsair II,—the first new attack bomber to be shot down since the model went into combat earlier this month.

The two fighter-bombers brought to 769 the announced number of U.S. plane losses over North Vietnam.

The northeast monsoon restricted American air strikes over North Vietnam Friday, but Air Force pilots guided by radar hit Kep Airfield 98 miles northeast of Hanoi and a railroad yard 43 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

Marine pilots flying all-weather A6 intruders attacked the Yen Bai storage area 64 miles northwest of Hanoi and another supply point 15 miles northwest of Haiphong while Navy planes bombed military installations in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

American air power was expected to be grounded during the truce period, the first time it has been held back from action since the cease-fire on Buddha's birthday last May.

Although allied ground troops are not committed to observe the three-day truce declared by the Viet Cong, most field units began pulling back toward their home bases today, anticipating the one-day Christmas pause announced by the South Vietnamese government.

Some fighting continued Friday, however

A UH1 helicopter flying U.S. infantrymen into a landing zone was ripped by guerrilla riflemen Friday, and crashed and burned. Troops of the 1st Infantry Division fought their way out of the zone and reported killing 10 enemy soldiers in the 10-minute battle 54 miles northwest of Saigon. American casualties were put at three helicopter crewmen and five soldiers wounded.

Osmium is the densest metal known.

Johnson

bombers escaped, the U.S. Command said.

The command reported two

It was speculated that to save time and avoid contact with demonstrators, Johnson might take a helicopter from one of the two Rome airports to the Vatican.

Leaflets scattered in the streets by the Communist party read: "Johnson we don't want you. Babies are being killed in Vietnam, hospitals, schools, churches, cities, villages are being bombed. Men and women are being burned with napalm.

"Tortures like those done by the Nazis are being committed. They want to exterminate an entire people. From this is born the threat of world peace. Johnson, Christmas is not your day and '68 will not be your year."

The Vatican daily newspaper L'Osservatore Romano deplored a Communist party statement calling a stop by Johnson in Rome an "intolerable provocation." The newspaper assailed Communist plans for demonstrations.

An informed source in Madrid said Johnson's plane would refuel and he would spend tonight there on his way home. What began as a trip to memorial rites in Australia for Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, who has been given up for drowned, was turning into an around the world flight.

Washington sources believe this would be the first continuous around the world flight made by a President while in office. They said several, including Ulysses S. Grant, have traveled around the world but not while in office.

LEAVING Australia Johnson winged into the sprawling U.S. Air Force base at Khorat, Thailand, Friday, to visit airmen, snatched four hours sleep, touched down at Cam Ranh for 1¾ hours and bounded on.

In Rome, a Vatican spokesman indicated the President was coming but declined to say the visit was a certainty.

Pope Paul had issued a fresh call Friday for the United States to suspend bombing North Vietnam and for the Communists "to give a sign of serious will for peace." Reports from Rome and Washington said Johnson wanted to explain personally to Pope Paul why the United States is pursuing its course in Vietnam.

At Cam Ranh Bay—site of a bustling new harbor on the South China Sea and one of the most secure U.S. bases in South Vietnam—the President told 2,500 fighting men they are discharging U.S. responsibilities in Asia "with blood and sweat and bravery."

"It's not the shortest route back to the White House," he told them, "but because it is almost Christmas and because my spirit would be here with you anyway, I had to come.

"I wish I could have brought you something more than just the old man himself . . . some tangible symbol of the pride people feel in you back home."

THE PRESIDENT added that he brought "the assurance of what you have fought to achieve: The enemy cannot win now in Vietnam. He can harass, he can terrorize, he can inflict casualties, while taking far greater losses himself. But he cannot win. You have seen to that."

This Christmas, he said, "comes a time for testing for our country. This time it is a test of will: Whether we have the vision and the steady hand to see us through a grave challenge to freedom."

"I can bring you something more," he added, "news of a victory that is being won not on a battlefield but in cities and villages all over Asia. It is a victory of confidence. Because of what you and our allies are doing here, men throughout Asia are beginning to feel confident that the future belongs to them—to those who love peace."

Johnson had conferred with the heads of state of four Vietnam allies who flew to Australia for the Holt service. These were South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu, South Korea's President Chung Hee Park, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake and Premier Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand.

THE PRESIDENT also received assurances from Australia's interim prime minister, John McEwen, that Holt's death will not change Australia's pro-

The weather at Cam Ranh was crisp and bright with a thin haze softening the dull brown surrounding mountains as the blue and white Air Force One touched down and taxied up to where all the top U.S. and South Vietnamese military officials waited.

The President stepped off the plane wearing brown slacks, a khaki shirt and khaki windbreaker. He shed the jacket as the morning grew warmer.

Troops were drawn up in parade formation at the airstrip but before Johnson began to speak, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, shouted for them to break ranks and come in closer.

They happily jammed around the back of an Air Force trailer truck on which Johnson stood to give his address.

section of the span kept it from going into the creek.

The blaze in the auto was extinguished by the two officers, but Ohioville volunteer firemen were summoned to stand by. Two wrecker crews worked until 5 a. m. to free the demolished auto.

The officers said Gourley was injured, and was directed to obtain medical attention.

The first pole was snapped off about four feet from its base, and the top section was hanging from the wires. Bell Telephone Co. workers were at the site this morning completing repairs.

A passing motorist conveyed the report of the mishap to Midland Patrolmen Bud Cook and Eli Bratich who relayed the information to the Ohioville officers. Gourley faces a charge of reckless operation, police said.

Indiana Gridders Left Up In Air

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — There was a real hang-up Friday at Disneyland. The People Mover wouldn't move people, stranding the entire offensive unit of the Indiana football team in the air.

In all, about 500 persons were aloft 30 feet above the ground for two hours after mechanical failure halted the electric-powered cars—and Indiana's Rose Bowl bound Hoosiers.

Linda Strother, the Tournament of Roses queen, was among those stranded. The passengers were finally brought down on ladders.

"Our face is very red," said a park publicist.

2 Fined In Speeding And 3 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Two of five drivers charged with speeding were fined $10 and costs each Friday by Judge J. L. MacDonald in Columbiana County Southwest Court. The others forfeited appearance bonds.

Ralph W. DeLong of 230 Sherman St., Lisbon, and Dennis A. Bernard of Canton pleaded guilty.

Donald E. Coleman of 404 N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, forfeited $30 and Donald L. Shields of Minerva and William Frank of Warren, $20 each.

Local Youth To Face Jury

Keith Matheny, 18, of 1004 St. Clair Ave. has been bound over to the county grand jury at Lisbon on a charge of burglary.

The youth was in Juvenile Court Monday — his 18th birthday — in connection with burglaries early Dec. 14 at the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way, and at the new Sunoco station at St. Clair Ave. Ext. and Route 170 in Calcutta.

Judge Louis Tobin appointed counsel for the youth and set the preliminary hearing for Dec. 26. At a subsequent appearance, however, Matheny waived the preliminary hearing and asked to be bound over. He is in the County Jail in lieu of $1,500 bond.

Matheny was the prosecution's chief witness Wednesday at a Municipal Court hearing for Terry Wolfe, 18, of W. Drury Ln. and John W. (Bill) Finlay, 18, of 820 Highland Ave., who pleaded not guilty to a charge of burglary at the Petrosol station. Judge Samuel M. Cheroff bound them over to the grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each.

tract, seconded by Councilman Robert W. Sample. The motion passed unanimously.

The mayor said he does not know the exact dimensions of the property, but indicated it will more than double the size of the present parking lot. The existing lot has room for only one rank of cars in angle parking positions, accommodating about a dozen. It lies immediately to the east of the County Election Board's office.

About two years ago, Thompson donated to the city propery fronting on E. 3rd St. which was used, along with some other land acquired by the city, in enlarging the size of the so-called Ceramic Lot. The extension of the existing lot is known as the Ceramic Annex. The addition of space allowed the city to extend the lot all the way from E. 4h to E. 3rd St.

In making the announcement to Council, Willshaw said Thompson made two stipulations — that the present tenants in the business buildings be allowed three months' free rent and that the city take steps to raze the existing structures by the end of June.

Two of the structures are one story and the third — the one occupied by Weston's Meat Market — has two stories. It is the so - called Michels property, lying directly acrosss W. 6th St. from the point where Peach Alley deadends.

In explaining the transaction to Council, the mayor said:

"About three weeks ago, W. Leland Thompson came to me and asked if the city had made any progress in acquiring the property across the street to use for parking. I told him it had been discussed on several occasions, but no action could be taken for lack of funds. He said he would like to buy the property and donate it to the city for use as a parking lot."

Willshaw added that he had another conversation with Thompson Wednesday night and was told that the transaction would be concluded. He said the signature of one party has been obtained and papers have been forwarded to Cleveland for the signature of another, who has agreed to the transaction.

Council then voted to accept the proffered property and set the special meeting Tuesday night.

The existing W. 6th St. lot also is on the site of former business propery. The tract once was occupied by the former Bennett Grocery and a hamburger shop. The city acquired the tract, issuing bonds to cover the cost, and then paid off the loan with revenue from the meters.

Car Hits Pole, Lights Go Out

LISBON — Residents along the north side of Guilford Lake were without electricity for nearly 40 minutes Friday evening after a traffic accident.

A car driven by Ila Mable Hull, 38, of Lisbon RD 4, sheared an Ohio Edison pole and a General Telephone Co. pole on County Rd. 411 at the Floyd Stillson residence, where fire destroyed a three - car, two-story garage Thursday afternoon.

Constable Arnold Bruckner and Assistant James Allmon of Hanover Township said the driver escaped injury and drove the 1960 sedan home, although they considered it a total loss. She reported the accident about 6 p.m. from her home near the state park picnic pavilion.

The constable said she told him she was driving east about 40 miles an hour and glanced at the fire on her right. The Stinsons' winter coal pile was still burning from the fire the day before. The driver was cited to Columbiana County Southwest Court on a charge of reckless operation.

Electrical service was restored shortly after 6:30.

Navy fighter-bombers were shot down by ground fire Friday while flying missions over North Vietnam and both pilots are missing.

The locations were not revealed but among Navy pilot's targets Friday were the northern area of the demilitarized zone and a cargo transfer point near Thanh Hoa, about 80 miles south of Hanoi.

One of the planes was an A7 Corsair II,—the first new attack bomber to be shot down since the model went into combat earlier this month.

The two fighter-bombers brought to 769 the announced number of U.S. plane losses over North Vietnam.

The northeast monsoon restricted American air strikes over North Vietnam Friday, but Air Force pilots guided by radar hit Kep Airfield 98 miles northeast of Hanoi and a railroad yard 43 miles northwest of the North Vietnamese capital.

Marine pilots flying all-weather A6 intruders attacked the Yen Bai storage area 64 miles northwest of Hanoi and another supply point 15 miles northwest of Haiphong while Navy planes bombed military installations in the North Vietnamese panhandle.

American air power was expected to be grounded during the truce period, the first time it has been held back from action since the cease-fire on Buddha's birthday last May.

Although allied ground troops are not committed to observe the three-day truce declared by the Viet Cong, most field units began pulling back toward their home bases today, anticipating the one-day Christmas pause announced by the South Vietnamese government.

A UH1 helicopter flying U.S. infantrymen into a landing zone was ripped by guerrilla riflemen Friday, and crashed and burned. Troops of the 1st Infantry Division fought their way out of the zone and reported killing 10 enemy soldiers in the 10-minute battle 54 miles northwest of Saigon. American casualties were put at three helicopter crewmen and five soldiers wounded.

Johnson

bombers escaped, the U.S. Command said.

The command reported two

It was speculated that to save time and avoid contact with demonstrators, Johnson might take a helicopter from one of the two Rome airports to the Vatican.

Leaflets scattered in the streets by the Communist party read: "Johnson we don't want you. Babies are being killed in Vietnam, hospitals, schools, churches, cities, villages are being bombed. Men and women are being burned with napalm.

"Tortures like those done by the Nazis are being committed. They want to exterminate an entire people. From this is born the threat of world peace. Johnson, Christmas is not your day and '68 will not be your year."

The Vatican daily newspaper L'Osservatore Romano deplored a Communist party statement calling a stop by Johnson in Rome an "intolerable provocation." The newspaper assailed Communist plans for demonstrations.

An informed source in Madrid said Johnson's plane would refuel and he would spend tonight there on his way home. What began as a trip to memorial rites in Australia for Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, who has been given up for drowned, was turning into an around the world flight.

Washington sources believe this would be the first continuous around the world flight made by a President while in office. They said several, including Ulysses S. Grant, have traveled around the world but not while in office.

LEAVING Australia Johnson winged into the sprawling U.S. Air Force base at Khorat, Thailand, Friday, to visit airmen, snatched four hours sleep, touched down at Cam Ranh for 1¾ hours and bounded on.

In Rome, a Vatican spokesman indicated the President was coming but declined to say the visit was a certainty.

Pope Paul had issued a fresh call Friday for the United States to suspend bombing North Vietnam and for the Communists "to give a sign of serious will for peace." Reports from Rome and Washington said Johnson wanted to explain personally to Pope Paul why the United States is pursuing its course in Vietnam.

At Cam Ranh Bay—site of a bustling new harbor on the South China Sea and one of the most secure U.S. bases in South Vietnam—the President told 2,500 fighting men they are discharging U.S. responsibilities in Asia "with blood and sweat and bravery."

"It's not the shortest route back to the White House," he told them, "but because it is almost Christmas and because my spirit would be here with you anyway, I had to come.

"I wish I could have brought you something more than just the old man himself ... some tangible symbol of the pride people feel in you back home."

THE PRESIDENT added that he brought "the assurance of what you have fought to achieve: The enemy cannot win now in Vietnam. He can harass, he can terrorize, he can inflict casualties, while taking far greater losses himself. But he cannot win. You have seen to that."

This Christmas, he said, "comes a time for testing for our country. This time it is a test of will: Whether we have the vision and the steady hand to see us through a grave challenge to freedom."

"I can bring you something more," he added, "news of a victory that is being won not on a battlefield but in cities and villages all over Asia. It is a victory of confidence. Because of what you and our allies are doing here, men throughout Asia are beginning to feel confident that the future belongs to them—to those who love peace."

Johnson had conferred with the heads of state of four Vietnam allies who flew to Australia for the Holt service. These were South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu, South Korea's President Chung Hee Park, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake and Premier Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand.

THE PRESIDENT also received assurances from Australia's interim prime minister, John McEwen, that Holt's death will not change Australia's pro-

The weather at Cam Ranh was crisp and bright with a thin haze softening the dull brown surrounding mountains as the blue and white Air Force One touched down and taxied up to where all the top U.S. and South Vietnamese military officials waited.

The President stepped off the plane wearing brown slacks, a khaki shirt and khaki windbreaker. He shed the jacket as the morning grew warmer.

Troops were drawn up in parade formation at the airstrip but before Johnson began to speak, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, shouted for them to break ranks and come in closer.

They happily jammed around the back of an Air Force trailer truck on which Johnson stood to give his address.

section of the span kept it from going into the creek.

The blaze in the auto was extinguished by the two officers, but Ohioville volunteer firemen were summoned to stand by. Two wrecker crews worked until 5 a. m. to free the demolished auto.

The officers said Gourley was injured, and was directed to obtain medical attention.

The first pole was snapped off about four feet from its base, and the top section was hanging from the wires. Bell Telephone Co. workers were at the site this morning completing repairs.

A passing motorist conveyed the report of the mishap to Midland Patrolmen Bud Cook and Eli Bratich who relayed the information to the Ohioville officers. Gourley faces a charge of reckless operation, police said.

Indiana Gridders Left Up In Air

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — There was a real hang-up Friday at Disneyland. The People Mover wouldn't move people, stranding the entire offensive unit of the Indiana football team in the air.

In all, about 500 persons were aloft 30 feet above the ground for two hours after mechanical failure halted the electric-powered cars—and Indiana's Rose Bowl bound Hoosiers.

Linda Strother, the Tournament of Roses queen, was among those stranded. The passengers were finally brought down on ladders.

"Our face is very red," said a park publicist.

2 Fined In Speeding And 3 Others Forfeit

LISBON — Two of five drivers charged with speeding were fined $10 and costs each Friday by Judge J. L. MacDonald in Columbiana County Southwest Court. The others forfeited appearance bonds.

Ralph W. DeLong of 230 Sherman St., Lisbon, and Dennis A. Bernard of Canton pleaded guilty.

Donald E. Coleman of 404 N. Jefferson St., Lisbon, forfeited $30 and Donald L. Shields of Minerva and William Frank of Warren, $20 each.

Area Man Fined In Hotel Fracas

Terry Lee Thompson of Wellsville was found guilty of disorderly conduct at a hearing Friday before Justice of the Peace Steve Germusa at the Midland Borough Building. He was fined $55 and costs — which included a doctor bill for himself — as a result of a fracas at Love's Hotel, Midland, Sunday at 1 a. m.

He also has a charge facing him for obstructing an officer in his duties, if he returns to Midland within the next two years, Germusa ruled.

Police said Thompson created a disturbance at the hotel when he began throwing around microphones and instruments. The police had to use teargas to subdue him. He had been held in Midland and the Beaver County Jail since the incident.

Box Drops Off Car, Cash, Items Missing

A Steubenville resident lost $100 in cash, keys, towels, tools and hot pads when he inadvertently left a box on the top of his auto and drove home before realizing what he had done.

Orlando Marook, operator of Orlando's Pizza Shop at 633 Dresden Ave., notified police early today of the loss after he returned from Steubenville, retraced his route and found only the empty box in Rural Ln.

Marook said he left the shop about 1 a.m. and went to his car. He unlocked the door after setting a tomato box on top of the auto, got inside, left the box on the roof and drove to Steubenville. Realizing what had happened, he returned to East Liverpool, but was unable to locate the missing items.

The Virgin Islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus during his second voyage to the New World in 1493. He named them Las Virginies, in honor of St. Ursula and her 11,000 martyr companions who, according to the legend, perished on the banks of the Rhine.

Rate

talking about,' " Duffy replied. "Who's getting something out of this? The solicitor ruled that the ordinance is not dead. I think we should ask the state attorney general about his opinion. I think it is ridiculous. Why not take this case to Columbus and get both sides of the story? You know the gas company is not telling you all its inner workings."

—:—

"I SERVED on the committee that Mr. Duffy remarked about," James Lowe said. "We studied this proposition thoroughly. Some cities that went to Columbus are paying higher rates than what we have in this ordinance."

"We did a lot of investigating," Maylone said. He was chairman of the committee which negotiated with Ohio Valley officials from July until early December.

"Bellaire asked an informal study by officials of the PUCO and they are paying right now a rate that is as high as we will be paying in the fourth year of this agreement," Maylone continued.

"In every case I've seen that went to the PUCO, the decision called for a higher rate than what we will pay. You can't stop this thing by brute force. You have to sit down and negotiate. It's part of the national economic picture. This is a business and it has to work on a certain planned level to give the city proper service."

"I WAS ON the committee that met with the gas company," Murray said. "I agreed with the gas company, but after talking with the solicitor I learn that he seems to think we might get a better deal in Columbus. He said the rates in the third and fourth year of this agreement would really hurt the people. He wants to go to Columbus and I am willing to let him."

"We had the same situation in 1963," Duffy said. "We went to Columbus and fought this thing and the company got about half of what it asked for."

"In fairness, I think we should say that the city helped hire legal help for that hearing and it cost about $5,000," Murray replied.

As the discussion ended, Sample moved to suspend the rules and enact the ordinance immediately. He was seconded by James Lowe. The vote was 3-3. Ernest Lowe did not act to break the tie, explaining that four affirmative votes still would not be sufficient to enact the legislation.

When the legislation was presented for second reading last Monday night, only Sample and Maylone cast favorable votes. Duffy, Bucher and Murray voted "no," so the legislation was not read. Mrs. Wilson and James Lowe were absent.

IN ALL four years of the proposed agreement, the ordinance calls for a first step in the rate structure of 30 cents per 100 cubic feet. The second step in the structure is 8.1 cents per 100 in the first year; 8.2 cents per 100 in the second year, 8.3 cents per 100 in the third year and 8.4 cents per 100 in the fourth year. The final step in the structure is the same in all four years, 7.1 cents per 100. It also retains the present $2.65 per month minimum charge.

In other business, Council gave approval to two ordinances calling for $36,259 in year-end fund transfers. It also approved legislation authorizing purchase of a new car for use of councilmen and administration officials on city business. The new car will cost an estimated $2,500. Except for the gas ordinance, all the legislation was approved unanimously.

Patrol Cites Two In Mishaps For Drunken Driving

A Poland driver who reportedly did not stop after a collison on Route 30 and a Michigan trucker whose rig went off Route 30 near Route 7 were cited for drunken driving by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Lester K. Reeves, 25, of Poland was apprehended by officers a short time after a collision on Route 30 about three miles south of Lisbon at 8:45 p.m.

The patrol said he was headed north in a 1967 station wagon which went left of center and collided wih a southbound 1968 coach operated by Paul S. Kochis, 30, of Maple Heights.

Three witnesses who said Reeves continued on after the mishap relayed his license number to the patrol, and Reeves was halted as he drove out of Lisbon.

Leonard Black, 65, of Highland Park, Mich., was headed west on Route 30 and failed to halt for a stop sign about a half-mile south of Route 7 at 1:30 a.m.

His tractor - trailer truck went off the road and jackknifed.

Car Demolished, Two Wrecked In Newell Mishap

A Newell motorist who told Hancock County sheriff's deputies he began to fall asleep at the wheel early this morning, damaged his auto, demolished one parked car and caused moderate damage to a third vehicle while driving on Washington St., Newell.

Bennie H. Martin, 40, of 420 Jefferson St., was neither injured nor arrested in the 12:46 a.m. mishap on Washington St. between 3rd and 4th Sts.

Deputies reported Martin's 1965 auto struck a parked 1965 car owned by Carol Grimm of 144 Lewis Rd., Syracuse, N.Y., demolishing it. The Grimm auto was shoved into a second vehicle, also parked, owned by a Pennsylvania resident whose identity was not established immediately. His auto received about $250 damage.

Area Man Fined In Hotel Fracas

Terry Lee Thompson of Wellsville was found guilty of disordery conduct at a hearing Friday before Justice of the Peace Steve Germusa at the Midland Borough Building. He was fined $55 and costs — which included a doctor bill for himself — as a result of a fracas at Love's Hotel, Midland, Sunday at 1 a. m.

He also has a charge facing him for obstructing an officer in his duties, if he returns to Midland within the next two years, Germusa ruled.

Police said Thompson created a disturbance at the hotel when he began throwing around microphones and instruments. The police had to use teargas to subdue him. He had been held in Midland and the Beaver County Jail since the incident.

Box Drops Off Car, Cash, Items Missing

A Steubenville resident lost $100 in cash, keys, towels, tools and hot pads when he inadvertently left a box on the top of his auto and drove home before realizing what he had done.

Orlando Marook, operator of Orlando's Pizza Shop at 633 Dresden Ave., notified police early today of the loss after he returned from Steubenville, retraced his route and found only the empty box in Rural Ln.

Marook said he left the shop about 1 a.m. and went to his car. He unlocked the door after setting a tomato box on top of the auto, got inside, left the box on the roof and drove to Steubenville. Realizing what had happened, he returned to East Liverpool, but was unable to locate the missing items.

The Virgin Islands were discovered by Christopher Columbus during his second voyage to the New World in 1493. He named them Las Virginies, in honor of St. Ursula and her 11,000 martyr companions who, according to the legend, perished on the banks of the Rhine.

talking about,' " Duffy replied. "Who's getting something out of this? The solicitor ruled that the ordinance is not dead. I think we should ask the state attorney general about his opinion. I think it is ridiculous. Why not take this case to Columbus and get both sides of the story? You know the gas company is not telling you all its inner workings."

"I SERVED on the committee that Mr. Duffy remarked about," James Lowe said. "We studied this proposition thoroughly. Some cities that went to Columbus are paying higher rates than what we have in this ordinance."

"We did a lot of investigating," Maylone said. He was chairman of the committee which negotiated with Ohio Valley officials from July until early December.

"Bellaire asked an informal study by officials of the PUCO and they are paying right now a rate that is as high as we will be paying in the fourth year of this agreement," Maylone continued.

"In every case I've seen that went to the PUCO, the decision called for a higher rate than what we will pay. You can't stop this thing by brute force. You have to sit down and negotiate. It's part of the national economic picture. This is a business and it has to work on a certain planned level to give the city proper service."

"I WAS ON the committee that met with the gas company," Murray said. "I agreed with the gas company, but after talking with the solicitor I learn that he seems to think we might get a better deal in Columbus. He said the rates in the third and fourth year of this agreement would really hurt the people. He wants to go to Columbus and I am willing to let him."

"We had the same situation in 1963," Duffy said. "We went to Columbus and fought this thing and the company got about half of what it asked for."

"In fairness, I think we should say that the city helped hire legal help for that hearing and it cost about $5,000," Murray replied.

As the discussion ended, Sample moved to suspend the rules and enact the ordinance immediately. He was seconded by James Lowe. The vote was 3-3. Ernest Lowe did not act to break the tie, explaining that four affirmative votes still would not be sufficient to enact the legislation.

When the legislation was presented for second reading last Monday night, only Sample and Maylone cast favorable votes. Duffy, Bucher and Murray voted "no," so the legislation was not read. Mrs. Wilson and James Lowe were absent.

IN ALL four years of the proposed agreement, the ordinance calls for a first step in the rate structure of 30 cents per 100 cubic feet. The second step in the structure is 8.1 cents per 100 in the first year; 8.2 cents per 100 in the second year, 8.3 cents per 100 in the third year and 8.4 cents per 100 in the fourth year. The final step in the structure is the same in all four years, 7.1 cents per 100. It also retains the present $2.65 per month minimum charge.

In other business, Council gave approval to two ordinances calling for $36,259 in year-end fund transfers. It also approved legislation authorizing purchase of a new car for use of councilmen and administration officials on city business. The new car will cost an estimated $2,500. Except for the gas ordinance, all the legislation was approved unanimously.

Patrol Cites Two In Mishaps For Drunken Driving

A Poland driver who reportedly did not stop after a collison on Route 30 and a Michigan trucker whose rig went off Route 30 near Route 7 were cited for drunken driving by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Lester K. Reeves, 25, of Poland was apprehended by officers a short time after a collision on Route 30 about three miles south of Lisbon at 8:45 p.m.

The patrol said he was headed north in a 1967 station wagon which went left of center and collided wih a southbound 1968 coach operated by Paul S. Kochis, 30, of Maple Heights.

Three witnesses who said Reeves continued on after the mishap relayed his license number to the patrol, and Reeves was halted as he drove out of Lisbon.

Leonard Black, 65, of Highland Park, Mich., was headed west on Route 30 and failed to halt for a stop sign about a half-mile south of Route 7 at 1:30 a.m.

His tractor - trailer truck went off the road and jackknifed.

Car Demolished, Two Wrecked In Newell Mishap

A Newell motorist who told Hancock County sheriff's deputies he began to fall asleep at the wheel early this morning, damaged his auto, demolished one parked car and caused moderate damage to a third vehicle while driving on Washington St., Newell.

Bennie H. Martin, 40, of 420 Jefferson St., was neither injured nor arrested in the 12:46 a.m. mishap on Washington St. between 3rd and 4th Sts.

Deputies reported Martin's 1965 auto struck a parked 1965 car owned by Carol Grimm of 144 Lewis Rd., Syracuse, N.Y., demolishing it. The Grimm auto was shoved into a second vehicle, also parked, owned by a Pennsylvania resident whose identity was not established immediately. His auto received about $250 damage.

3 New Officers Are Elected For Lisbon Kiwanis

LISBON — The Kiwanis Club elected A. Monty Muntean president Thursday to succeed Ralph Rizzo, president - elect.

Also elected at the luncheon meeting in the Daughters of America Hall were Bennett D. Taylor Jr., first vice president, and the Rev. Fred Shiltz, second vice president.

Muntean was first vice president and would not have become president until 1969, but Rizzo, commander of the Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 here, was promoted to lieutenant and assigned to turnpike duty.

The three new officers will be installed in January.

Rev. Shiltz, pastor of the Lisbon and Elkton Methodist churches, talked to the club on "The Christmas Theme in Our Christianity."

The U.S. government operated without a formal budget system for more than a hundred years. President William H. Taft submitted the first federal budget to Congress in January 1912, but it was ignored. It was not until 1921 that the National Budget and Accounting Act was passed, providing for an annual federal budget.

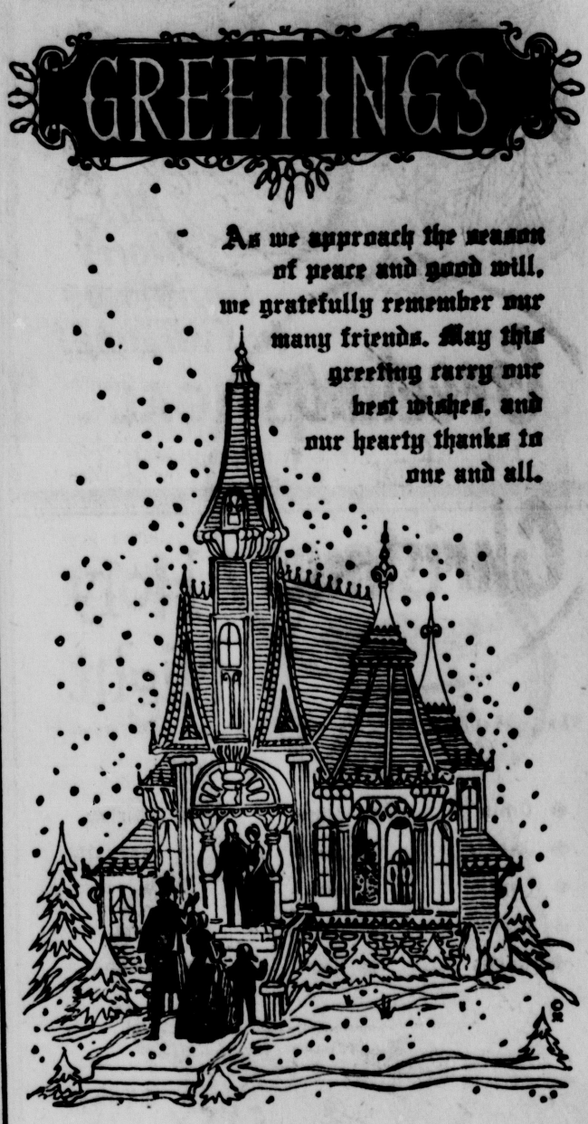
As we approach the season of peace and good will, we gratefully remember our many friends. May this greeting carry our best wishes, and our hearty thanks to one and all.



MONTGOMERY WARD

The Peace and Promise of Christmas

Humble shepherds and mighty kings gave witness to the wondrous event of the birth of the Christ Child, and knew the great joy and peace that fills every heart on Christmas Day. May this gladness and contentment remain with you and those near and dear to you, enriching your lives in fullest measure.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's First Lady celebrated her 55th birthday Friday at a party for White House staff members. Her husband, President Johnson, was absent.

The President had flown to Australia for memorial services for Prime Minister Harold E. Holt, and then traveled on to Thailand and Vietnam to visit U.S. troops.

Mrs. Johnson attended memorial services for Holt in Washington Cathedral Friday morning, before her birthday party began in the holiday-decorated East Room of the White House. Professional entertainment was provided, and Mrs. Johnson also led her guests in singing Christmas carols.

After the party, she spent the evening with her family—daughters Lynda and Luci, baby grandson Lyn and sons-in-law Charles Robb and Patrick Nugent.

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Dick Gregory, who says he's now 49 pounds lighter than when he began his Vietnam war protest by fasting since Thanksgiving Day, hopes to continue going without food until Jan. 1.

Gregory said Friday he had decided to extend the fast "in response to numerous communications I have received from all over the world."

Drinking nothing but distilled water since Thanksgiving when he weighed in at 158 pounds, he's now down to 109, Gregory said.

Gregory, a Negro, added "I will not cut my hair, shave or wear conventional clothes until the war in Vietnam is over." He's appearing at a Greenwich Village nightclub, heavily bearded and shaggy-haired.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Jacky Bayne, the young soldier pronounced dead in Vietnam but revived by an embalmer, hopes to spend Christmas day with his parents away from Columbia's Veterans Hostpial.

His doctors will permit the one-day leave "if his slight temperature comes down." Bayne has an infection and mild case of the flu.

Last July 16, the 22-year-old soldier from Fort Mill, N.C., was pronounced dead on a Vietnam battlefield. His pulse was noticed sometime later—how much later has not been determined.

Hospital officials say Bayne is making steady progress, talks well for short periods but still has not been told everything about that July day. Bayne also hasn't yet been formally awarded a Bronze Star he earned for "meritorious service" in Vietnam.

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Folksinger Johnny Cash has been ordered to pay $400 a month for child support, plus medical costs for his four children, ages 6 through 12, under terms of a divorce granted his wife Friday.

Vivian D. Cash charged extreme cruelty in her Superior Court divorce suit. She and Cash had married in San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 7, 1954.

Aspirants' Committee Lists $302 In Expense

A committee which supported the successful campaign of Thomas Rodfong and George Ward for two seats on the Board of Education spent $302.42 in the drive for votes at the Nov. 7 general election, according to a sworn statement of expenses on file with the County Election Board.

The report was filed by Alvin T. Babb, chairman of the Ward & Rodfong Campaign Committee.

Two more local aspirants filed the reports. Willis Standley reported he spent $39.70 in an unsuccessful bid for a Board of Education seat. Donald E. Smith, Democrat, said he spent $25 in an unsuccessful bid for the Third Ward Council seat.

County, Townships Get Shares Of Fund

Columbiana County and its various townships will receive $13,103 under the final distribution of 1966 auto license road mileage money announced by State Auditor Roger Cloud at Columbus.

The 9 per cent for a county is determined by the ratio of the miles of the highways in a county to the total of county highways in the state. The 5 per cent payment to the townships is based upon the ratio of township roads in a county to the statewide total miles of township roads.

Under this formula, Columbiana county receives $3,801 and the townships $9,302.

'Tis The Season To Be Merry'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — What do you do when your 5-year-old son wants a Christmas tree of his own but has to share his room with a 2-year-old brother who likes to crush the ornaments?

You hang the tree from the ceiling.

That was the solution devised by Harold R. Mitchell, an upholsterer who lives in suburban Mableton, after his wife tired of cleaning up the shattered wreckage.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Darwin Brown, who has been portraying Santa Claus for 49 years, 15 of them at a department store here, says "Santa never promises."

"If the parents don't plan for a particular gift," says Brown, "I don't want to build the child up to a letdown."

"Sometimes Santa forgets," he tells the children on his lap. "But you'll still love me just the same, won't you?" Or? "Sometimes my little men don't make enough to go around. But I'll try and also have other surprises for you."

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — The unpredictability of congressional adjournment is underlined by a Christmas greeting to Montanans from Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.

The note says in part, "unfortunately, this year Congress will stay in session until the end of the year and we will be unable to return home. So Donna (Mrs. Metcalf) and I will be spending a quiet Christmas here in Washington. . ."

Congress adjourned Dec. 16.

SEATTLE (AP) — There's more than meets the eye on two "Merry Christmas" signs erected over the Seattle Freeway by the Highway Department.

A volunteer who painted the signs added a symbol "in keeping with the spirit of the season."

Irving Bloom, a Jew, painted a small Star of David in the lower right hand corner of both signs.

Power Failure Hits Four States

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A far-reaching electrical power failure blacked out all of southern Idaho and parts of eastern Oregon, western Montana and northern Utah for periods up to 45 minutes late Friday night.

Bob Brown of the Idaho Power Co. said a 230,000-volt power line between the Oxbow and Brownlee Dams in western Idaho mountains apparently was brought down by heavy, wet snow.

Oregon as far west as Pendleton had short failures, but Baker and La Grande had longer outages. Dillon and Lima in western Montana had short power failures. Ogden and Farmington had power out for 35 minutes. Salt Lake City experienced failures scattered throughout the city varying from 15 to 30 minutes.

6 Inmates Pause For Gifts, Then Complete Break

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Six inmates of Nashville Metro Jail stood around unobtrusively, with a bound guard hidden under a bunk, while Salvation Army workers handed out Christmas gifts.

Then the daring team completed their escape from a third-floor cell block with a rope made of bed sheets Friday night.

Three of them were captured a short time later.

Rookie guard Ralph Cruz, 34, in his second day on the job, said he and trusty Ellis Baucom were walking along a corridor in the cell block when a prisoner held up a note to be sent out.

"This fellow asked me to open the door and I did," Cruz said. "Then they jumped us. One of them grabbed Baucom and had a knife at his throat.

"The next thing I knew, one of them had a knife in my throat and another had a knife in my back. They said, 'don't say anything or we'll kill you.' "

Cruz said the prisoners placed a gag over his mouth, tied him hand and foot and slid him under a bunk.

"They started to tie up Baucom, but some Salvation Army workers came through passing out Christmas gifts and they had to wait until they had passed through," Cruz said.

With the way once again clear, the prisoners forced Baucom to tell them which key unlocked the back door to the cell area, Cruz said. They used the big jail keys to pry open a window and let themselves down three floors by a rope made of about 50 bed sheets.

They were believed to have made their getaway in a paddy wagon which police were unable to account for early today.

Slopes of Japan's Mt. Fuji are crowded with as many as 18,000 hikers a day during July and August.

Vinson Massif is the highest peak in Antarctica; it rises 16,860 feet.

Oklahoma City, capital of Oklahoma, covers an area of about 631 square miles.

Health Department Issues Warning

Precautions Are Offered Against Monoxide Peril

In conjunction with the Ohio Department of Health, the city health department again has cautioned about carbon monoxide — the "silent killer."

Jack Bonner, health commissioner here, says "a few simple precautions may remove most of the danger"' and offers the following under various conditions:

IN THE HOME

Use only approved, rigid-metal piping, or special types of semi-rigid piping (or flexible - metal tubing, if approved by local authorities) to connect room heaters, cookstoves, refrigerators, clothes dryers, and similar gas-burning equipment to gas supply lines. Never use rubber hose for such connections.

Keep all fuel - burning equipment, flue pipes and chimneys in good condition.

Do not substitute one type of gas for another in any gas - burning appliance unless a qualified serviceman has made the necessary changes in the parts affected and has tested the operation and made necessary adjustments.

Make sure all furnaces, stoves and heaters are connected by proper-sized flue pipes to chimneys or other approved outlets to the outside air (except in cases where the equipment Standards without such connections).

Never try to change or interfere with the way an appliance was designed to be used. Keep all vents open. Don't try to patch gas pipes or tubing with tape, gum, or other weak and temporary materials.

Never operate furnaces, fireplaces, space heaters, or water heaters without providing some dependable means of supplying fresh air continuously to make up for the supply exhausted by burning.

Never tune up the power lawn mower or automobile in an enclosed space such as a closed garage; always start it out-of-doors.

IN THE CAR

Check automobile exhaust systems regularly, especially for blown-out gaskets, loose manifolds, leaking exhaust pipe connections and holes in mufflers.

Be sure the doors are open in the garage where [illegible] bile motor is run[illegible] allow the engine [illegible] than a few minutes [illegible] the garage door open.

Shut off the engine when sitting in a parked car for more than a few minutes, unless the windows are open.

In slow - moving, closely - spaced traffic, or while traveling through tunnels, keep air-intakes of car closed to be sure that carbon monoxide from the exhaust pipes of the cars in front will not collect in large amounts in your car.

Keep the motor tuned up and gas mixture properly adjusted, particularly in cold weather.

EMERGENCY TREATMENT

Despite precautions, people are overcome by carbon monoxide. When they are, here is the best emergency treatment to render, Bonner says:

1. — Remove the patient to fresh air. If this is not possible ventilate the room as completely and as quickly as possible.

2. — Begin artificial respiration (mouth-to-mouth recommended) at once. Have someone call a doctor and the fire department or police department for an inhalator.

3. — Keep the patient warm with blankets. Avoid use of stimulants such as coffee or tea, for they may strain the heart.

4.—Aid circulation by rubbing the arms and legs. See that the patient has rest and time to recover slowly in order to avoid any strain on the heart.

"Prevention is the best way to deal with any type of accident," Bonner concluded. "With carbon monoxide, it assumes special importance where infinitesimal amounts of the poison represent the difference between illness and death."

Relief Efforts Are Spurred For Navajos

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Rescue forces move out again today across the snow-bogged Navajo reservation with Christmas day as their target for completing a relief operations network across almost 16 million acres.

"If we don't get any more bad weather, we'll be able to make it a little brighter Christmas for some of the people," a Navajo tribal police official said.

Air and ground teams braved sub-zero temperatures and deep snow [illegible] to reach Navajos believed still trapped, and possibly [illegible] and sick, after eight days of winter storms which have claimed at least six lives.

Frank Chambers, assistant Navajo tribal police superintendent, said 20 helicopters would operate today out of bases in Arizona and from Gallup, N.M., to carry food, medicine, coal, hay, clothing and wood for fires.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., Air Force Col. Tracy J. Petersen, a 25-year flying veteran, says efforts he is heading to help snowbound Indians in northern Arizona is "one of the most difficult operations I have seen."

For the past week he has been directing a small army of men, aircraft and equipment to keep hundreds of Indians from perishing in one of Arizona's coldest winters.

"Most of northern Arizona is covered with 84 inches of snow," Petersen said. "The runways that are open are usually covered with ice and snow."

Since the Navajo operation started Dec. 15, more than 513 sorties have been flown by helicopter and transport pilots from 10 Air Force, Navy and Army bases in California, Nevada and New Mexico, he said. The mission includes 300 men.

A knot is a unit of speed equivalent to one nautical mile an hour.

Health Department Issues Warning

Precautions Are Offered Against Monoxide Peril

In conjunction with the Ohio Department of Health, the city health department again has cautioned about carbon monoxide — the "silent killer."

Jack Bonner, health commissioner here, says "a few simple precautions may remove most of the danger"' and offers the following under various conditions:

IN THE HOME

Use only approved, rigid-metal piping, or special types of semi-rigid piping (or flexible - metal tubing, if approved by local authorities) to connect room heaters, cookstoves, refrigerators, clothes dryers, and similar gas-burning equipment to gas supply lines. Never use rubber hose for such connections.

Keep all fuel - burning equipment, flue pipes and chimneys in good condition.

Do not substitute one type of gas for another in any gas - burning appliance unless a qualified serviceman has made the necessary changes in the parts affected and has tested the operation and made necessary adjustments.

Make sure all furnaces, stoves and heaters are connected by proper-sized flue pipes to chimneys or other approved outlets to the outside air (except in cases where the equipment Standards without such connections).

Never try to change or interfere with the way an appliance was designed to be used. Keep all vents open. Don't try to patch gas pipes or tubing with tape, gum, or other weak and temporary materials.

Never operate furnaces, fireplaces, space heaters, or water heaters without providing some dependable means of supplying fresh air continuously to make up for the supply exhausted by burning.

Never tune up the power lawn mower or automobile in an enclosed space such as a closed garage; always start it out-of-doors.

IN THE CAR

Check automobile exhaust systems regularly, especially for blown-out gaskets, loose manifolds, leaking exhaust pipe connections and holes in mufflers.

Be sure the doors are open in the garage where an automobile motor is running. Do not allow the engine to run more than a few minutes even with the garage door open.

Shut off the engine when sitting in a parked car for more than a few minutes, unless the windows are open.

In slow - moving, closely - spaced traffic, or while traveling through tunnels, keep air-intakes of car closed to be sure that carbon monoxide from the exhaust pipes of the cars in front will not collect in large amounts in your car.

Keep the motor tuned up and gas mixture properly adjusted, particularly in cold weather.

EMERGENCY TREATMENT

Despite precautions, people are overcome by carbon monoxide. When they are, here is the best emergency treatment to render, Bonner says:

1. — Remove the patient to fresh air. If this is not possible ventilate the room as completely and as quickly as possible.

2. — Begin artificial respiration (mouth-to-mouth recommended) at once. Have someone call a doctor and the fire department or police department for an inhalator.

3. — Keep the patient warm with blankets. Avoid use of stimulants such as coffee or tea, for they may strain the heart.

4.—Aid circulation by rubbing the arms and legs. See that the patient has rest and time to recover slowly in order to avoid any strain on the heart.

"Prevention is the best way to deal with any type of accident," Bonner concluded. "With carbon monoxide, it assumes special importance where infinitesimal amounts of the poison represent the difference between illness and death."

Relief Efforts Are Spurred For Navajos

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Rescue forces move out again today across the snow-bogged Navajo reservation with Christmas day as their target for completing a relief operations network across almost 16 million acres.

"If we don't get any more bad weather, we'll be able to make it a little brighter Christmas for some of the people," a Navajo tribal police official said.

Air and ground teams braved sub-zero temperatures and deep snow drifts to reach Navajos believed still trapped, and possibly hungry and sick, after eight days of winter storms which have claimed at least six lives.

Frank Chambers, assistant Navajo tribal police superintendent, said 20 helicopters would operate today out of bases in Arizona and from Gallup, N.M., to carry food, medicine, coal, hay, clothing and wood for fires.

At Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., Air Force Col. Tracy J. Petersen, a 25-year flying veteran, says efforts he is heading to help snowbound Indians in northern Arizona is "one of the most difficult operations I have seen."

For the past week he has been directing a small army of men, aircraft and equipment to keep hundreds of Indians from perishing in one of Arizona's coldest winters.

"Most of northern Arizona is covered with 84 inches of snow," Petersen said. "The runways that are open are usually covered with ice and snow."

Since the Navajo operation started Dec. 15, more than 513 sorties have been flown by helicopter and transport pilots from 10 Air Force, Navy and Army bases in California, Nevada and New Mexico, he said. The mission includes 300 men.

A knot is a unit of speed equivalent to one nautical mile an hour.

Says Outlook Brightens

'Progress To Accelerate,' Bunker Says Of Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The allies in Vietnam have made progress in the last eight months, U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker says, and are now at a point "where we can reasonably expect progress to accelerate."

According to the white-haired, 73-year-old career diplomat, who took his post here in April, this means chances are better than before to end the war.

But he added: "I don't know of anything in the immediate offing which indicates a change in the (Communists') attitude" toward negotiation.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Bunker touched on the possibility that the fighting would just fade out and said, "It's certainly one possibility.

"But I think it's also a possibility that the North Vietnamese may come to the point where they are aware of the fact that they can't win the war and therefore may want to negotiate the best kind of settlement they can."

Bunker said South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu "has the feeling they will try to hang on at least through the U.S. presidential elections, so that the chances for negotiations until then are not particularly good. This may be quite true, I don't know. One never knows."

In any case, he said, "they will be no more successful than they have been in the past."

Bunker was asked about suggestions from some U.S. politicians that the war should be extended into Cambodia and Laos to cut down Communist infiltration into South Vietnam. He replied that American policy does not allow such a move.

"We're fighting a limited war with limited objectives, therefore with limited resources and with restraint. There's no change in policy."

Asked how infiltration could be lessened, Bunker said: "We're trying to stop it by bombing the North. In North Vietnam we're making it constantly more difficult to infiltrate. We're always trying to think of new ideas, trying to use imagination."

Assessing the government of President Nguyen Van Thieu, the ambassador said it was hard for him to say if Thieu's government had lived up to expectations. He said Thieu had outlined "a very good program" but that "it's difficult to expect concrete actions until it is organized and until it is underway." He did not indicate when this would be.

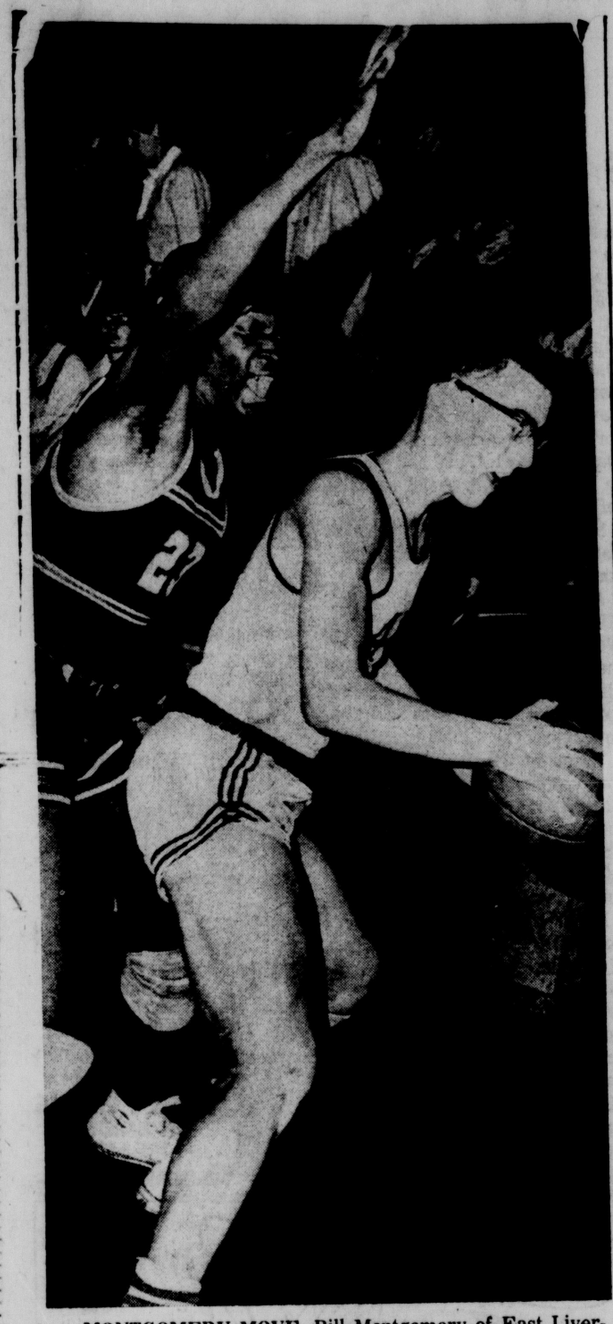
Potters Continue Unbeaten, Down Aliquippa 57-49



MONTGOMERY MOVE. Bill Montgomery of East Liverpool controls the ball despite intimidation by John Thomas of Aliquippa. The Potters refused to be intimidated and won 57-49 at the M.A. last night.

Montgomery Sets Point Pace

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Making very few mistakes, the East Liverpool Potters overcame their toughest foe of the season Friday night, beating Aliquippa, 57-49, at Memorial Auditorium.

The win was the fifth straight for Clint McConnell's cagers, while Frank Janosik's five lost its second in six starts. Bill Montgomery, deadly from his favorite spot in the left corner, led the Potters with 16, while Earl Diddle added 13, Rick Steffen and Jerry Christian 10.

Mitchell Jones, in foul trouble most of the game, got only six points but was high rebounder with 12. Dale Jones, his replacement, played quite well and grabbed six rebounds in his stay in the game. Mike McVay, the only other local cager to see action, appeared briefly in the second period but looked very rusty. It was the first appearance of the season for McVay, who suffered a knee injury in the final football game of the season. Bruce Christian, also injured in that game, was dressed, but did not make an appearance.

Charles Pipkin was almost the whole show for the invaders, swishing the cords for 26 points, 17 in the first half. The tough Potter man-to-man defense forced the 'Quips to shoot from outside and they hit only 33 per cent of their shots. The Potters, led by Montgomery and Steffen, were connecting from outside, and ended up with 42 per cent.

The difference between the teams was poise, noted McConnell after the game. "We had the poise and they didn't". He had special praise for Dale Jones, who has not seen too much action this year, but who performed like a veteran when he entered the fray.

After a 2-2 tie the Potters drew away to 10-6, but two shots in a row by Pipkin gave the Indians their only lead of the game, 11-10. Montgomery broke a 13-13 tie with a long shot just as the first quarter ended and it was 19-13 before Pipkin could retaliate. With the score 25-19 Pipkin made four fouls to bring it close and it got to 27-26 before a technical foul gave Diddle three chances at the foul. He made two and a basket by Montgomery made it 31-26 at halftime.

Jerry Christian led a third quarter surge that made it 43-29, but Pipkin and Co. came back and it was only 45-40 early in the last stanza. With 5:35 left Mitchell Jones fouled out and with the score 47-41 the Potters stalled until they lost the ball with 4:10 to go. Pipkin scored, and Aliquippa regained possession. The 'Quips had four shots to get within two, but losing their poise they took bad shots, and Dale Jones finally got a rebound and was fouled. He made it and then Diddle made a brace of fouls with 2:33 to go and the margin never got under five the rest of the way. Diddle made seven points in the last period.

The Potters committed 15 turnovers, six in the last period when Aliquippa started to press, while Aliquippa lost the ball 11 times during the game. The home team controlled the boards by a 52-39 margin. Dwight Kenner, 6-6 center for the visitors, was high for them with 11 rebounds, but he was blanked from the field. He played a high pivot and mostly passed off, but no one except Pipkin could hit.

The Potters return to action Wednesday when they host Youngstown Ursuline.

DIDDLE DILEMMA. Earl Diddle (12) of East Liverpool appears surrounded by Dwight Kenner (41) and Sam Milanovich of Aliquippa, but he managed to get rid of the ball. Potters topped the Quips 57-49.

Reserves' Win Skein Snapped

A long winning streak ended for the East Liverpool reserve team last night as it fell to the Aliquippa reserves 53-44.

East Liverpool had not lost a reserve game since the 1965-66 season, having won 17 in a row last year and four this year. Aliquippa now shows a 4-2 mark.

A failure to control the backboards and an abysmal performance at the foul line were the contributing factors in the loss. Aliquippa had a 42-29 rebounding margin and the Little Potters hit on only 6 of 19 foul tries for 32 per cent. They connected on 50 per cent of their field goal attempts, but Aliquippa was also hot, with 42 per cent.

The home team led 41-40 with 5:50 left in the game, but a basket by Bruce Okendine gave the visitors a lead they never lost and they quickly extended into 48-41 as the reserves went scoreless until 3:05 remained. It was 48-44 with 2:55 to go but Frank Melchiorre's club could not score again.

Jack Melvin led the locals with 20 points and 10 rebounds and Al Parson scored 10. Bob Sellari hit 15 points and bagged 17 rebounds for Aliquippa and Isaac (Ike) Tyler added 11 points.

Melvin scored 10 points in the first period as the locals trailed most of the quarter but led 12-11 at the end. Aliquippa went scoreless for over eight minutes until 2:13 remained in the half as EL scored 18 points in a row to take a 25-11 lead. It was 28-17 at halftime and in the second half the 'Quips switched to a 1-2-2 zone with Tyler at the point and this stymied the Potters' attack. They got off only six shots in the third period, but made five to keep the lead. Aliquippa, led by George Durham, who came off the bench to make four quick baskets, hit on nine of their first 10 shots in the period. They tied the game at 35-35 but the locals led 39-35 going into the final stanza. But Liverpool lost the ball eight times, was outrebounded 17-8 and went 1-7 at the foul line in this disastrous eight minutes, and not surprisingly was outscored 18-5.

Two Texas Teams Seek Super Bowl

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Eyes of Texas figure to get a heavy workout tonight and Sunday as Houston and Dallas shoot for Eastern supremacy in pro football's emotion-charged Super Bowl countdown.

Houston's title-thirsty Oilers can clinch the Eastern Division crown in the American Football League tonight at Miami by beating or tying the improved Dolphins. If the Oilers stumble, the New York Jets can force an Eastern playoff next week by getting past San Diego Sunday on the West Coast.

The Oakland Raiders, who pocketed the Western Division title three weeks ago, will entertain the Eastern survivor in the AFL championship game either next Sunday, if there is no Jets-Oilers playoff, or the following week.

At Dallas Sunday, the Cowboys tackle the Cleveland Browns for the Eastern Conference berth in the National Football League championship game next week. The Eastern champs will meet the winner of today's Western Conference title showdown between Los Angeles and Green Bay.

At the end of the playoff trail is the rich AFL—NFL Super Bowl clash Jan. 14 at Miami.

Wally Lemm's Houston club, which finished in a last-place tie with Miami in the AFL Eastern race a year ago, has rebounded behind a tough defense, the running of Hoyle Granger and the field leadership of quarterback Pete Beathard, acquired from Kansas City in mid-season.

The Oilers have won four of their last five games—including a 17-14 squeeze over Miami at home—in their drive to capture the Eastern pennant for the first time since 1963.

However, the young Dolphins also have been on the upswing, taking three of their last four starts behind the rookie passing combination of Bob Griese and Jack Clancy.

Granger, with 1,034 rushing yards, has an outside chance of overtaking AFL leader Jim Nance of Boston, who finished with 1,216. Griese has thrown 98 straight passes without an interception—30 short of the league mark set six years ago by Boston's Butch Songin.

Unless Miami repulses the Oiler title thrust, the Jets will merely run through the motions at San Diego Sunday, as will the Raiders and Buffalo Bills in their regular season finale at Oakland.

If New York still has a life, however, quarterback Joe Namath will shoot the works for the Jets despite a broken cheekbone suffered in last Sunday's 38-29 loss to Oakland.

Namath will be throwing to George Sauer and Don Maynard, the AFL's 1-2 pass receivers, as the Jets seek to end a three-game losing string and a six-year winless skein at San Diego.

Sunday's NFL collision at Dallas pairs two clubs who have been dominant in the Eastern Conference for the past four years. The Cowboys won the Capitol Division crown this season after finishing first in the East in 1966. The Browns, who won the Eastern title in 1964 and 1965, represent the Century Division this time around.

The game pits two brilliant but battered quarterbacks — Frank Ryan of the Browns and Don Meredith of Dallas—against each other.

Ryan was held out of the Browns' regular season finale against Philadelphia last week with a bruised left forearm but has been sharp in practice all this week. The graying veteran also has weathered ankle, shoulder and forearm ailments —still has fired 20 touchdown passes.

Meredith, who missed all or part of four games earlier in the year with injuries, sat out the second half of the Cowboys' game against San Francisco last week with a strained knee.

The Browns have the NFL's top running combination in Leroy Kelly, the rushing champion with 1,205 yards, and Ernie Green. But Dallas' Doomsday Defense, led by towering Bob Lilly and George Andrie, held the Cleveland ground game to a net of minus-five yards in a 21-14 season-opening conquest of the Browns.

Beaver Falls Tops Wellsville

Wellsville ventured into Pennsylvania last night and came away with a 77-64 loss to Beaver Falls.

The Tigers of Bob Dawson are now 3-3 while the Tigers of Frank Chan are now 5-1.

The game was an endless parade to the foul line, with 55 fouls being called and 80 free throws being attempted. Five players fouled out, including Jerry Wyse and Mark Powell of the losers in the third period.

The home team led all the way, but Wellsville trailed only 21-20 with 3:13 left in the first half but fell behind 39-24 at halftime.

Both teams hit 33 per cent of their shots but Beaver Falls dominated the boards 54-36. Tom McClain had 10 rebounds for the losers and also scored 10 points as did Dan Sedor and Terry Kornbau. Paul Hood was high for Wellsville with 18.

Bill Ross took game honors with 20, Dan Davis had 13, Darrel Jones 12 and Jerome Johnson and John Barr 11 each for the men of Chan.

In the reserve game Beaver Falls won 64-56 despite 19 points by Paul Martin. Ken Wagoner and Ed Kopka had 16 each and Rod Fruth 14 for the winners. The loss was the second for the Wellsville reserves against four wins while the Beaver Falls reserves are 6-1.

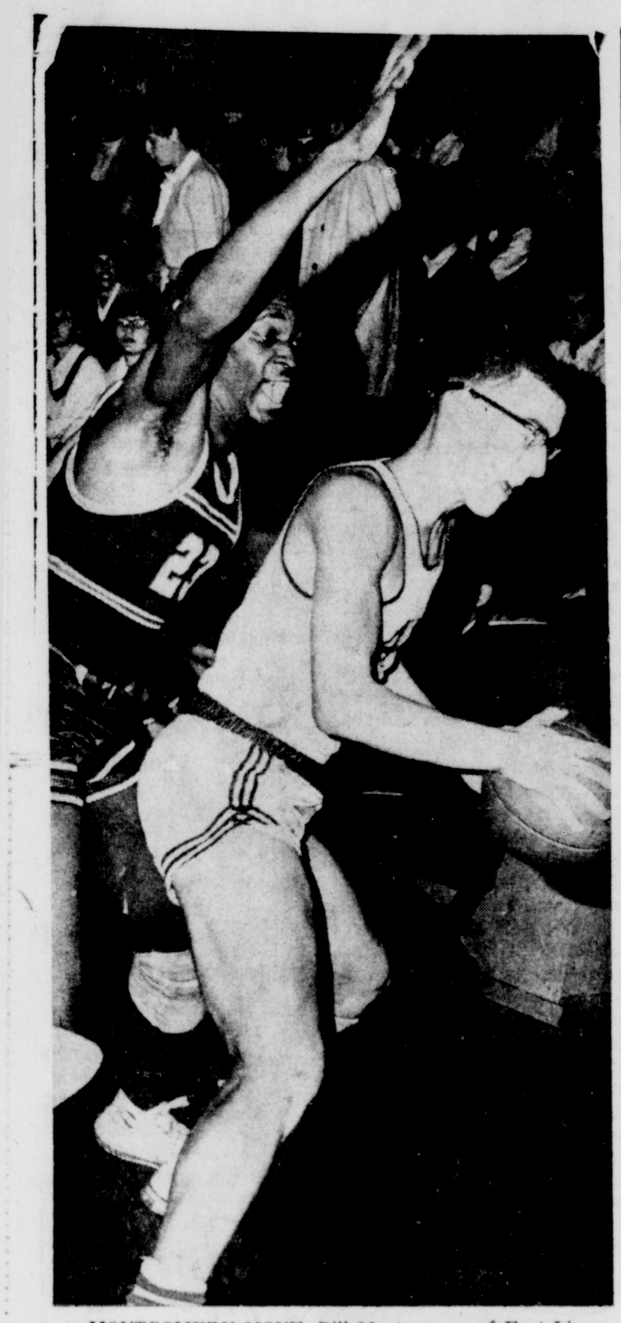
Potters Continue Unbeaten, Down Aliquippa 57-49



MONTGOMERY MOVE. Bill Montgomery of East Liverpool controls the ball despite intimidation by John Thomas of Aliquippa. The Potters refused to be intimidated and won 57-49 at the M.A. last night.

Montgomery Sets Point Pace

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Making very few mistakes, the East Liverpool Potters overcame their toughest foe of the season Friday night, beating Aliquippa, 57-49, at Memorial Auditorium.

The win was the fifth straight for Clint McConnell's cagers, while Frank Janosik's five lost its second in six starts. Bill Montgomery, deadly from his favorite spot in the left corner, led the Potters with 16, while Earl Diddle added 13, Rick Steffen and Jerry Christian 10.

Mitchell Jones, in foul trouble most of the game, got only six points but was high rebounder with 12. Dale Jones, his replacement, played quite well and grabbed six rebounds in his stay in the game. Mike McVay, the only other local cager to see action, appeared briefly in the second period but looked very rusty. It was the first appearance of the season for McVay, who suffered a knee injury in the final football game of the season. Bruce Christian, also injured in that game, was dressed, but did not make an appearance.

Charles Pipkin was almost the whole show for the invaders, swishing the cords for 26 points, 17 in the first half. The tough Potter man-to-man defense forced the 'Quips to shoot from outside and they hit only 33 per cent of their shots. The Potters, led by Montgomery and Steffen, were connecting from outside, and ended up with 42 per cent.

The difference between the teams was poise, noted McConnell after the game. "We had the poise and they didn't". He had special praise for Dale Jones, who has not seen too much action this year, but who performed like a veteran when he entered the fray.

After a 2-2 tie the Potters drew away to 10-6, but two shots in a row by Pipkin gave the Indians their only lead of the game, 11-10. Montgomery broke a 13-13 tie with a long shot just as the first quarter ended and it was 19-13 before Pipkin could retaliate. With the score 25-19 Pipkin made four fouls to bring it close and it got to 27-26 before a technical foul gave Diddle three chances at the foul. He made two and a basket by Montgomery made it 31-26 at halftime.

Jerry Christian led a third quarter surge that made it 43-29, but Pipkin and Co. came back and it was only 45-40 early in the last stanza. With 5:35 left Mitchell Jones fouled out and with the score 47-41 the Potters stalled until they lost the ball with 4:10 to go. Pipkin scored, and Aliquippa regained possession. The 'Quips had four shots to get within two, but losing their poise they took bad shots, and Dale Jones finally got a rebound and was fouled. He made it and then Diddle made a brace of fouls with 2:33 to go and the margin never got under five the rest of the way. Diddle made seven points in the last period.

The Potters committed 15 turnovers, six in the last period when Aliquippa started to press, while Aliquippa lost the ball 11 times during the game. The home team controlled the boards by a 52-39 margin. Dwight Kenner, 6-6 center for the visitors, was high for them with 11 rebounds, but he was blanked from the field. He played a high pivot and mostly passed off, but no one except Pipkin could hit.

The Potters return to action Wednesday when they host Youngstown Ursuline.

Will Face Rangers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Boston Bruins are expected to start Andre Gill, a 26-year-old goalie, against the New York Rangers in a National Hockey League game tonight.

Reserves' Win Skein Snapped

A long winning streak ended for the East Liverpool reserve team last night as it fell to the Aliquippa reserves 53-44.

East Liverpool had not lost a reserve game since the 1965-66 season, having won 17 in a row last year and four this year. Aliquippa now shows a 4-2 mark.

A failure to control the backboards and an abysmal performance at the foul line were the contributing factors in the loss. Aliquippa had a 42-29 rebounding margin and the Liftle Potters hit on only 6 of 19 foul tries for 32 per cent. They connected on 50 per cent of their field goal attempts, but Aliquippa was also hot, with 42 per cent.

The home team led 41-40 with 5:50 left in the game, but a basket by Bruce Okendine gave the visitors a lead they never lost and they quickly extended into 48-41 as the reserves went scoreless until 3:05 remained. It was 48-44 with 2:55 to go but Frank Melchiorre's club could not score again.

Jack Melvin led the locals with 20 points and 10 rebounds and Al Parson scored 10. Bob Sellari hit 15 points and bagged 17 rebounds for Aliquippa and Isaac (Ike) Tyler added 11 points.

Melvin scored 10 points in the first period as the locals trailed most of the quarter but led 12-11 at the end. Aliquippa went scoreless for over eight minutes until 2:13 remained in the half as EL scored 18 points in a row to take a 25-11 lead. It was 28-17 at halftime and in the second half the 'Quips switched to a 1-2-2 zone with Tyler at the point and this stymied the Potters' attack. They got off only six shots in the third period, but made five to keep the lead. Aliquippa, led by George Durham, who came off the bench to make four quick baskets, hit on nine of their first 10 shots in the period. They tied the game at 35-35 but the locals led 39-35 going into the final stanza. But Liverpool lost the ball eight times, was outrebounded 17-8 and went 1-7 at the foul line in this disastrous eight minutes, and not surprisingly was outscored 18-5.

Midland Whips Burgettstown, Evens Record At 3-3

104 Shots Taken By Leopard Team

By JOHN MUELLER

The Midland Leopards rolled over Union High School of Burgettstown, 86-38, snapping a two-game losing streak, at the Midland gym Friday night.

Both teams were guilty of mistakes, but the Leopards had the desire which paid off. Midland picked off 85 rebounds to the visitors 30, despite the fact Union had a fair edge in height.

The 86 points represents the highest total the Leopards have run up this season.

Midland set a new team record on its way to the one-sided victory as they sprayed the backboards and nets with 104 shots hitting on 33 for a 31.7 percentage. The old record was 101 attempts.

Burgettstown made 10 field goals in 69 attempts for a 14.5 percentage.

The Leopard defense was responsible for the Burgettstown low field goal total as they hounded big 6-5 Koroses and sharp shooter Chal Mahoney to force the Blue Devil stars to take most of their shots from an off - balance position. Mahoney managed to garner four baskets and three of them came in the final period. Koroses picked up just one.

The Leopard offense rolled on an even keel for three periods as they steadily opened a wide margin. They led 16-7 at the quarter, 33-17 at the intermission and 52-25 at the three-quarter mark. The start of the final period was normal but it ended on a high note as the Leopards broke loose for an amazing 34 - point spree to win going away. Dave Franitti led the final period barrage with 11 points.

The opening session started as though it would be a slow contest. Following Bob Needs' opening field goal at the 7:49 mark, the teams were determined to commit fouls.

Mahoney made three straight foul conversions to give the Blue Devils their only lead of the night, 3-2 at the 6:43 mark. He made it 4-2 with his fourth straight at 6:18. Howard Leak sank a pair a 6:12 to tie the score and added another at 5:22 and the Leopards were ahead to stay 5-4. From that point on the big question was the margin of the win.

Burgettstown was held without a field goal until the 7:41 mark of the second period when Korosec connected.

Despite the numerous fouls called, only one player was waved to the side lines, Korosec with 5:49 to play in the final stanza.

Four Leopards hit double figures as Bob Needs and Dave Vanlier each chalked up 18 points to share scoring honors with Mahoney. Franitti had 14, Leak added 13 and Ray Cerasi had 10.

Mahoney was the only player in double figures, for the Blue Devils as he tallied 18. Harvey Simmons had six on three field goals, all in the second half.

Coach Larry Bender's JV's also had an easy time of it as they racked up the visiting JV's 66-24.

Franitti and Mike Drakutich each scored nine points. Eleven of the 12 players that saw action hit the scoring column.

The Leopards next tests will come in the Midland Holiday Tournament Thursday and Friday, Dec. 28 and 29. The Leopards are defending champions.

Simmy Hill Drops To 11 In Scoring

Midland's Simmy Hill has dropped to 11th nationally in scoring, averaging 28.3 for West Texas State.

Ohio players in the Top 50 are Fred Foster of Miami 10th, Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green 36th and Steve Mix of Toledo 38th. Ron Williams of West Virginia is 44th. George (Butch) Zatezalo, who was a high scorer at Center Twp. High School in Beaver County, is averaging 24.0 for Clemson to rank 34th.

Williams is sixth in free throw percentage and Mix is 18th in field goal percentage. Don May of Dayton is eighth in rebounding and Dave Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is fourth in rebounding.

Toledo has dropped to fifth in scoring with a 98.4 mark, and St. Francis of Pennsylvania is right behind. Dayton is 14th in defense and Ohio State 18th.

Miami is fourth in field goal percentage and Toledo fifth in average scoring margin over opponents.

Oiler Rookie Is Defensive Back In AFL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George Webster admits he's pleased as punch that his success with Houston's Oilers has made him the Defensive Rookie of the Year in the American Football League, but he's somewhat leery about it, too.

Webster, who backs up the left side of the Oilers' defensive line, says the honor announced Friday by The Associated Press adds that much more to the pressures of an AFL game.

"If I don't play well, people will wonder why I got it," he said. Dubbed "a once in a lifetime rookie" by Houston coach Wally Lemm, Webster was the unanimous choice of a panel of sports writers and broadcasters as the AFL's outstanding defensive first-year man.

Webster, who joins the Oilers tonight in a season-ending game against the Miami Dolphins, said he was "very happy and very honored to be chosen from all the rookies in the league."

He swept all 27 votes in balloting by three-man committees in each of the AFL's nine league cities.

An All-American at Michigan State last year, Webster's move into the pro ranks was preceded by a wave of ballyhoo. And the 6-foot-4, 220-pound strongboy lived up to every word of it.

Panthers Upset Temple, 80-63

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Duquesne rolled to its sixth straight basketball victory as expected but Pitt came up with the unexpected.

The Panthers surprised Temple 80-63 Friday night as five players hit in the double figures.

Duquesne walloped St. Mary's of California 83-59.

Bob Petrini led Pitt to its second victory in four outings with 17 points. The Owls, 5-2, were led by John Baum who scored 14.

Duquesne's Moe Barr scored 26 points in leading the Dukes to their victory. They have lost one game.

Hays Sparks Houston Rally

UCLA Rips Bradley, Gains No. 38

By The Associated Press

UCLA crushed previously unbeaten Bradley 109-73 for its 38th straight victory, but Coach Johnny Wooden of the National Collegiate Basketball Champions feared for a few minutes that he had lost towering Lew Alcindor.

Mr. A., as the agile 7-footer is known on the UCLA campus, was accidentally hit in the right eye soon after the start of the second half of the game in Los Angeles Friday night.

Wooden sent his collegiate Player of the Year to the sidelines within a few minutes rather than take any chances. The injury turned out to be minor and big Lew will be back in action tonight against Notre Dame.

Before he left with 13 minutes left to play, Alcindor had scored 13 points and more importantly blocked 11 shots. Wooden soon took out his other regulars, but the 10th-ranked Braves from Peoria, Ill., couldn't stop the subs either.

UCLA hadn't played in two weeks and Wooden said the regulars "got tired. We were rusty from our layoff and I was surprised we shot as well as we did." The Bruins made 50 of 99 shots from the field.

Before the game, Bradley Coach Joe Stowell said "eight straight home game wins and then UCLA on the road-wow." Afterwards he praised UCLA as the best team he has seen. "We got more open shots than we thought we would, but except for Allen missed most of them."

Joe Allen finished high for the game with 31 points. Mike Warren, with 24, and Mike Lynn, with 22, led UCLA in snapping Bradley's eight-game winning streak.

Elvin Hayes, the Big E, broke loose for 10 points in the last three minutes to pace unbeaten Houston, second ranked to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, to an 81-76 victory over Arizona at Tucson, Ariz. Hayes finished with 28 points in leading the Cougars to their ninth in a row.

Third-ranked Vanderbilt, paced by Tom Hagan's 22 points, whipped Seton Hall 85-67 in the first round of the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville, Tenn., after Oregon had downed Wake Forest 76-58.

Seventh-ranked Kentucky, the only other team in the Top Ten to see action, blew an 18-point lead but came on again to beat Dayton 88-85 in the first round of the UK Invitational at Lexington, Ky. Two free throws by Dan Issel and a basket by Thad Jaracz in the last 18 seconds gave Adolph Rupp the 365th victory of his coaching career after Dayton, down 41-23, had rallied to tie at 83-83 with 90 seconds left.

South Carolina edged Cincinnati 64-61 in the other UK first-round game.

Arizona State held off a late Michigan rally and beat the Wolverines 92-91 in the final of the Sun Devil Classic at Phoenix, Ariz., after Oregon State took third place with a 49-48 squeaker over Oklahoma State.

Texas at El Paso rallied in the second half to beat San Francisco 81-61 in the final of the Sun Carnival Classic at El Paso after Southern Illinois edged Maryland 73-72 in overtime for third place.

Pistol Pete Maravich, son of Louisiana State coach Press Maravich, set a season high of 58 points in leading the Tigers over Mississippi State at Baton Rouge. Maravich got 42 of his points in the second half and set an SEC record. Bob Pettit, LSU's All-American of 13 years ago, had set the previous SEC single-game mark of 57 points in 1954.

Celtics Win 6th Straight To Take Over First Place

By The Associated Press

It's the same old device. But it still works. And the Boston Celtics are once again one-half game in front of Philadelphia in the Eastern Division standings of the National Basketball Association.

"There's no trick to it," Philadelphia coach Alex Hannum once said of the Celtics' favorite gambit. "They just run your legs off and shoot your eyes out."

That was the formula Friday night, the Celtics putting together one of their patented scoring bursts to wipe out a 14-point deficit and storm to a 120-117 victory over Cincinnati. It was Boston's sixth straight victory.

Baltimore whipped Chicago 117-112, Seattle topped New York 120-108, Los Angeles drubbed Deroit 133-105, and San Francisco edged San Diego 103-97 in other NBA action. Anaheim nipped Denver 108-102 in the only American Basketball Association game.

Boston, now 24-7 and one-half game ahead of idle Philadelphia, trailed Cincinnati 62-52 at halftime and 66-52 in the opening moments of the third period.

But they reeled off 41 points in a third-period explosion and took it going away. They hit 18 of 27 shots from the field in the big third period, John Havlicek scoring 15 points and Sam Jones 10.

Havlicek had 27 points for the night, Jones 20 and Bailey Howell 24 for the Celtics. Oscar Robertson of the Royals led with 36.

Rookie Earl Monroe scored a career high 33 points for Baltimore, which extended its winning string to three straight. Chicago pulled to within two points, 104-102, with three minutes left, but Stan McKenzie hit seven straight Baltimore points to quell the rally. McCoy McLemore led the Bulls with 28 points.

Rookie Al Tucker scored 31 points and Bob Rule, another rookie, poured in 20 and grabbed 27 rebounds to pace the Seattle victory. Dick Barnett topped New York with 20.

Elgin Baylor scored 25, Archie Clark 23 and Jerry West 21 for Los Angeles which opened up a 31-14 lead and coasted home. Len Chappell, who hit 11 of 12 field goal attempts, led Detroit with 28 points.

Some great defensive play by Al Attles helped San Francisco pull away from San Diego in the last two minutes. Rudy LaRusso led the winning Warriors with 26 points. Rookie John Block got 24 for the Rockets.

Bob Bedell scored 11 of his 15 points and John Fairchild got all of his eight in the fourth quarter, leading Anaheim to victory. Steve Chubin scored 22 and Larry Bunce 21 for the winners. Larry Jones scored 27 and Wayne Hightower, who sat out the first half, 24 for Denver.

WVU Wins 77-57, As Both Coaches Call Teams 'Flat'

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Both West Virginia coach Bucky Waters and Virginia Military coach Gary McPherson admitted here Friday night that their basketball teams had not played well in a game won by WVU 77-57.

"We were very flat," said Waters. "Both teams were sluggish, but VMI is a better club than it showed tonight."

He said he thought the Keydets would give the Mountaineers "a lot of trouble when we play them again Jan. 3 in Beckley."

McPherson told newsmen after the game, "I want to apologize for the exhibition we put on tonight." He said, "Maybe we were just trying too hard."

"West Virginia did nothing different than what we expected — except beat us that badly," concluded McPherson.

WVU hi only .377 from the field — not enough to win most of the games on its schedule. VMI suffered through a frosty .253.

Waters summed up by saying, "Our shooting was very poor and it was fortunate that we were able to do enough other things well to overcome this."

One of those "other things" was rebounding. The Mountaineers led in this department 71-57. However, VMI's Steve Power the Southern Conference's leading rebounder, captured 18 ricochets — top individual effort in the game — before fouling out with 6:24 left.

Reliable Ron Williams scored 22 points for WVU in about 30 minutes of play. Carey Bailey the winners in rebounding with 16.

Guards John Kemper, with 16, and John Mitchell, with 12, led the Keydet scoring.

WVU's victory deadlocks the Mountaineers with Davidson for first place in the Southern Conference. They are 3-0 in league play and WVU is 4-2 overall.

VMI is 1-3 in the conference and 2-5 overall.

Ohio Floor Teams Just Miss Upsets

By The Associated Press

For Friday night's Ohio college basketball action, it was crying time—and perhaps justly so.

For instance:

Dayton nearly got the best of seventh-ranked Kentucky before dropping an 88-85 decision. Cincinnati came out on the short end of a 64-61 barnburner with South Carolina. Miami, after leading Purdue at halftime, finally yielded to the Boilermakers 67-65.

And Ohio University was doing a commendable job before Minneapolis finally shook off the Bobcats for a 73-63 triumph.

Ohio State nearly saw its perfect record go down the drain but rallied in the final seconds to slip past Butler 71-69.

Dayton, down 45-31 at intermission, forged out a steady grinding attack in the second half and tied it 83-83 with 1:36 remaining. But with 18 seconds left, Kentucky's Dan Issell hit two free throws and Thad Jaracz dropped in a layup to ice the victory for the Wildcats.

Cincinnati had amassed a 13-point lead early in the second period but South Carolina pulled ahead with five minutes to play.

Purdue threw a full - court press at Miami to cut down a 11-point deficit and sneak past the Redskins for a victory.

Miami yielded when Purdue started pressing with 11 minutes to play.

Ohio University had narrowed the gap to 46-45 with 12:51 to play, but three quick buckets from reserves Larry Mikan and Wayne Barry started a drive to help put the Vikings out of reach.

Ohio State's lead was cut to 71-69 with 11 seconds left when Bulldog Bill Mauck intercepted a Buckeye pass. But he could not get the shot off before the buzzer sounded.

In other games, Walt Piatkowski and Al Hairston combined for 49 points to lead Bowling Green to an 87-81 decision over Syracuse.

Xavier broke a five-game losing streak, drubbing Canisius 92-65.

Thompson Figures In Various Matches

Winning were Thompson and Luther Adkins, 2; Thompson and Norman Rambo, 2, and Thompson and Tim Carr.

Adkins and Thompson each won a 20-yard red bird match and Adkins and Terry Zaplata the 16-yard red bird shoots.

Midland Whips Burgettstown, Evens Record At 3-3

104 Shots Taken By Leopard Team

By JOHN MUELLER

The Midland Leopards rolled over Union High School of Burgettstown, 86-38, snapping a two-game losing streak, at the Midland gym Friday night.

Both teams were guilty of mistakes, but the Leopards had the desire which paid off. Midland picked off 85 rebounds to the visitors 30, despite the fact Union had a fair edge in height.

The 86 points represents the highest total the Leopards have run up this season.

Midland set a new team record on its way to the one-sided victory as they sprayed the backboards and nets with 104 shots hitting on 33 for a 31.7 percentage. The old record was 101 attempts.

Burgettstown made 10 field goals in 69 attempts for a 14.5 percentage.

The Leopard defense was responsible for the Burgettstown low field goal total as they hounded big 6-5 Koroses and sharp shooter Chal Mahoney to force the Blue Devil stars to take most of their shots from an off - balance position. Mahoney managed to garner four baskets and three of them came in the final period. Koroses picked up just one.

The Leopard offense rolled on an even keel for three periods as they steadily opened a wide margin. They led 16-7 at the quarter, 33-17 at the intermission and 52-25 at the three-quarter mark. The start of the final period was normal but it ended on a high note as the Leopards broke loose for an amazing 34 - point spree to win going away. Dave Franitti led the final period barrage with 11 points.

The opening session started as though it would be a slow contest. Following Bob Needs' opening field goal at the 7:49 mark, the teams were determined to commit fouls.

Mahoney made three straight foul conversions to give the Blue Devils their only lead of the night, 3-2 at the 6:43 mark. He made it 4-2 with his fourth straight at 6:18. Howard Leak sank a pair a 6:12 to tie the score and added another at 5:22 and the Leopards were ahead to stay 5-4. From that point on the big question was the margin of the win.

Burgettstown was held without a field goal until the 7:41 mark of the second period when Korosec connected.

Despite the numerous fouls called, only one player was waved to the side lines, Korosec with 5:49 to play in the final stanza.

Four Leopards hit double figures as Bob Needs and Dave Vanlier each chalked up 18 points to share scoring honors with Mahoney. Franitti had 14, Leak added 13 and Ray Cerasi had 10.

Mahoney was the only player in double figures, for the Blue Devils as he tallied 18. Harvey Simmons had six on three field goals, all in the second half.

Coach Larry Bender's JV's also had an easy time of it as they racked up the visiting JV's 66-24.

Franitti and Mike Drakutich each scored nine points. Eleven of the 12 players that saw action hit the scoring column.

The Leopards next tests will come in the Midland Holiday Tournament Thursday and Friday, Dec. 28 and 29. The Leopards are defending champions.

Simmy Hill Drops To 11 In Scoring

Midland's Simmy Hill has dropped to 11th nationally in scoring, averaging 28.3 for West Texas State.

Ohio players in the Top 50 are Fred Foster of Miami 10th, Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green 36th and Steve Mix of Toledo 38th. Ron Williams of West Virginia is 44th. George (Butch) Zatezalo, who was a high scorer at Center Twp. High School in Beaver County, is averaging 24.0 for Clemson to rank 34th.

Williams is sixth in free throw percentage and Mix is 18th in field goal percentage. Don May of Dayton is eighth in rebounding and Dave Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is fourth in rebounding.

Toledo has dropped to fifth in scoring with a 98.4 mark, and St. Francis of Pennsylvania is right behind. Dayton is 14th in defense and Ohio State 18th.

Miami is fourth in field goal percentage and Toledo fifth in average scoring margin over opponents.

Oiler Rookie Is Defensive Back In AFL

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George Webster admits he's pleased as punch that his success with Houston's Oilers has made him the Defensive Rookie of the Year in the American Football League, but he's somewhat leery about it, too.

An All-American at Michigan State last year, Webster's move into the pro ranks was preceded by a wave of ballyhoo. And the 6-foot-4, 220-pound strongboy lived up to every word of it.

Panthers Upset Temple, 80-63

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Duquesne rolled to its sixth straight basketball victory as expected but Pitt came up with the unexpected.

The Panthers surprised Temple 80-63 Friday night as five players hit in the double figures.

Duquesne walloped St. Mary's of California 83-59.

Bob Petrini led Pitt to its second victory in four outings with 17 points. The Owls, 5-2, were led by John Baum who scored 14.

Duquesne's Moe Barr scored 26 points in leading the Dukes to their victory. They have lost one game.

Hays Sparks Houston Rally

UCLA Rips Bradley, Gains No. 38

By The Associated Press

UCLA crushed previously unbeaten Bradley 109-73 for its 38th straight victory, but Coach Johnny Wooden of the National Collegiate Basketball Champions feared for a few minutes that he had lost towering Lew Alcindor.

Mr. A., as the agile 7-footer is known on the UCLA campus, was accidentally hit in the right eye soon after the start of the second half of the game in Los Angeles Friday night.

Wooden sent his collegiate Player of the Year to the sidelines within a few minutes rather than take any chances. The injury turned out to be minor and big Lew will be back in action tonight against Notre Dame.

Before he left with 13 minutes left to play, Alcindor had scored 13 points and more importantly blocked 11 shots. Wooden soon took out his other regulars, but the 10th-ranked Braves from Peoria, Ill., couldn't stop the subs either.

UCLA hadn't played in two weeks and Wooden said the regulars "got tired. We were rusty from our layoff and I was surprised we shot as well as we did." The Bruins made 50 of 99 shots from the field.

Before the game, Bradley Coach Joe Stowell said "eight straight home game wins and then UCLA on the road-wow." Afterwards he praised UCLA as the best team he has seen. "We got more open shots than we thought we would, but except for Allen missed most of them."

Joe Allen finished high for the game with 31 points. Mike Warren, with 24, and Mike Lynn, with 22, led UCLA in snapping Bradley's eight-game winning streak.

Elvin Hayes, the Big E, broke loose for 10 points in the last three minutes to pace unbeaten Houston, second ranked to UCLA in The Associated Press poll, to an 81-76 victory over Arizona at Tucson, Ariz. Hayes finished with 28 points in leading the Cougars to their ninth in a row.

Third-ranked Vanderbilt, paced by Tom Hagan's 22 points, whipped Seton Hall 85-67 in the first round of the Vanderbilt Invitational at Nashville, Tenn., after Oregon had downed Wake Forest 76-58.

Seventh-ranked Kentucky, the only other team in the Top Ten to see action, blew an 18-point lead but came on again to beat Dayton 88-85 in the first round of the UK Invitational at Lexington, Ky. Two free throws by Dan Issel and a basket by Thad Jaracz in the last 18 seconds gave Adolph Rupp the 365th victory of his coaching career after Dayton, down 41-23, had rallied to tie at 83-83 with 90 seconds left.

South Carolina edged Cincinnati 64-61 in the other UK first-round game.

Arizona State held off a late Michigan raily and beat the Wolverines 92-91 in the final of the Sun Devil Classic at Phoenix, Ariz., after Oregon State took third place with a 49-48 squeaker over Oklahoma State.

Texas at El Paso rallied in the second half to beat San Francisco 81-61 in the final of the Sun Carnival Classic at El Paso after Southern Illinois edged Maryland 73-72 in overtime for third place.

Pistol Pete Maravich, son of Louisiana State coach Press Maravich, set a season high of 58 points in leading the Tigers over Mississippi State at Baton Rouge. Maravich got 42 of his points in the second half and set an SEC record. Bob Pettit, LSU's All-American of 13 years ago, had set the previous SEC single-game mark of 57 points in 1954.

Celtics Win 6th Straight To Take Over First Place

Havlicek had 27 points for the night, Jones 20 and Bailey Howell 24 for the Celtics. Oscar Robertson of the Royals led with 36.

Rookie Earl Monroe scored a career high 33 points for Baltimore, which extended its winning string to three straight. Chicago pulled to within two points, 104-102, with three minutes left, but Stan McKenzie hit seven straight Baltimore points to quell the rally. McCoy McLemore led the Bulls with 28 points.

Rookie Al Tucker scored 31 points and Bob Rule, another rookie, poured in 20 and grabbed 27 rebounds to pace the Seattle victory. Dick Barnett topped New York with 20.

Elgin Baylor scored 25, Archie Clark 23 and Jerry West 21 for Los Angeles which opened up a 31-14 lead and coasted home. Len Chappell, who hit 11 of 12 field goal attempts, led Detroit with 28 points.

Some great defensive play by Al Attles helped San Francisco pull away from San Diego in the last two minutes. Rudy LaRusso led the winning Warriors with 26 points. Rookie John Block got 24 for the Rockets.

Bob Bedell scored 11 of his 15 points and John Fairchild got all of his eight in the fourth quarter, leading Anaheim to victory. Steve Chubin scored 22 and Larry Bunce 21 for the winners. Larry Jones scored 27 and Wayne Hightower, who sat out the first half, 24 for Denver.

WVU Wins 77-57, As Both Coaches Call Teams 'Flat'

And Ohio University was doing a commendable job before Minneapolis finally shook off the Bobcats for a 73-63 triumph.

Ohio State nearly saw its perfect record go down the drain but rallied in the final seconds to slip past Butler 71-69.

Dayton, down 45-31 at intermission, forged out a steady grinding attack in the second half and tied it 83-83 with 1:36 remaining. But with 18 seconds left, Kentucky's Dan Issell hit two free throws and Thad Jaracz dropped in a layup to ice the victory for the Wildcats.

Cincinnati had amassed a 13-point lead early in the second period but South Carolina pulled ahead with five minutes to play.

Purdue threw a full - court press at Miami to cut down a 11-point deficit and sneak past the Redskins for a victory.

Miami yielded when Purdue started pressing with 11 minutes to play.

Ohio University had narrowed the gap to 46-45 with 12:51 to play, but three quick buckets from reserves Larry Mikan and Wayne Barry started a drive to help put the Vikings out of reach.

At Indianapolis, Ohio State watched a 21-point lead vanish and trailed by six points with 4:22 left. Nine free throws then turned the trick for the Buckeyes.

Ohio State's lead was cut to 71-69 with 11 seconds left when Bulldog Bill Mauck intercepted a Buckeye pass. But he could not get the shot off before the buzzer sounded.

In other games, Walt Piatkowski and Al Hairston combined for 49 points to lead Bowling Green to an 87-81 decision over Syracuse.

Xavier broke a five-game losing streak, drubbing Canisius 92-65.

Panama, which was founded in 1903, is the youngest republic in the Western Hemisphere.

Thompson Figures In Various Matches

Ray Thompson was a partner on each team that won the five protector shoots during a match Wednesday night at the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association trap range.

Winning were Thompson and Luther Adkins, 2; Thompson and Norman Rambo, 2, and Thompson and Tim Carr.

Adkins and Thompson each won a 20-yard red bird match and Adkins and Terry Zaplata the 16-yard red bird shoots.

Butler Golfer Takes Junior Championship

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Young Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., fired a four-under-par 68 Friday for a 138 total and won the second annual Babe Zaharias National Junior golf Tournament at Quail Hollow Golf Club.

Simons' 18-inch putt for a birdie on the par-five 18th proved the difference as runner-up Mark Alwin of Clearwater, Fla., fell one stroke off the pace with a par on the closing hole.

Alwin notched rounds of 72-67—139 while Simons, the current range Bowl junior champion, had rounds of 70-68.

Attendance Dips, Wagering Rises At U.S. Tracks

By The Associated Press

The horse racing picture in the United States for 1967 generally was spotty although a record $4.8 billion was bet on the thoroughbreds and standardbreds combined.

For the first time in years, aggregate attendance at the running and harness racing tracks declined. A year-end survey by The Associated Press Friday showed 62,619,185 bettors turned out compared to 63,391,608 in 1966.

Total wagering was $4,852,890,970, up from the $4,654,149,033 a year ago. Of this, $3,372,352,376 went through the pari-mutuels at the thoroughbred tracks and $1,480,538,594 at the trotters. Attendance at the flats was 39,619,185 and 23,000,000 at the sulky plants. The USTA said the sulky figures probably will be higher when complete December statistics are tabulated.

Increases in the states of New Jersey, California, Illinois and Louisiana in contrast to declines in New York, Florida and Michigan contributed to the over-all spotty picture.

Mulloy Again No. 1 In Seniors' Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gales, Fla., runnerup in the U.S. Senior Championships, is back on top of the recommended singles ratings announced by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Mulloy replaced Bob Sherman, Temple City, Calif., as the No. 1 in singles. Emery Neale of Portland, Ore., is second, Sherman third.

Butler Golfer Takes Junior Championship

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Young Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., fired a four-under-par 68 Friday for a 138 total and won the second annual Babe Zaharias National Junior golf Tournament at Quail Hollow Golf Club.

Simons' 18-inch putt for a birdie on the par-five 13th proved the difference as runner-up Mark Alwin of Clearwater, Fla., fell one stroke off the pace with a par on the closing hole.

Alwin notched rounds of 72-67—139 while Simons, the current range Bowl junior champion, had rounds of 70-68.

Attendance Dips, Wagering Rises At U.S. Tracks

By The Associated Press

The horse racing picture in the United States for 1967 generally was spotty although a record $4.8 billion was bet on the thoroughbreds and standardbreds combined.

For the first time in years, aggregate attendance at the running and harness racing tracks declined. A year-end survey by The Associated Press Friday showed 62,619,185 bettors turned out compared to 63,391,608 in 1966.

Total wagering was $4,852,890,970, up from the $4,654,149,033 a year ago. Of this, $3,372,352,376 went through the pari-mutuels at the thoroughbred tracks and $1,480,538,594 at the trotters. Attendance at the flats was 39,619,185 and 23,000,000 at the sulky plants. The USTA said the sulky figures probably will be higher when complete December statistics are tabulated.

Increases in the states of New Jersey, California, Illinois and Louisiana in contrast to declines in New York, Florida and Michigan contributed to the over-all spotty picture.

Mulloy Again No. 1 In Seniors' Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gales, Fla., runnerup in the U.S. Senior Championships, is back on top of the recommended singles ratings announced by the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Mulloy, who lost to Jaroslav Drobny in the Seniors final, also is paired with Bill Talbert of New York at the top of the doubles standings in the recommendations released Friday.

Mulloy replaced Bob Sherman, Temple City, Calif., as the No. 1 in singles. Emery Neale of Portland, Ore., is second, Sherman third.

Fight Results

MADRID, Spain—Jose Legra, 110, Spain, stopped Yves Desmarets, 115, France, 3. Legra won vacant European featherweight title.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Clyde E. Parsons who passed away December 23, 1960:
In silent thought a secret tear
keeps his memory ever dear. Time takes away the edge of grief, but memory turns back every leaf.
Sadly missed by son, Deryl Parsons, Daughters, Norma, Mary, Garnetta and Lucille.

In loving memory of our dear father, Jack Hoodski, Sr. who passed away Dec. 23, 1952. He bid no one a last farewell. He said good bye to none. His loving heart had ceased to beat, Before we knew it he was gone. He did not fail to do his best, His heart was true and tender. He worked hard for those he left. And ever will be remembered. Sadly missed by his children, Helen, Jackie, and Tony

In loving memory of my husband, Sgt. Harry B. Cater Jr., who was killed in action twenty-three years ago tonight during the Battle of the Bulge (Dec. 23, 1944).
No morning dawns, no night returns, But that I think of you.
Those left behind are very good,
But none replaces you.
Many a silent tear is shed,
When I am all alone;
The one I loved so very much
The one I called my own.
Sadly missed, Ruth

In memory of our beloved son and brother BILL, who passed away 12 years ago, Dec. 12th: Sadly missed by Mother, Dad and Sister; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lones, Carolyn Hubbell.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Clyde E. Parsons who passed away December 23, 1960:
In silent thought a secret tear
keeps his memory ever dear. Time takes away the edge of grief, but
memory turns back every leaf.
Sadly missed by son, Deryl Parsons, Daughters, Norma, Mary, Garnetta and Lucille.

In loving memory of our dear father, Jack Hoodski, Sr. who passed away Dec. 23, 1952. He bid no one a last farewell, He said good bye to none. His loving heart had ceased to beat, Before we knew it he was gone. He did not fail to do his best, His heart was true and tender, He worked hard for those he left. And ever will be remembered. Sadly missed by his children, Helen, Jackie, and Tony

In loving memory of my husband, Sgt. Harry B. Cater Jr., who was killed in action twenty-three years ago tonight during the Battle of the Bulge (Dec. 23, 1944).
No morning dawns, no night returns, But that I think of you.
Those left behind are very good, But none replaces you.
Many a silent tear is shed,
When I am all alone;
The one I loved so very much
The one I called my own.
Sadly missed, Ruth

In memory of our beloved son and brother BILL, who passed away 12 years ago, Dec. 12th: Sadly missed by Mother, Dad and Sister; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lones, Carolyn Hubbell.

The Day Christmas Came Out Of A Kiln

The Holiday Happiness Of Many City Youngsters Was In Jeopardy As Tragedy Threatened The Annual Santa Claus Venture Of 'Ole Henry'

By ROBERT POPP

DRAWINGS BY GWYNN CONRAD

EVERYONE IN EAST Liverpool knew Ole Henry, but only the teller who cashed his Social Security check once a month knew that his true name was Horatio Amos Axelmeier.

For 364 days out of the year, Ole Henry went his unobtrusive way, seen — yet unnoticed — by the whole community. But on that one unforgetful day he stepped into the limelight as the king of kings in childhood dreams, the man who could see all and do all.

On the last Sunday before Christmas, Ole Henry played Santa Claus in the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW
FeaturePages
East Liverpool, Ohio, Saturday Dec. 23, 1967—Page 15

Ole Henry's home of many years was an abandoned upright pottery kiln midway between the River Rd. and the railroad tracks. Passersby saw a tremendous collection of scrap and junk and debris piled helter-skelter around the tall brick chimney, bisected by a path that led to an opening converted into a door. In cool weather, a wisp of smoke curled upward from a length of metal stove pipe jutting out of the side of the kiln, and in warmer weather the traveler saw the yellow glow of lamp light through the doorway.

But Ole Henry was satisfied with his home. He paid no rent, no taxes, no water bills, no electric bills and no gas bills. What's more, he was not pestered by itinerant salesmen or pitchmen using the telephone. If he wanted conversation, he had the company of an English pit bull called Disraeli, a huge yellow tomcat named William McKinley and a goat of indeterminate sex called Petunia.

OLE HENRY trudged uptown once a week, carrying a burlap sack folded under his arm and returning within an hour with a supply of groceries. In crisp, dry weather when his rheumatism was not bothering him, he strode along the railroad right-of-way with the appearance of a man of 55. But when the misery settled in his knees and his ankles and his shoulders, he looked every one of his 76 years.

On the fourth day of each month, he donned his carefully-brushed blue serge suit with the wide lapels and the belted coat, and walked to the Post Office for the little ceremony of receiving his government pension check at the general delivery window. On that day, he wore the rosette of the Distinguished Service Cross in his left lapel and turned up the brim of his old fedora in the style of a campaign hat. He walked across the street to cash the check, folded the bills carefully into a limp leather coin purse and dropped the change into the tambourine held by the Salvation Army man at the door.

Then, with a pound of round steak for Disraeli, a pair of beef kidneys for William McKinley and a five-pound sack of grain for Petunia, he walked back to his home on the River Rd.

Ole Henry's most notable callers were the federal census taker who stopped by once in 10 years to coax out a few vital statistics, and Mrs. William Marshall, superintendent of the Sunday School at the First Presbyterian Church, who made an annual pilgrimage to the kiln-home to confirm arrangements for the Christmas program.

Mrs. Marshall eased her big black sedan carefully off the blacktop pavement and nosed it between the remains of a 1937 Hudson phaeton and the chassis of a Valley Motor Transit Co. bus. Then she picked her way carefully along Ole Henry's path, passing a huge pile of driftwood mixed with rusted oil drums, several buggy wheels, a smashed buoy, shards of glass from navigation lights, a scramble of auto license plates dating back 35 years, a broken garden cultivator, scraps of harness, a double-tree, a horse collar, an overturned John boat and many other bits and pieces of things that were unrecognizable. As she approached the door, she saw several dozen shiny auto hubcaps hanging on a wooden framework in rows as orderly as the spaces on a checkerboard.

She saw a tremendous holly wreath over the entrance, set off with a huge red bow. It was the one bright touch outside the nondescript dwelling.

SHE RAPPED her knuckles against the soft red brickwork around the door, but produced no sound. Then she hammered against the wooden door frame.

Ole Henry's grizzled face popped out of the opening, his head topped with a blue visored cap bearing a bronze badge: "Conductor. Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co."

"Mr. Henry, I've come to see you about the Christmas program in our Sunday School," she said. Henry grinned broadly and replied: "Of course, Mrs. Marshall. I've been expecting you all day. After 25 years in that job, I'm not about to quit now. I've had my Santa Claus suit cleaned and pressed and combed out the whiskers. I'm ready right now. But come in while we talk about the time it begins and the cue for my entrance."

Mrs. Marshall reluctantly stepped across the high threshold and paused a moment to allow her eyes to become accustomed to the dim interior. Ole Henry was motioning her to a big armchair next to the pot-bellied coal stove. He settled his ample frame a few feet away on two upended wooden boxes marked "Webber's Bulldog Ale."

Mrs. Marshall, anxious to extricate herself from the strange surroundings, quickly gave Ole Henry the details of the program. A huge white bulldog, stretched full length beneath the stove, glared at her with a baleful eye, rumbled deep in his chest and then resumed his nap. She saw the green phosphorus glow of two eyes from atop a shelf high on the wall, then discerned a yellow cat watching every move. A nondescript goat looked up for a moment, gave a final lick at its food bowl, then leaped through the door and was gone.

Ole Henry, teetering a little on the boxes as though in a rocking chair, showed that he was in no mood to terminate the visit quickly. She saw that he was seated in the exact center of the old kiln, directly underneath a large umbrella in garish orange, blue and red panels. She could see the legend, "Trotter Hardware," in large letters spread around half the umbrella.

"I DIDN'T KNOW Trotter's ever sold beach umbrellas," she told Ole Henry as a gambit to open the awkward meeting. He assured her that it was not a beach umbrella, but a sunshade once used by farmers to protect them as they worked for long hours in the field or drove a wagon on the hot journey into town.

"It does double duty for me, you see," he told Mrs. Marshall. "When it rains, I raise it to keep off the water that drops through the boards I have stacked across the top of the flue. And in cold weather it keeps the heat down here where I need it, so it won't go rushing up the flue. And in the hot weather in the summertime, I take the boards off the top and regulate the ventilation with the umbrella. When it's down, I get the best cross-ventilation in town. If it's up, there's just a tiny breeze through the kiln openings."

"Fascinating," Mrs. Marshall replied. That encouraged Ole Henry and he began pointing out and cataloguing other objects leaning against the walls, scattered on the floor and heaped on shelves.

See that big glass chandelier?" he asked. "You've walked under it hundreds of times. That used to hang in the center of the outer lobby at the Ceramic Theater. That fancy piece of plaster work was part of the decoration around the proscenium arch."

He pointed to a heavy, rusted wheel in back of the stove. "That came off the trucks of one of the Flyers the old traction company ran between Steubenville and Beaver — it skipped all the stops except the busiest ones. And that glass thing there, that's the farebox off the same car. I used to keep a hamster in it, but he crawled out the top one night and got away."

Indicating a heavy square of concrete leaning against the wall, he pointed to the tiny metal medallion set in its side. "Remember those? One of the Old Lincoln Highway markers. I meant to stick it in the ground outside to tether Petunia, but I haven't got around to digging the hole. That thin pipe-looking thing at your right is one of the old fire hydrants they tore out when they put in the new sidewalk along Broadway where the Standard Pottery used to be. Don't tell anybody, but I hooked it into one of the old fire lines that used to run into the Harker Pottery. It's my water supply, even though the city doesn't know about it."

AS MRS. MARSHALL arose in an attempt to terminate the monologue and beat a graceful retreat, she brushed against an ornate vase that gave off the sharp ping of true china.

"Mr. Henry, I believe that's Lotus ware," she said. "It must be worth a small fortune. You should take better care of it."

Ole Henry regarded the vase disinterestedly. "Well, I remember when they made that kind of ware at KT&K," he said. "I have had it around for years, use it to store sunflower seed for the redbirds and the blue jays. Maybe it's worth something, but I kinda like it for my sunflower seed. It's just right for a 10-pound bag."

By this time, Mrs. Marshall had reached the door and was sidling through the opening, watching carefully not to snag her hose as she smiled over her shoulder at Ole Henry.

"We'll see you Sunday morning, then, Mr. Henry," she said. "The children look forward to Santa Claus in the Sunday School almost as much as they do the presents under the tree at home." As she stepped into the pathway, she called over her shoulder: "The river's still rising. I hope it doesn't get into your home."

Ole Henry stepped outside and glanced toward the swollen stream, which had been creeping up the banks for two days. With the practiced eye of a river-watcher, he measured the speed of the current by spotting the swift passage of pieces of flotsam.

"It's getting up, all right, but we've never had a December flood in all my years along the river," he told Mrs. Marshall. "Don't worry, when the temperature drops it will stop the rise. Of course if it keeps on with this warm spell and we get more rain, I just might get my feet wet!"

Mrs. Marshall eased under the wheel of the car, waved vaguely at Ole Henry, then maneuvered carefully between the Hudson phaeton and the remains of the bus to steer the auto back onto the pavement. Ole Henry was still waving as her car disappeared around a curve.

OLE HENRY dodged through the low doorway, tossed a lump of coal into the pot-bellied stove and sat down in the armchair to watch the play of the flames through the isinglass windows in the door. His mind roved back over the 76 years — the day his mother and father stepped off the Ben Hur at the Broadway wharf, leading him down the gangplank by the hand, his boyhood in Goosetown, just a few hundred yards away and classes at Garfield School.

He remembered the slack pools in the river in summertime's dry weather, before the dams were built, and the broad sweeping curve of the stream where one day they were to build that wonder of wonders, the Chester Bridge. In his mind's eye, he saw the smoke that once poured from the top of the kiln where he made his home, smoke that marked dozens of upright kilns dotting the riverfront and the principal streets downtown.

He could hear again the melancholy, sobbing call of the whistles on the majestic river boats like the Ben Hur and the Sprague and the Crucible, and hear the methodical thump, thump of the walking beams as they made their way along the broad Ohio. He could hear the dim shouts of the deckhands, see the curl of the bow wave breaking away from the front rank of the barges and hear the ripple of the little wavelets as they rustled against the shore.

He could hear the chuffing sound of the steam locomotive's approach and the singing in the rails when the freight was still out of sight. He could see the engineer leaning far outside the cab of the locomotive, illuminated by the dim light of the firebox, and see the fireman — stripped to the waist — frantically hurling heaping shovelfuls of coal into its maw.

It took him back to the time when he moved restlessly away from East Liverpool for one brief year, heading westward in quest of he knew not what. He remembered days at work under the blazing Missouri sun as a gandy-dancer on the Southern Pacific; cutting asparagus for peon's wages in huge fields in California; droving a logging team in the redwood forests, and walking through the Barbary Coast section of San Francisco in the days when it was a real adventure. He thought of the time he hired on with the combine crew that worked its way through the grain fields of south Texas and continued in a long arc northward and westward through Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas as the fields ripened successively.

OLE HENRY remembered a free speech campaign by the Wobblies in Butte — the day they chained themselves to light posts and fire hydrants and then declaimed their dogma — a rousing Labor Day oration in Boise by Eugene V. Debs; the freezing cold of clinging to the top of a boxcar on the long ride over the Sierras into California; standing in a soup line in Amarillo and cadging meals at back doors and missions in Pueblo.

He sometimes referred to himself as a cinder-snapper, from his days in the steel mills, or called himself an old sagger-head in memory of his days around pottery kilns. But he also had been a farmhand, a World War I infantryman, a river roustabout, a teamster, a traction company conductor, a silver mine timberman, tender of river navigation lights, a bartender and a shill for a Nevada faro game.

Now Ole Henry supplemented his meager monthly check by picking up and refurbishing the hubcaps that fell off cars when they hit a particularly vicious bump in the rolling blacktop pavement close to his home. He displayed the missing hubcaps alongside the roadway for a week for the owner to claim — for a small reward. And after that first week they went onto Ole Henry's display board fastened to the front of the kiln. He figured that one nasty bump was worth $50 a year to him, not counting the bottles he picked up and turned in for deposits while hunting for hubcaps.

Occasionally he sold a buggy wheel or a scrap of harness metal to some curious collector looking for a "conversation piece." And, more infrequently he accepted some coins in return for one of his ancient license plates or a particularly decorative piece of scrap iron. There were short lengths of rail and ties from the street railway, unrecognizable bits of the fire escape from the 6th St. School, decorative bricks that had lined the doorway around the old Review Building on Washington St., the main door from the old First Presbyterian Church, metal cookie bins out of Heddleston Brothers Grocery, and a charred seat that had been dragged out of the remains of the original American Theater.

HE ROSE SLEEPILY from his armchair as the 9:40 eastbound freight roared by, telling him it was time to turn in for the night. He drew water in a dish for Disraeli, shooed Petunia outside and placed a flannel cloth underneath the stove for William McKinley.

As he tethered Petunia, he noticed a few inches of water on the River Rd.'s pavement, but decided the rise had slowed. Returning to his snug shelter, he lowered the umbrella to improve the ventilation and dumped two big lumps of coal atop the pile in the stove, covering the red mass with ashes to slow combustion.

Then he brushed off his prized Santa Claus costume again and stood on one of the beer cases to hang it on a peg high on the wall. Ole Henry blew out the kerosene lamp, said goodnight to the dog and cat, turned down the covers on his bunk near the stove and went to sleep. He knew the 7:10 westbound freight in the morning would wake him, as it always did.

Sunday morning dawned dark and chilly. Mrs. Marshall was at the church more than an hour ahead of the program's scheduled time, rearranging decorations on the Christmas tree, checking again on the candy treats and reviewing the songs the youngsters would sing while they awaited the arrival of Santa Claus. The calm bustle was interrupted in a few minutes by the entry of Mrs. Matilda Throckmorton, Mrs. Marshall's Christmas-time assistant.

"Sorry I'm late, but I got detoured," Mrs. Throckmorton said as she pulled off her coat, hat and gloves. "I started down the River Rd. as usual, but it was barricaded near Ralston's Crossing. The river is up, nearly as bad as the 1936 flood. A policeman who was standing there told me there is eight feet of water covering the River Rd. The rise has stopped, but it will be stationary for awhile before . . ."

"Eight feet of water on the River Rd.!" Mrs. Marshall exclaimed. "What about Ole Henry? What's a Christmas program without Santa Claus? How will we ever get him here through all that water?"

AND THEN A sobering thought hit her. Eight feet of water on the River Rd. meant that the river was far more than head high inside the kiln that Ole Henry called home.

If the water crept up during the night, he probably had drowned in his sleep. She pictured him, dead, inside the peculiar round home, along with his dog, cat and goat.

She hurried to the telephone in the secretary's office to call the fire department. A bit incoherently she told of Ole Henry's plight and explained that he either was drowned or marooned — most likely dead unless the river's rise had warned him in time.

"I'll never forgive myself for not persuading him to come along yesterday," she said. "I warned him the river was on the rise, but he said he didn't believe it would get much over flood stage. He was looking at the river with a kind of bemused look when I drove away. Santa Claus drowning the day before Christmas! What a blow that will be to the children!"

The firemen attempted to reassure her, not very convincingly, because they knew also that Ole Henry's home was perilously low. But they promised to borrow the Civil Defense dukw and make a hunt for Ole Henry. A short time later, the amphibious vehicle rolled into the water lapping at Broadway near 3rd St. and began its bumbling course east, roughly following the inundated River Rd. Grappling hooks attached to long lengths of rope were piled at the prow, along with pike poles and ladders.

The amphibious vehicle made slow progress against the current, veering occasionally to dodge a heavy piece of floating wood. But it finally was anchored alongside the old kiln, nosing into the current, as the firemen faced the problem of getting into the structure.

"There's only one way inside and that's through the top of the chimney," a fireman said. He tossed the grappling hook expertly, catching it on the edge of the chimney. After a couple of test pulls to make certain it was seated firmly, he edged his way up the sloping sides. Hooking a leg inside the chimney, he balanced himself precariously and then turned a flashlight into the dark interior.

THE NARROW, BRILLIANT beam disclosed a slow swirl of dark water on which floated pieces of household impedimentia and debris of all kinds. But there was no sign of Ole Henry in the fireman's restricted field of vision.

"I'm afraid he's down there somewhere under eight feet of water," he shouted to his companion. "We'll have to get him out after the river drops." As he turned the flashlight inside the kiln again for one last look, a pair of patent leather boots swirled slowly into view, topped by bright red fabric. He shouted into the void: "Anybody down there?"

"Sure is," the reply boomed back from the cavernous interior. "There's me and Petunia and William McKinley and Disraeli. Did somebody come to help us out?" The fireman saw the recumbent form of Ole Henry drift into view, floating high and dry on the crest of the flood. Alongside was a raft improvised out of two crates lashed together. It held a nondescript goat and a glowering bulldog. A cat was sitting on Ole Henry's chest, licking his paws.

"Well, just a minute, Henry, till we get a line down in there," he said. And Ole Henry shouted back: "Just so's I'm not late for the Christmas program. This is the day I'm Santa Claus at the Presbyterian Church." He smiled and waited while the second fireman made his way to the top of the chimney and helped lower his companion into the maw of the kiln.

Ole Henry was pulled up first, clutching the goat in his arms and with the cat perched on his shoulder. The firemen made the ascent next, after sending the dog aloft in an improvised boatswain's chair. The three animals and the two firemen were lowered into the dukw gingerly, then Ole Henry made the descent, like a mountain climber rappelling his way down a sheer cliff. He was dressed completely for his role as Santa Claus, including the flowing whiskers.

"TELL ME, HENRY, how did you survive the flood?" a fireman asked. "That water was more than two feet over your head." Ole Henry grinned and waved a hand disparagingly.

"For more than 25 years I have slept on an air mattress," he said. "It sure beats a feather tick. And when that water came up and caught me last night, I hurried up and made a raft for Petunia and Disraeli, put on my Santa Claus suit and then stretched out to ride out the flood. I had to be ready. I didn't want to disappoint those kids this morning."

Ole Henry dismounted gingerly as the dukw pulled up to the dry pavement on Broadway. Far away, church chimes sounded out the first notes of "Joy to the World."

Ole Henry turned to trudge up the hill toward the church, hurrying so that he would not delay the program. He looked back, waved and shouted to the firemen:

EVERYONE IN EAST Liverpool knew Ole Henry, but only the teller who cashed his Social Security check once a month knew that his true name was Horatio Amos Axelmeier.

For 364 days out of the year, Ole Henry went his unobtrusive way, seen — yet unnoticed — by the whole community. But on that one unforgetful day he stepped into the limelight as the king of kings in childhood dreams, the man who could see all and do all.

On the last Sunday before Christmas, Ole Henry played Santa Claus in the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church.

Ole Henry's home of many years was an abandoned upright pottery kiln midway between the River Rd. and the railroad tracks. Passersby saw a tremendous collection of scrap and junk and debris piled helter-skelter around the tall brick chimney, bisected by a path that led to an opening converted into a door. In cool weather, a wisp of smoke curled upward from a length of metal stove pipe jutting out of the side of the kiln, and in warmer weather the traveler saw the yellow glow of lamp light through the doorway.

But Ole Henry was satisfied with his home. He paid no rent, no taxes, no water bills, no electric bills and no gas bills. What's more, he was not pestered by itinerant salesmen or pitchmen using the telephone. If he wanted conversation, he had the company of an English pit bull called Disraeli, a huge yellow tomcat named William McKinley and a goat of indeterminate sex called Petunia.

OLE HENRY trudged uptown once a week, carrying a burlap sack folded under his arm and returning within an hour with a supply of groceries. In crisp, dry weather when his rheumatism was not bothering him, he strode along the railroad right-of-way with the appearance of a man of 55. But when the misery settled in his knees and his ankles and his shoulders, he looked every one of his 76 years.

On the fourth day of each month, he donned his carefully-brushed blue serge suit with the wide lapels and the belted coat, and walked to the Post Office for the little ceremony of receiving his government pension check at the general delivery window. On that day, he wore the rosette of the Distinguished Service Cross in his left lapel and turned up the brim of his old fedora in the style of a campaign hat. He walked across the street to cash the check, folded the bills carefully into a limp leather coin purse and dropped the change into the tambourine held by the Salvation Army man at the door.

Then, with a pound of round steak for Disraeli, a pair of beef kidneys for William McKinley and a five-pound sack of grain for Petunia, he walked back to his home on the River Rd.

Ole Henry's most notable callers were the federal census taker who stopped by once in 10 years to coax out a few vital statistics, and Mrs. William Marshall, superintendent of the Sunday School at the First Presbyterian Church, who made an annual pilgrimage to the kiln-home to confirm arrangements for the Christmas program.

Mrs. Marshall eased her big black sedan carefully off the blacktop pavement and nosed it between the remains of a 1937 Hudson phaeton and the chassis of a Valley Motor Transit Co. bus. Then she picked her way carefully along Ole Henry's path, passing a huge pile of driftwood mixed with rusted oil drums, several buggy wheels, a smashed buoy, shards of glass from navigation lights, a scramble of auto license plates dating back 35 years, a broken garden cultivator, scraps of harness, a double-tree, a horse collar, an overturned john boat and many other bits and pieces of things that were unrecognizable. As she approached the door, she saw several dozen shiny auto hubcaps hanging on a wooden framework in rows as orderly as the spaces on a checkerboard.

She saw a tremendous holly wreath over the entrance, set off with a huge red bow. It was the one bright touch outside the nondescript dwelling.

SHE RAPPED her knuckles against the soft red brickwork around the door, but produced no sound. Then she hammered against the wooden door frame.

Ole Henry's grizzled face popped out of the opening, his head topped with a blue visored cap bearing a bronze badge: "Conductor. Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co."

"Mr. Henry, I've come to see you about the Christmas program in our Sunday School," she said. Henry grinned broadly and replied: "Of course, Mrs. Marshall. I've been expecting you all day. After 25 years in that job, I'm not about to quit now. I've had my Santa Claus suit cleaned and pressed and combed out the whiskers. I'm ready right now. But come in while we talk about the time it begins and the cue for my entrance."

Mrs. Marshall reluctantly stepped across the high threshold and paused a moment to allow her eyes to become accustomed to the dim interior. Ole Henry was motioning her to a big armchair next to the pot-bellied coal stove. He settled his ample frame a few feet away on two upended wooden boxes marked "Webber's Bulldog Ale."

She hurried to the telephone in the secretary's office to call the fire department. A bit incoherently she told of Ole Henry's plight and explained that he either was drowned or marooned — most likely dead unless the river's rise had warned him in time.

"I'll never forgive myself for not persuading him to come along yesterday," she said. "I warned him the river was on the rise, but he said he didn't believe it would get much over flood stage. He was looking at the river with a kind of bemused look when I drove away. Santa Claus drowning the day before Christmas! What a blow that will be to the children!"

The firemen attempted to reassure her, not very convincingly, because they knew also that Ole Henry's home was perilously low. But they promised to borrow the Civil Defense dukw and make a hunt for Ole Henry. A short time later, the amphibious vehicle rolled into the water lapping at Broadway near 3rd St. and began its bumbling course east, roughly following the inundated River Rd. Grappling hooks attached to long lengths of rope were piled at the prow, along with pike poles and ladders.

The amphibious vehicle made slow progress against the current, veering occasionally to dodge a heavy piece of floating wood. But it finally was anchored alongside the old kiln, nosing into the current, as the firemen faced the problem of getting into the structure.

"There's only one way inside and that's through the top of the chimney," a fireman said. He tossed the grappling hook expertly, catching it on the edge of the chimney. After a couple of test pulls to make certain it was seated firmly, he edged his way up the sloping sides. Hooking a leg inside the chimney, he balanced himself precariously and then turned a flashlight into the dark interior.

THE NARROW, BRILLIANT beam disclosed a slow swirl of dark water on which floated pieces of household impedimentia and debris of all kinds. But there was no sign of Ole Henry in the fireman's restricted field of vision.

"I'm afraid he's down there somewhere under eight feet of water," he shouted to his companion. "We'll have to get him out after the river drops." As he turned the flashlight inside the kiln again for one last look, a pair of patent leather boots swirled slowly into view, topped by bright red fabric. He shouted into the void: "Anybody down there?"

"Sure is," the reply boomed back from the cavernous interior. "There's me and Petunia and William McKinley and Disraeli. Did somebody come to help us out?" The fireman saw the recumbent form of Ole Henry drift into view, floating high and dry on the crest of the flood. Alongside was a raft improvised out of two crates lashed together. It held a nondescript goat and a glowering bulldog. A cat was sitting on Ole Henry's chest, licking his paws.

"Well, just a minute, Henry, till we get a line down in there," he said. And Ole Henry shouted back: "Just so's I'm not late for the Christmas program. This is the day I'm Santa Claus at the Presbyterian Church." He smiled and waited while the second fireman made his way to the top of the chimney and helped lower his companion into the maw of the kiln.

Ole Henry was pulled up first, clutching the goat in his arms and with the cat perched on his shoulder. The firemen made the ascent next, after sending the dog aloft in an improvised boatswain's chair. The three animals and the two firemen were lowered into the dukw gingerly, then Ole Henry made the descent, like a mountain climber rappelling his way down a sheer cliff. He was dressed completely for his role as Santa Claus, including the flowing whiskers.

"TELL ME, HENRY, how did you survive the flood?" a fireman asked. "That water was more than two feet over your head." Ole Henry grinned and waved a hand disparagingly.

"For more than 25 years I have slept on an air mattress," he said. "It sure beats a feather tick. And when that water came up and caught me last night, I hurried up and made a raft for Petunia and Disraeli, put on my Santa Claus suit and then stretched out to ride out the flood. I had to be ready. I didn't want to disappoint those kids this morning."

Ole Henry dismounted gingerly as the dukw pulled up to the dry pavement on Broadway. Far away, church chimes sounded out the first notes of "Joy to the World."

Ole Henry turned to trudge up the hill toward the church, hurrying so that he would not delay the program. He looked back, waved and shouted to the firemen:

Junior Editors Quiz on SADDLES

QUESTION: What is the difference between Western and English saddles?

ANSWER: In the days of the knights, saddles had to be deep and high to resist the tremendous jolt a knight would receive when struck by an opponent's lance. In the same way, the western cowboy's saddle must have a high back or cantle and a high front, where a horn sticks up, called the pommel, to which a rider can attach a rope lariat. Our picture gives an idea of the violent strain such a saddle must be capable of taking. By contrast, the English saddle, which is mainly used for racing, polo and jumping, does not need to be so high and deep. It is flatter on top without a saddle horn. Since speed is important in these sports, the English saddle is very light. The point to remember is that the English saddle was and is used for sporting purposes, while the western saddle was developed for the work of handling cattle. But many who ride for pleasure prefer the comfortable western saddle, so good for long rides over rough country. However, especially in the east, the English saddle is widely used, particularly when horses are shown in horse shows, or trained for jumping and hunting.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Dec. 23, the 357th day of 1967. There are eight days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1783, George Washington resigned as Army commander-in-chief and retired to his home at Mount Vernon in Virginia.

On this date:

In 1805, the Mormon leader, Joseph Smith, was born in Sharon, Vt.

In 1940, Britain's Prime Minister Winston S. Churchill urged the Italians to rid themselves of the dictator, Benito Mussolini.

In 1941, Churchill, a wartime visitor to Washington, was asked how long it would take to defeat the Axis. He replied: "If we manage it well, it will take only half as long as if we manage it badly."

Also in 1941, Wake Island fell to the Japanese.

In 1945, a Big Three meeting took place in Moscow. Taking part were Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin, U.S. Secretary of State James Byrnes and British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin.

In 1962, Cuban war prisoners who had been ransomed from the Castro government began arriving in Miami.

Ten years ago — The first nuclear submarine produced by assembly-line methods, the "Skate," was launched at Groton, Conn.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPARTANS

QUESTION: What did the ancient Spartans do to exercise their muscles?

ANSWER: Ancient Greece was composed of individual cities or states which were like small nations, each living according to its own ideas. The city of Sparta developed a special plan. The Spartan citizens were to be the ruling class. They would own the land but do no actual work. The Work would be done by other Greek peoples they had enslaved, called helots. In order to keep the helots from revolting, Spartan men were trained to be powerfully strong, to be able to endure any kind of discomfort and to suppress feelings of compassion and humanity. Boys were taken from their families by the state and trained in courage and endurance, though in little else, reading and writing being considered unnessary. Their exercises were running, jumping, wrestling and wielding weapons. Hardened by this system, Spartan armies conquered the other Greek states. However, the Spartan training had made them overbearing and cruel. The helots and other Greek peoples revolted. In 371 B.C., the Spartan state went down in defeat.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What can I do when freshly - applied wallpaper has developed a small bubble?

A. — Slit the bubble with a sharp razor blade, then with a slender knife blade insert as much wallpaper paste as you can, pressing down firmly with a damp cloth Be sure you mop up all the paste that oozes out, as wallpaper paste dries shiny.

Q.—What is a quick and easy way to touch up black "H"" and "L" hinges on kitchen cupboard doors?

A.—Instead of removing these hinges or attempting to paint them with a brush, try using a black marker pencil. You'll be pleased with the beautiful job this does of covering up the nicks and scratches, and it dries immediately, too.

Q.—What is an easy way when sewing to join seams that are cut on a bias?

A.—Baste a strip of paper to the underside of your material, stitch on the sewing machine, and then tear the paper away. This prevents the fabric from stretching, and also insures straighter seams.

Q. — How can I remove yellowed perspiration stains from white washable materials?

A. — Try bleaching these out in the sun after the usual laundering. If a stain should persist, sponge with hydrogen peroxide or hydrogen peroxide plus sodium perborate (one teaspoon to one pint of peroxide). Or, dip the stain into a solution made by adding two teaspoons of sodium hydrosulfite to one pint of water. Rinse promptly and thoroughly.

Q.—How can I induce head lettuce to stay fresh longer?

A.—Avoid washing it until ready to use. Then wash only what is to be used at that time —returning the rest (unwashed) to the refrigerator.

A. — Slit the bubble with a sharp razor blade, then with a slender knife blade insert as much wallpaper paste as you can, pressing down firmly with a damp cloth Be sure you mop up all the paste that oozes out, as wallpaper paste dries shiny.

Q.—What is a quick and easy way to touch up black "H"' and "L" hinges on kitchen cupboard doors?

A.—Instead of removing these hinges or attempting to paint them with a brush, try using a black marker pencil. You'll be pleased with the beautiful job this does of covering up the nicks and scratches, and it dries immediately, too.

Q.—What is an easy way when sewing to join seams that are cut on a bias?

A.—Baste a strip of paper to the underside of your material, stitch on the sewing machine, and then tear the paper away. This prevents the fabric from stretching, and also insures straighter seams.

Q. — How can I remove yellowed perspiration stains from white washable materials?

A. — Try bleaching these out in the sun after the usual laundering. If a stain should persist, sponge with hydrogen peroxide or hydrogen peroxide plus sodium perborate (one teaspoon to one pint of peroxide). Or, dip the stain into a solution made by adding two teaspoons of sodium hydrosulfite to one pint of water. Rinse promptly and thoroughly.

Q.—How can I induce head lettuce to stay fresh longer?

A.—Avoid washing it until ready to use. Then wash only what is to be used at that time —returning the rest (unwashed) to the refrigerator.

An Unloved Stepchild

CATV Grows, Broadcasters Gripe

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In the northwest corner of New Mexico, 50 miles from the nearest television station, residents of Farmington have a choice of five television channels.

By wire and microwave signals from four stations in Albuquerque and one in Durango, Colo., programs are relayed to 4,000 sets in Farmington through CATV—Community Antenna Television.

CATV often means the difference between good television reception and poor reception—or even none at all—in nearly 2,000 communities.

BUT EVEN as CATV has brought television to three million homes, it has brought down the wrath of the broadcasters. CATV is plainly television's unloved stepchild.

The stations see the CATV operators as pirating programs and selling them to viewers at charges that average $5 a month.

The issues have boiled up into two cases now before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The first case concerns the assertion by the Federal Communications Commission—the agency that regulates broadcasting—that it has authority over CATV, an authority that the commission first asserted in April 1965, 15 years after the industry came into existence.

The U.S. 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruled in a case from San Diego that the FCC could not license CATV systems operating solely by cable.

THE OTHER, thornier case centers on a decision by the 2nd Circuit Court of Appeals that CATV constitutes a public performance for profit and is therefore liable for copyright fees. The case is from Clarksburg and Fairmont, W. Va.

Since the average CATV system carries about 5,000 copyrighted programs a month, it is estimated that damages for the claimed copyright infringements would total $1 billion a month.

Past liabilities would exceed the entire assets of the industry itself, said Frederick W. Ford, president of the National Cable Television Association of Washington.

"It would be, 'So sorry, fellows, you've made a little mistake, so turn over your business to the copyright owners.' Well, I don't think Congress or the courts operate that way," Ford said.

BILL DANIELS of Denver, a broker and major operator, said, "There is a need for orderly growth, but it must be liberal. The FCC has been very arbitrary. They have protected the broadcaster, period, and to hell with the public."

William Carlisle, vice president for television of the National Association of Broadcasters, in Washington, said his organization believes the FCC should regulate CATV "because television is in effect a continuous conduit between the broadcasters and the viewers.

"To have the first 90 per cent regulated by the commission and the final 10 per cent unregulated doesn't make sense." Carlisle said.

"Our objection to CATV is to CATV unlimited. We're highly in favor of the use of CATV to supplement our services. But the import of distant signals is our primary objection. We're also against origination of programs by CATV."

A major worry of the broadcasters is fragmentation of the audience. The more stations a viewer can get on his set, the smaller the audience for each station. Audience shares determine a station's advertising rates.

SMALL LOCAL stations see themselves suffering when television signals from large metropolitan areas are brought in. "Ultimately there would be no need for local television stations," Carlisle said.

The aim of CATV when it was born in 1950 in Lansford, Pa., was modest indeed. Residents of that rural area, cut off by rugged terrain, simply wanted to watch television. They erected a master antenna to bring in the distant signals, which were then relayed to the homes by cable.

The aim of CATV is still the same, but it can hardly be called modest. At latest count 1,921 systems were operating. They are in every state of the Union except Connecticut—and authorization for systems has been granted there.

Cable television—as CATV also is known—has $500 million tied up in investments and brings in $300 million a year in revenues. Leaders in the field expect revenue within the next 10 years to reach $3 billion annually.

DANIELS said CATV systems return 40 per cent of their investment annually down to 10 per cent. The failure rate is less than 1 per cent, he said.

Among those with CATV interests are President Johnson's family, Hughes Aircraft Co., AT&T, Bing Crosby, Time Inc., Westinghouse, General Electric and the Gannett, Cowles, Newhouse and Annenberg publishing companies.

Cable television still is most entrenched in cities such as Farmington, N.M., which has a population of 24,000. The National Cable Television Association said in October that 88 per cent of the existing systems are in towns with a population of 25,000 or less.

Quarter Million Spent In Drives To Elect Stokes

CLEVELAND (AP) — The campaigns to win Carl B. Stokes the Democratic nomination and election as Cleveland mayor cost nearly a quarter million dollars, expense reports showed today.

The Stokes committee spent $103,000 in the primary, in which Stokes defeated the incumbent, Ralph S. Locher, and a third candidate.

Then, in electing Stokes the first Negro mayor of a major U.S. city Nov. 7, an additional $130,000 was expended. Slightly more than half of the total was spent for television time, a report showed.

Contributions for Stokes came from 28 states and Germany, and ranged from $1 individual donations to gifts of several thousands of dollars from groups including labor unions.

Dr. Kenneth W. Clement, who managed Stokes' campaign, filed the Stokes Committee expense report with the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections a half hour before the Friday afternoon deadline.

The Stokes' Committee report for the general election campaign showed contributions of $123,872 and expenditures of $119,066, plus $6,650 in unpaid bills. Television time cost $66,150.

According to the report, the Democratic organization's steer roast raised $10,000 for Stokes general election campaign, and Delta Sigma Theta, a predominantly Negro public service organization, gave $10,000.

Large labor union donations were $5,000 from the United Auto Workers, $3,500 from the Teamsters Drive Fund, and $3,000 from the United Steelworkers Union.

Jim Snyder, who has piloted Ohio University cage fortunes the past 18 years, was admitted to the university's Athletic Hall of Fame last fall. He was a star on the 1941 Ohio cage team which was runnerup in the National Invitational tourney that year.

Wayne Young, Ohio University basketballer from Hamden, O., had perfect grades from the second grade to the final grading period of his junior year in college, until a "B" in German reduced his straight 4.0 to a 3.95.

The Bucs played 12 doubleheaders in 1967, winning only one, losing four, and splitting seven.

Mariner 4 Ends Its Space Career After 3-Year Run

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mariner 4, which took man's only closeups of Mars from space, has ended its career after three years, the victim of micrometeorites.

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory announced its retirement Friday with this account:

Last Dec. 7 Mariner exhausted the nitrogen used to keep it on even keel during a 1.53-billion-mile journey begun Nov. 28, 1964. Three days later it entered a cloud of micrometeorites—tiny bits of interplanetary flotsam traveling at up to 150,000 miles an hour.

Ten days of battering left Mariner listing as much as 50 degrees from its normal orientation toward Earth. On Dec. 20 scientists, receiving only a trickle of telemetered information and unable to control it, stopped tracking Mariner.

The craft photographed Mars from 6,118 miles away on July 14, 1965.

Smith Names Coiner W.Va. Prison Warden

CHARLESTON (AP) — Gov. Hulett Smith announced the appointment today of 62-year-old Ira M. Coiner as warden of the West Virginia Penitentiary.

Coiner succeeds Otto C. Boles who died last week after a long illness.

A native of Williamsburg, Greenbrier County, Coiner had served as deputy warden of the prison since 1961.

He was first employed at the prison as a guard in 1935.

About 57 per cent of American men wear eyeglasses.

The True Spirit of Christmas

To Bethlehem came the Magi, bearing their gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh for the child in the manger. And since that night 1967 years ago, the true spirit of Christmas has been with us, sometimes all but ignored in the hurried pace of our workaday world but always gaining new strength during this season of the year.

It is reflected in the look of expectancy on the faces of children, in the greetings exchanged by friends and strangers alike, in the sparkle of lights that brighten the cold, crisp nights.

Into a world that is uncertain about its survival and anxious about its future, Christmas comes as a shining light of hope and our faith is renewed. We sometimes forget the power of love and giving, and of genuine concern for our fellow man. But Christmas helps us remember again. It is a time for sharing, a period of reflection, an inspiration for the birth of new hope, greater courage and determination that the spirit of "Peace on earth, good will toward men" shall be a reality.

This is the true spirit of Christmas. It began with the gifts of the Magi, and it gives each of us the power to bring love and joy to the world around us through giving of ourselves.

Yes, this is the spirit of Christmas. May it envelop each of us and remain with us throughout the coming year.
